WELCOME ANNOUNCEMENTS ON CALENDAR

Holy Week Devoid of Pretense at En tertainment and Marked by General Quiet Among Omaka's

Swell Set.

If the observance of Holy Week is to be estimated by the doings, or rather the lack of doings, among the members of the smart set it would be safe to say that society has conducted itself irreproachably this week. Even the cooking and sewing clubs suspended their meetings and with a few exceptions, these among those who do not observe Lent, the services have occasioned the only gatherings.

The home coming of several members of the younger set who have been away at school promises to liven things materially this week, however, and while the informal nature of the prospective entertainment has prevented its announcement it is expected that these young people will ex- Bartlett, who has just returned from the tract all manner of impromptu fun from east. their Easter vacation before the week is OVEL.
