Special Easter Number

The Illustrated Bee

FULL OF HOLY WEEK PICTURES.

ON SUNDAY, MARCH 23, The Bee will issue a special double number of its Illustrated Supplement.

CHRIST'S ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM is celebrated on Palm Sunday. A beautiful ideal picture is the center of a specially drawn illuminated front-page design.

SCENES OF THE MIRACLES AS THEY APPEAR TODAY is the topic of an article by Rev. Robert Stuart MacArthur. It is illustrated from photographs made in the Holy Land.

BOYHOOD SURROUNDINGS OF JESUS by William Ordway Partridge gives an interesting light on a phase of His life seldom touched upon.

SIGNIFICANCE OF EASTER SUNDAY is neither a song nor a sermon, but a beautifully worded exposition of the theme by Luther M. Kuhns of Omaha.

FIRST BISHOPS OF NEBRASKA is the subject of special articles of unusual local interest. It is illustrated with pictures of Bishop O'Gorman, Bishop O'Connor, Bishop Clarkson and Bishop Newman.

CONSIDER THE LILIES and reflect how the florist toils to provide them for Easter. An illustrated article tells of the details of the operation.

WHEN THE TROOPS COME HOME—A staff photographer greeted the Twenty-second Infantry, U. S. A., on its arrival at Fort Crook, and a full page of pictures tells the story.

YANKEES OF THE ORIENT is the title won by the Japanese. Frank G. Carpenter tells how they have come to deserve it. The letter is illustrated from photographs made in Japan.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S CANNIBALS will soon be extinct. An interesting description, with numerous illustrations from photographs of them as they are today, is one of the features of this number.

MANY OTHER SPECIAL FEATURES in addition to the regular departments will be found in the number. Illustrations additional comprise the new Methodist hospital, the Junior Lenten choir of All Saints church, spring scenes in the parks, and similar topics.

THIS SPECIAL NUMBER of The Illustrated Bee will be found of unusual excellence from every standpoint. If you are not a subscriber you should order it from your news dealer at once.
