

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Easter Trade Fully Up to Expectations with Both Wholesalers and Retailers.

SUGAR MARKET EXTREMELY STRONG

Raw Cotton Drops Forty Points, but Manufactured Lines of Cotton Goods Are Held at Firm Prices.

The demand for practically all kinds of goods handled by Omaha jobbers continues of very liberal proportions. A good many merchants were not fully recovered from the slump of last week for the fact that they were not expected to receive the Easter trade. According to all reports received from the country, retailers had an elegant Easter trade and more so than they expected to. The cause for the exceptionally good trade is thought to be the fine weather and also the fact that as a rule have more ready money on hand than usual, and as everyone is hoping for continuing prosperity, extra seems to be to spend money freely. Retailers say that they showed more in the quantity of goods purchased, but more forcibly in the quality. Furniture dealers, dry goods merchants, hardware dealers and in fact all classes of retailers are speaking of the change that has taken place within the last few years and never has the change been greater than this spring. Wholesale prices are fully aware of this change and as a result their stocks consist of a much finer grade of goods than in previous years. Of course, carry the cheaper lines as well. There have been a few important changes in quotations for some of the staples, while some of them have been to the advantage of the general market is nevertheless in a very strong position. With few exceptions in the tendency of prices is upward, the demand for goods in excess of the supply.

Sugar Market Strong.

Wholesale grocers experienced a good active demand last week and report sugar as being fully recovered from the slump of a year ago. The market is in much the same position it was a week ago, though a few prices are showing a slight advance. Sugar for example is quoted strong and raw sugar has advanced five cents per hundred pounds. There was a slight advance in the price of refined sugar, but it is not expected for some time to come. Soap has been attracting considerable attention for some time past. It is reported that all staple lines handled in this territory will advance 10 to 25 cents per box. This is due to the fact that the price of cotton has advanced and the manufacture of soap. It is thought that prices will remain firm at the advance unless another crop of cotton is produced. Both the coffee and tea markets are in practically the same position they were a week or two ago. The demand for coffee is looked for in the near future.

Cotton Declined Forty Points.

The most important change last week in the dry goods market was the drop in the price of cotton. The price of cotton declined forty points in the market. In spite of this sudden drop in the price of the raw material, the market on all kinds of plain goods, both bleached and brown, remains strong. In fact, people and other articles are being sold at advanced prices all around, making the basis for the price of cotton. Low and medium grades of cotton are being sold at a similar price, although the quality of the cotton is not so good as in previous years. The market for cotton is expected to be a good deal of building done both in the way of business blocks and residences. It is thought that the market for cotton will be a good deal of building done both in the way of business blocks and residences.
