The democratic primaries in South Omaha, Friday, were decidedly interesting in a number of ways. On account of the large number of candidates on the ticket, there being seventeen candidates for councilmen, with only six places to fill and other offices in somewhat smaller proportion the show started early.

While the voting places did not open until noon the candidates were up and doing marly and by noon dozens of carriages were ready to convey voters to the primaries. Up to 4 o'clock in the afternoon the voting was light, but still crowds gathered on the down town streets and talked over the situation.

When the packing houses stopped for the day between 4 and 5 o'clock the workingmen began to crowd about the polls and the voting was quite lively from that time on until the closing hour.

Owing to the length of the ticket the count was slow and it was much later than was expected before the returns commenced coming in. In each ward the interest centered in the head of the ticket and by 9 p'clock enough votes had been counted to show that Loechner was the winner.

from the city, sick, or had removed from the ward since the last registration. These prders of the central committee prevented the swearing in of a large number of votes.

Private James W. McGinley of the Tenth United States infantry, who has figured prominently in the police court recently, was married to Mabel M. West at Council Bluffs yesterday. He took out his license to wed in the name of Raymond H. Mc-Neill and gave Chicago as his place of residence. McGinley always told the police that he was a son of the well-known Chicago packer by the name of McNeill, but investigation in the Windy City failed to confirm his claim. McGinley's bride is 17 years old and a daughter of Mrs. W. Cottmire of Council Bluffs, who gave her consent to the marriage.

THREATENS TO KILL HIMSELF Lincoln Man Writes Friends of I tention to Commit Suicide in Omaba.

Chief of Police Donahue yesterday reeived a telegram from Lakeside, Neb., requesting him to find a certain C. L. Smith f Lincoln, who, in a letter to his friends there, said he had caught the smallpox in Omaha, that it would prove fatal and that he intended to commit suicide. Chief Donahue directed the police to investigate the report and endeavor to secure trace of Smith. Further information showed that Smith had bought a carload of horses in the vicinity of Grinnell, Ia., and accompanied their shipment to South Omaha. After selling his horses he wrote letters to a number of his friends in Nebraska, and also to his family in Lincoln, stating his intention to commit suicide and the first letter to reach its destination was the one sent to Lakeside. Later information from Lincoln stated that $600 had been received from Smith by his family, along with the statement that he intended taking his life. All of these letters were dated March 13.

The $600 sent to his home is believed to be only a part of the money received by Smith from the sale of the carload of horses, as marketable horses from Iowa are valued at from $125 to $140 each, and a carload would represent about twenty horses. According to this, the police say, Smith should have netted something like $1,500. No trace of Smith has been found. He is not at the pesthouse. It is possible that he may have caught the smallpox and is, by the aid of friends, keeping the fact and his

ONE STRIKE FOLLOWS ANOTHER Boston Labor Agitations a Disturbing Element in the Week's Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, March 14 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Business in Boston was completely paralyzed by the strike of freight handlers and teamsters, which directly affected 30,000 men and indirectly rendered other thousands idle by holding back materials. Fortunately this strike was brief, but another will begin on Monday at the Fall River mills and other textile plants in that vicinity. vicinity.

controversy and even in the coal mines there is less than the usual agitation as April approaches.

Distribution of spring merchandise is making rapid progress, the most sanguine expectations being fully realized in all sections outside the strike area.

Consumers of iron and steel products are still anxious regarding conditions during the next three months. After July I it is believed that deliveries will be ample. All records prior to February I are still eclipsed and the resumption of many idle plants this month practically assures new high-water marks in the near future unless some unforeseen interruption occurs.

As operations at the steel works were also retarded furnace stocks of pig fron declined only about 25,000 cons during February. The most important event of the week was the heavy buying of steel bars by makers of agricultural implements in anticipation of higher prices becoming effective on April I.

Labor disturbances have tended to strengthen the tone of textile products by reducing available supplies, which were already none too large. Complaints are heard of delivery of woolen goods and fair cancellations of orders on overcoatings are freely reported.

Official indications of farm lications of farm reserves on Official indications of farm reserves on March 1 were not surprising as to corn, dealers anticipating that supplies would be only about one-half last year's, but the statement that 25 per cent of the enormous wheat yield remained in farmers' hands was not calculated to sustain values.

Needed rains in the southwest made the market look more favorable for the next crop. A sustaining feature was the interior movement of only 2,63,550 bushels, against 3,902,650 last year, while on the other hand total exports from the United Statos were but 2,86,652 bushels, compared with 4,822,674 a year ago.

As to porn both comparisons were striking, receipts aggregating only 1,22,550 bushels, against 4,121,347 a year ago, while Atlantic exports fell to the lowest record for many years, $1,100 bushels, against 2,339,902 in 1901.

Cotton was pulled both ways.

Failures were 232 for the week, against 242 last year, and 34 in Canada, against 23 in 1901.

MADE HER A WELL WOMAN

"I firmly believe that I owe my life to Warner's Safe Cure. For two years I suffered with kidney trouble and I could find no relief anywhere. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines. Some would give temporary relief, and others none whatever, I decided to try Warner's Safe Cure as a last resort and I wish I had followed the advice of friends sooner. It was the only thing that helped me, and in less than four months it had made a new woman of me. I am entirely cured, and I give all the praise to Warner's Safe Cure." Frances W. Gresham, Secretary and Treasurer Higher League of Educational Society, Washington, D. C.

Kidney Disease

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs, it does not constipate, it is a most valuable and effective tonic, it is a stimulant to digestion and awakens the torpid liver, putting the patient into the very best receptive state for the work of the restorer of the kidneys. It prepares the tissues, soothes inflammation and irritation, stimulates the enfeebled organs and heals at the same time. It builds up the body, gives it strength, and restores the energy that is or has been wasting under the baneful suffering of kidney disease. Warner's Safe Cure is now put up in two regular sizes and sold by all druggists, or direct, 50 CENTS AND $1 A BOTTLE.

an important stimulant to most tines of trade and industry. There is less excitement, but more strength in iron and steel.

Agricultural implement manufacturers have bought heavily of bars at Pittsburg, sales being reported at 100,000 tons, almost sales being fepored at 190.00 fons, almost all of it, however, at old prices. New buyers must pay the advance of 22 per ton demanded. Light rails are $2.50 per ton demanded. Light rails are $2.50 per ton higher. Skelp had advanced from $2 to $3 on demand from the pipe trade, and, all in all, the inate strength of the situation has practically never been surpassed. Wheat was buoyed up by the report of the smallest reserves in farmers' hands by the government. Bradstreet's calculations, based on the above, pointed to a small increase in the visible and invisible supply in view of the record-breaking crops in this country and in the world at large. This steadied prices for a time, but they weakened later on the report of the breaking of the drouth in the southwest and of adequate supplies of moisture to winter wheat in other sections.

The most active export demand for some weeks past developed at the decline and exercised some influence for later firmness. Corn and oats for the first time in a long while broke loose from the premier cereal on reports of heavy rains, checking receipts and the government report of the smallest corn receipts in twenty years and limited farm supplies of oats. A strong speculative movement in May oats is an additional feature to be noted. Wheat, including flour, exports for the week aggregate 2,305,250 bushets, against 4,075,944 last week and 4,690,293 in this week last year. Wheat exports July 1, 1901, to date (thirty-seven weeks) aggregate 187,185,267 bushels, against 12,172,185 last season. Corn exports aggregate 2,65,074 bushels, against 137,773,210 last season.
