MORGAN INSTEAD OF HANNAN

Republicans Forced to Decide on New Nominee for Mayor. STANDARD BEARER FIRST NAMED DECLINES

Emergency Finds Former Candidates. Both to Enter Contest—Acclamation Plan Finally Finds Favor.

Dell G. Morgan was nominated Friday night as the republican candidate for mayor in place of Colonel Charles R. Hannan, who declined.

The first intimation that Colonel Hannan would not run was received at the Council Bluffs office of The Bee Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

"NEW YORK, March 21.—To The Omaha Bee, Council Bluffs, Ia.: Absolutely impossible for me to accept nomination owing to business engagements."

The telegram was in answer to one sent to Colonel Hannan Thursday afternoon after the convention, asking him if he would accept the nomination.

The news that Colonel Hannan could not accept the nomination spread rapidly through the city and within half an hour of its receipt the politicians gathered in knots at the street corners discussing the situation.

The question arose, what was to be done under the circumstances? Was the vacancy in the ticket thus caused to be filled by the republican city central committee or should the convention be reassembled and the selection of a candidate for the head of the ticket be left to the voters?

The first suggestion was to call the convention together again, but some were of the opinion that this could not be done, as the convention on adjourning without day, Thursday afternoon, had gone out of legal existence.

The city convention Thursday failed to instruct or empower the city central committee to fill any vacancies that might occur in the ticket.

When it was announced that the convention would be reassembled, the wire-pulling was begun and the names of several candidates who were before the convention Thursday started all campaigning anew.

to him. He placed Dell G. Morgan in nomination and moved his nomination by acclamation. The convention was willing and Mr. Morgan was accordingly nominated by acclamation and the convention adjourned.

The city central committee met at the close of the convention and selected Mr. Morgan to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Hannan's declination.

Who the candidate is. Dell G. Morgan, who is a successful business man who has spent the greater part of his life in this city, coming here as a boy from New York.
