

Easter Novelties

Fancy Novelties—

Fancy novelties, hand decorated and embroidered, suitable for gift or favors, at one half price.

THESE ITEMS:
Pen wipers at 15c, 35c and 50c each.
Vell rolls at 50c each.
Sachets at 12c and 25c each.
Burnt wood match scratchers at 50c each.
Laundry lists at 35c each.
Whisk brooms and holders at 50c each.
Burnt wood cash boxes at 50c each.
Glove boxes at 50c each.
Dictionaries at 50c each.
Drawing book at 50c each.
Embroidered button bags at 50c each.
Key racks at 50c each.
Embroidered waste paper baskets at $1.00 each.
Work baskets at 50c and 60c each.
Japanese doll pen wipers at 50c each.
Bean bags at 12c each.
Baby baskets at $1.00 and $1.50 each.
Stamp cases at 12 1/2c each.
Kensington bags at 50c each.

Dainty New Black Dress Goods

Soft, clinging goods this spring, women will welcome the change from the heavy winter stuff. Here are some of the new goods:

SIK AND WOOL ETAMINE—A light weight clinging fabric. The mixture of silk gives it a very rich appearance, suitable for dinner and visiting costumes, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 a yard.
FINE WOOL CREPE DE CHENE—A light fabric with a very fine crepe weave, lends itself to soft folds and clinging effects, $1.00, $1.10 and $1.25 a yard.
BLACK ALL WOOL NUN'S VEILING—50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard.
Have you seen our black Beau de Soie dress silk No. 1002 regular $1.25 quality, now 98c a yard; No. 1003 regular $1.15 quality, now $1.27 a yard; fine values at small cost.

Handkerchiefs—

Here are some of our best money's worth of wear and handkerchief quality.

Good plain Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, all linen, at 10c, 15c and 25c each.
All Linen Hemstitched Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 15c, 25c and 50c each.
All Linen Hemstitched Initial Handkerchiefs, 10c and 25c each.

BRUTAL BRUTON LOCKED UP

Habitual Wife Beater Sent to Jail Under Mayor's Orders.

HIS VICTIM'S PLEA FOR ASSISTANCE

Her Mother in Chicago Writes to Mayor Moore, Who Investigates and Takes Prompt Action in the Case.

Frederick A. Bruton, who has a picture store at 1754 Leavenworth street, was arrested last night at 10:30 o'clock on charges growing out of alleged ill-treatment of his wife and family. He was locked up. Mrs. Bruton is prostrated from the effects of a recent beating.

The information that led to an investigation was received by Mayor Moore from a letter from Mrs. S. E. Jenkins of 77 South Center avenue, Chicago, mother of Mrs. Bruton. The letter to Mayor Moore requested that steps be taken to protect Mrs. Bruton, and inclosed was a letter Mrs. Bruton had written her mother. This letter stated that Bruton had threatened to kill his wife; that he had beaten her many times and rendered her condition intolerable. Mrs. Bruton begged her mother to take her home. Mayor Moore began an investigation of the report and as a result directed the police to arrest Bruton. Mayor Moore's last night purchased meat and groceries for Mrs. Bruton, as she had told him there was no food in the house, although the children, she said, had had something to eat for supper. The family lives over the store. There are four children, one girl aged 14 and three boys aged 12, 8 and 3 years respectively. They came to Omaha about four years ago from Kansas City.

Humors Feed on Humors

The Sooner You Get Rid of Them the Better.

In the Spring there's an effort of Nature to cleanse your system. You know this by the pimples and other eruptions on your face and body.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA taken in the Spring is assisted by this effort. Begin taking it at once.

It thoroughly cleanses the system, gets into all its nooks and corners, removes all humors, and all unhealthy accumulations.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could do but little work. I procured a bottle of Hood's SARSAPARILLA and it drove out the humor. I continued its use until the sores on my hands disappeared." MRS. J. A. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Buy It Today

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to Cure and Keeps the Promise.

Easter Gowns—

Exclusive styles, chic, elegant and modish designs, our suits are fitted by expert tailoresses—handsome silk lined gowns from $25 to $35.

Women's Dress Skirts, in all the newest and most approved styles, every skirt has a grace and beauty of its own. We are very careful that the skirts we sell are fitted properly. Prices from $10.00 to $25.00.

Women's Dainty Petticoats, all new effects, in black, brilliant, green, mercerized fabrics, cotton wash goods. Prices, $1.00 to $5.00.

Women's House Dresses, in dainty lavas, pretty percales and other wash goods, at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

Women's Shirts, all the new and pretty white unbleached waists are now here. Never have we shown so many pretty and such handsome styles. Prices, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

Headquarters for Novelties in Linen Suitings—

This is to be a linen season.

32-inch Etamine Linens.
48-inch Peruvian Linens.
22-inch Linen Grenadines.
26-inch Costume Linens.
72-inch Hungarian Linens.
72-inch Linen Crash Suitings.
72-inch Russia Crash Suitings.
39-inch Peruvian Linens.
36-inch Linen Battiste.
36-inch White Shirwalet Linens.

They come in all the leading shades—Navy blue, cadet blue, pink, natural cream, white, green, gray, ecru, red, old rose.

Easter Novelties in Combs—

If you want your hair to look pretty for Easter you should wear one of our new Empress combs.

They all have a heavy quill top and look very dressy when worn in the hair and also keep the stray hair in place.

They come in dark, rich, shell color at 50c, 60c, 75c, 85c and $1.00 each.

Side-combs with heavy quill tops at 25c, 50c, 75c $1.00 and $1.25 a pair.

Many pretty new styles in Empire or back combs at 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c 85c and $1.00 each.

The Galsborough comb in shell color, 25c each.

The "Petticoat" hair retainer at 20c, 25c and 50c each.

THOMPSON, BELDEN & Co.

Y. M. O. A. BUILDING, COR. 10TH AND DOUGLAS STS.

Girdles—

The interesting corset for slender women is the girdle—So comfortable, pliable and shapely.

"Princess" girdle at 85c each, made of dainty Battiste in white, pink or blue, finished with lace and ribbons. "Fur-tan" girdle made Linon Battiste, bound with satin ribbons top and bottom. The prettiest girdle made at the price, only $1.00 each.

Neckwear—

The softest, most graceful addition a woman can make to her toilet for both street and evening wear.

Silk Stocks with the ends, in pretty colors, 50c, 75c and $1 each.
Pique Stocks with tie at 50c each.
Silk Scarfs at $1.25, $2.50 and $3.25 each.
Liberty Silk Ruff in black, white gray and blue, all prices.
Turnover Collars in colored linen at 50c each.
Dainty embroidered Turnovers at 25c each.

Parasols—

Our first showing of this season's new parasols takes place Monday.

Here will be seen the correct shapes. This promises to be a big Parasol season, with fineness and tailor-made effects the predominating features. Coachings in beautiful fancy colorings, as well as trimmed Parasols in black and white effects in silk and chiffon combinations. Parasols from $2.50 to $18.00 each.

Veilings for Easter—

But the groom is no such beauty. He has not the dissipated disfigurements of his erstwhile rival, Joseph Baardowell, but he is short, a bit bow-legged and pre-eminently a man of commerce. His wife of the future could be exalted on a pious block and not seem out of place, but Nadra is no statue. He came from Assyria to this country ten years ago with no money, but a large ambition to get some and he has stuck to his purpose so well that now he is known to be worth considerably more than $20,000 and is adding to the sum every day. True, his store at 1722 South Thirteenth street, just a block south of the scene of the murder, is between two lively stables and is such a dilapidated shack as to seem seriously endangered by any blow as strong as a college yell, but Nadra doesn't mind and Salda hasn't learned the difference, so why need he improve. His customers are largely peddlers, and peddlers are not wont to complain of the condition of the paint on the front of their shopping place.

Properly, Nadra's last name is not Bolus. It is Essey, which is not a bad name to pronounce when it is spelled this way, but would be if spelled as in Assyrian. He gets the name Bolus just as many other boys have in Assyria—that is by taking as their last names the first names of the fathers. And Salda's last name properly is the same as Nadra's, for her grandfather and Nadra's father were brothers, bearing the family name Essey. Baardowell was even more closely related to the girl, his mother and her's having been sisters, but the girl, her friends say, never would have married him, for his life was wild and his standing among Assyrians far from good.

Silk Zephy Waistings—

This cloth is a crowning illustration of the wonderful loom fabrications that the most skillful and artistic of our American weavers are now producing.

By the adroit manipulation of pure silk filling this fabric is given an extra lustre, equalled only in the finest of silks. Colors are absolutely fast in washing. Plain colors and fancies. 28 inches wide, 50c yd.

SEQUEL TO ASSYRIAN MURDER

Closing Scene of Tragic Drama Smacks of Orange Blossoms.

SAIDA ABLAN AND NADRA BOLUS TO WED

Bride-Elect in the Mood of Superlative Beauty, Over Whom Fatal Quarrel Between Baardowell and Bolus Began.

Saida Ablan, whom her friends champion as the most beautiful girl in Omaha, is to marry Nadra Bolus, and a wedding will be the closing scene of the drama of the Assyrian colony on South Thirteenth street, in which one actor lost his life and another was forced to flee.

It was Nadra Bolus who took out the license yesterday—the same Nadra who had quarreled with Joseph Baardowell before Joseph stabbed Najab Saily to the heart that clear November morning last fall. And Nadra named as his bride-elect Saida Ablan—the same Saida for love of whom he and Joseph had quarreled and become mortal enemies of each other. The same Saida, in fact, whose beauty and guileless charms were really the unwilling inspiration of the tragedy.

Not all swains of Yankee taste and Yankee loyalty will concede the claim of the Assyrians that her beauty casts a shadow on that of every other gentle face and graceful figure in Omaha, but true it is that none can look once upon her and be content to turn away. Here is a pristine beauty, as simply sweet as a Madonna's, but with all the bloom and fragrance of a healthy, blameless youth. There is a caress in the very drop of her jet eyelids, an alarm in the flash of the diamond pupil behind it. Neither stout nor spare, her form is as delicately wrought as her face, and no ribs of steel or bone have ever been permitted to torture its natural lines.

Groom is No Apollo.

But the groom is no such beauty. He has not the dissipated disfigurements of his erstwhile rival, Joseph Baardowell, but he is short, a bit bow-legged and pre-eminently a man of commerce. His wife of the future could be exalted on a pious block and not seem out of place, but Nadra is no statue. He came from Assyria to this country ten years ago with no money, but a large ambition to get some and he has stuck to his purpose so well that now he is known to be worth considerably more than $20,000 and is adding to the sum every day. True, his store at 1722 South Thirteenth street, just a block south of the scene of the murder, is between two lively stables and is such a dilapidated shack as to seem seriously endangered by any blow as strong as a college yell, but Nadra doesn't mind and Salda hasn't learned the difference, so why need he improve. His customers are largely peddlers, and peddlers are not wont to complain of the condition of the paint on the front of their shopping place.

Properly, Nadra's last name is not Bolus. It is Essey, which is not a bad name to pronounce when it is spelled this way, but would be if spelled as in Assyrian. He gets the name Bolus just as many other boys have in Assyria—that is by taking as their last names the first names of the fathers. And Salda's last name properly is the same as Nadra's, for her grandfather and Nadra's father were brothers, bearing the family name Essey. Baardowell was even more closely related to the girl, his mother and her's having been sisters, but the girl, her friends say, never would have married him, for his life was wild and his standing among Assyrians far from good.

Bride's Father is Keen.

Salda's father is apparently something of a business man himself, for about a year ago he observed that Nadra was prospering and incidentally in need of a wife. The old gentleman packed a handkerchief and a shoe box and started back to Assyria. Before he went, it is said, he talked with Nadra in great frankness and when he returned five months ago he brought with him two daughters and Nadra knew it was up to him to say which. Nadra is not a blind man and he chose the prettier of the two. Then the old gentleman smiled a glad, contented smile and moved in with Nadra to make his home over the store

SEQUEL TO ASSYRIAN MURDER

Closing Scene of Tragic Drama Smacks of Orange Blossoms.

SAIDA ABLAN AND NADRA BOLUS TO WED

Bride-Elect in the Mood of Superlative Beauty, Over Whom Fatal Quarrel Between Baardowell and Bolus Began.

Saida Ablan, whom her friends champion as the most beautiful girl in Omaha, is to marry Nadra Bolus, and a wedding will be the closing scene of the drama of the Assyrian colony on South Thirteenth street, in which one actor lost his life and another was forced to flee.

It was Nadra Bolus who took out the license yesterday—the same Nadra who had quarreled with Joseph Baardowell before Joseph stabbed Najab Saily to the heart that clear November morning last fall. And Nadra named as his bride-elect Saida Ablan—the same Saida for love of whom he and Joseph had quarreled and become mortal enemies of each other. The same Saida, in fact, whose beauty and guileless charms were really the unwilling inspiration of the tragedy.

Not all swains of Yankee taste and Yankee loyalty will concede the claim of the Assyrians that her beauty casts a shadow on that of every other gentle face and graceful figure in Omaha, but true it is that none can look once upon her and be content to turn away. Here is a pristine beauty, as simply sweet as a Madonna's, but with all the bloom and fragrance of a healthy, blameless youth. There is a caress in the very drop of her jet eyelids, an alarm in the flash of the diamond pupil behind it. Neither stout nor spare, her form is as delicately wrought as her face, and no ribs of steel or bone have ever been permitted to torture its natural lines.

Groom is No Apollo.

But the groom is no such beauty. He has not the dissipated disfigurements of his erstwhile rival, Joseph Baardowell, but he is short, a bit bow-legged and pre-eminently a man of commerce. His wife of the future could be exalted on a pious block and not seem out of place, but Nadra is no statue. He came from Assyria to this country ten years ago with no money, but a large ambition to get some and he has stuck to his purpose so well that now he is known to be worth considerably more than $20,000 and is adding to the sum every day. True, his store at 1722 South Thirteenth street, just a block south of the scene of the murder, is between two lively stables and is such a dilapidated shack as to seem seriously endangered by any blow as strong as a college yell, but Nadra doesn't mind and Salda hasn't learned the difference, so why need he improve. His customers are largely peddlers, and peddlers are not wont to complain of the condition of the paint on the front of their shopping place.

Properly, Nadra's last name is not Bolus. It is Essey, which is not a bad name to pronounce when it is spelled this way, but would be if spelled as in Assyrian. He gets the name Bolus just as many other boys have in Assyria—that is by taking as their last names the first names of the fathers. And Salda's last name properly is the same as Nadra's, for her grandfather and Nadra's father were brothers, bearing the family name Essey. Baardowell was even more closely related to the girl, his mother and her's having been sisters, but the girl, her friends say, never would have married him, for his life was wild and his standing among Assyrians far from good.

Bride's Father is Keen.

Salda's father is apparently something of a business man himself, for about a year ago he observed that Nadra was prospering and incidentally in need of a wife. The old gentleman packed a handkerchief and a shoe box and started back to Assyria. Before he went, it is said, he talked with Nadra in great frankness and when he returned five months ago he brought with him two daughters and Nadra knew it was up to him to say which. Nadra is not a blind man and he chose the prettier of the two. Then the old gentleman smiled a glad, contented smile and moved in with Nadra to make his home over the store

Sent Free to Men.

Free Trial Package of this New Discovery Mailed to Every Man Sending Name and Address—Quickly Restores Strength and Vigor.

Free trial packages of a most remarkable remedy, Washington mailed to all who write the State Medical Institute. They guard so many men who had battled for years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood that the Institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment and all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness resulting from youthful folly, premature loss of strength and memory, weak back, varicose veins, or other ailments can now cure themselves at home.

The remedy has a peculiarly grateful effect of warmth and seems to act directly to the desired location giving strength and development just where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from failure of the natural functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute for an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute for an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute for an absolute success in all cases.

A. E. ROBINSON, M. D., C. M., Medical Director years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood that the Institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment and all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness resulting from youthful folly, premature loss of strength and memory, weak back, varicose veins, or other ailments can now cure themselves at home.

GUSSING TO AID AUDITORIUM

Kansas City Man Comes to Sell 800,000 Shares of "Common Stock."

The promotion committee of the Omaha Auditorium company has completed the details of a plan, which it is hoped will be of great importance in the work of raising the funds still needed to complete the auditorium building. F. E. Nettleton has been brought from Kansas City to promote a guessing contest, by means of which he aims to raise $200,000, selling 800,000 shares of "common" stock at 25 cents a share.

To give the way for the adoption of the plan a meeting of the Auditorium stockholders has been called for March 27, at which it is intended that the capital stock of the company is to be increased from $200,000 to $500,000. The 300,000 shares as now provided are to be made preferred stock with the present par value of shares. An auditorium stock ticket is to be sold for 25 cents, which will be exchangeable for a share of common stock. With this ticket is given a coupon, on which the purchaser may, if he desires, make estimate as to the number of votes that will be cast for governor in the state of New York at the coming election to be held in November of this year. A list of prizes is being made up, to be distributed among the guessers.

ANNUAL MEETING OF POST A

Local Branch of Travelers' Protective Association Elects Officers for the Year.

The annual meeting of post A Travelers' Protective association of America, was held Saturday at the Commercial club rooms. The meeting was called to order by the president, M. W. V. who made an interesting address on the work of the post during the last year. The report of the secretary and treasurer showed the organization in good condition.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: John I. Purcupille, president; E. H. Hoel, vice president; R. F. Hodgins, secretary-treasurer; M. C. Howes, H. O. Hisen, Frank Carpenter, J. S. Cameron and J. L. Houston, directors; Dr. Ed Arnold, surgeon.

The following chairmen of committees were appointed: Hotel, R. L. Deegan; railroad, M. W. V. Hays; legislative, J. L. Houston; employment, L. J. Nedd; press, Charles L. Hopper.

A strong delegation was asked for to attend the meeting of the state division, which will be held in Omaha April 24. At this time the officers of the state division will be elected and also delegates to the national convention, which will be held at Portland, Ore., June 8-11.

The Rifle Supplies the Sword.

A half century ago the sword was considered the best known weapon in warfare, but it is now being discarded by the British soldiers, and the modern rifle is substituted. Many people throughout the country are also discarding old methods of trying to cure headache, nervousness, insomnia, indigestion and dyspepsia, and are using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the old reliable remedy for these ailments. It is recommended by physicians, and a trial will convince you of its value.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following:

Name and Residence.	Age.
Nadra Bolus, Omaha.	23
Saida Ablan, Omaha.	23
Walter Clark, Omaha.	23
Ada Stoney, Omaha.	17
Frank E. Knight, Omaha.	21
Idella R. Snyder, Omaha.	21
Andrew J. Murphy, Omaha.	21
Pearlie Glick, Omaha.	21

Jacksohnian Honor Aligned.

The Jacksohnian club held a meeting last evening at which speeches eulogistic of the late John P. Aligned were made by J. J. Dunn, C. J. Smith and W. J. Shoemaker. President A. H. Hippie of the club read a number of extracts from Aligned's speeches. Resolutions eulogizing Aligned's character and public career were adopted.

NAPOLEON'S FAILURE TO WIN THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO

Was due to his stomach. In his youth, Napoleon's digestion was perfect. At that time he was the personification of energy. Those were the days of his victories. In later life he suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion and finally died of

CANCER OF THE STOMACH

When his stomach failed, Napoleon's fortunes declined. Historians say he lost the Battle of Waterloo because something he ate the night before disagreed with him so seriously as to render him incapable of properly directing his army. Had his stomach remained sound he would perhaps have been victorious to the last. In Napoleon's time there was no known remedy for chronic stomach trouble. Today a certain cure exists in such a remedy as

KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE

Which, by digesting what you eat, keeps the body properly nourished and at the same time gives the stomach a chance to rest. The process of digestion is due to the action on the food of the saliva, gastric juices and pancreatin, a secretion of the intestinal tract. If any of these elements are lacking,

PERFECT DIGESTION

Is impossible. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure contains them all in exact proportion and consequently performs the process of digestion as well as the natural stomach. It is the ONLY preparation which contains them ALL and therefore the only one which digests

ALL CLASSES OF FOOD.

You don't have to diet. Don't overload the stomach. Don't eat to fast. But eat all the good food you want in sufficient variety. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. Thus the body will be sustained. Meantime the stomach will be resting. This rest will soon restore it to health.

YOUR MATERIAL WELFARE

Depends on a sound stomach. Napoleon's case illustrates the fact that people with weak stomachs often fail in a crisis. The moment man's stomach is attacked his mental powers are curtailed. The stomach is the center of the system. The body is sustained by the food we eat. The stomach distributes it to the various parts of the body. Sometimes the stomach fails to digest the food put into it. Then the work of distribution is interrupted and the body left without nourishment. This amounts to complete or partial starvation. You can't expect much of

A STARVING MAN OR WOMAN.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures the worst cases of stomach trouble. If you have simply an occasional functional derangement, with belching, fullness or sour rising after meals, a teaspoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will set you right at once. It never fails.

THEY KNOW ITS MERITS.

"I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and resulting pain for years and was unable to obtain permanent relief. I resolved to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure." says Postmaster R. H. Randall, of Des Moines, Ia. "Before I had used one bottle I knew I had found what I had long looked for. After a few bottles I was cured of acidity in my side that I had not been free from for more than ten years. I am better today than in years, and consider that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure has given me a new lease of life."

"After using a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, my wife received perfect and permanent relief from severe and chronic case of stomach trouble," writes T. M. H. of Chicago.

Prepared by E. C. Dewitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 Bottle Contains 2 1/2 times as much (by actual measurement) as the trial size which sells for 50 cents.

KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE DIGESTS WHAT YOU EAT.