Baxter Issues Peremptory Order.

At noon yesterday Judge Irving F. Baxter issued a peremptory order directing City Clerk Shrigley to place the names of republican candidates first on the ticket. When Clerk Shrigley made up the ticket after all petitions had been filed he placed the democrats at the head. This action displeased the republican city central committee and so an appeal was made to the court, as was predicted in The Bee of yesterday. In compliance with the order Clerk Shrigley at once changed the form of the sample and official ballots and the revised issue of sample ballots will be distributed today.

Sold City Property.

The city council has sold to W. S. Cook the poles and wire running from the local American District telegraph office to the Poppleton avenue pump station of the Omaha Water company. The price paid was $15. This line was used for a number of years before the laying of the thirty-inch main. When an alarm of fire was sounded the American District Telegraph company turned the alarm over to the Poppleton avenue station and the pressure at the hydrants was increased. Since the big main was laid and the Poppleton avenue pump house abandoned there has been no use for the private line. The city used to pay $150 a year for the maintenance of this line, but this expense was cut off with the laying of the larger water main. The steel famine is broken at last, so far as construction by home railroads is concerned. After a wait of many months for everal new bridge trusses the Fremont. Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad company has just received the first one, and the impatience of General Manager Bidwell is appeased. Just a year ago the bridge which arrived Monday was ordered. It is to span the Eikhorn river at Arlington, Neb., and is 160 feet long. At present there is a double truss arrangement across the river at that point. It will not be there many days longer, howver, for the new bridge will go in immediately. General Manager Bidwell takes this as a promise that the trusses for use in South Omaha will also be on hand shortly They were supposedly part of the same consignment and it is thought they are following on. They were ordered last fall and were first promised to get here November

A delay of more than four months has been responsible for practically an equal setting back of the work at the new yards site. These two expected trusses are for use in the track which will connect the new yards the Eikhorn is building at South Omaha with the Northwestern outlet at the Union Pacific tracks. The track will leave the Union Pacific tracks and lower gently to the yards, crossing overhead meanwhile the tracks of other railroads and the South Omaha boulevard. The trusses are each about 170 feet long.
