LONDON, April 5 .- (New York World - Special Telegram.) - Princess Louise, wife of the duke of Argyll, formerly the marquis of Lorne, has done more for the perpenation of the memory of her mother, Queen Victoria, than all the pomp pourt have achieved.

The statue of the gracious monarch, lovingly wrought in marble by this daughter, a sculptor of rare merit, who more than any other inherited Victoria's impetuous temperament, by years and grief so sadly disciplined, stands in its niche in the Manchester cathedral, a blending of womanly sweetness and power. The pose the princess has chosen shows the queen in her robes of state, the crown upon her brow, the scepter and globe in each hand.

The statue bears a close resemblance to The Canadians' favorite figure of the sovereign, found in their public parks. The face, that of maturity, still suggests the indomitable youth, which to the last was the queen's happlest gift. It was unveiled March 12 by the prince and princess of Wales and is one of the city's most treasured possessions. The duchess of Argyll is the third daughter of the queen and admittedly the most beautiful and talented of that extensive family, if the least inclined to regard con-

Needless to say, that shirt was preserved as a priceless treasure.

The duchees wanders through foreign galleries and studios and bric-a-brac shops in the same way. Her intense objection to being photographed is presumably traceable to her desire to escape too great familiarity to the public eye.

"A far-reaching and systematic plan of corruption has been carried on for years by members of the municipal assembly. Our investigation, covering more or less fully a period of ten ordinance has been passed wherein valuable privileges or franchises are granted until those interested in the passage thereof have paid the legislators the money demanded for action in the particular case. No municipal corporation has ever had its most valuable franchises so recklessly and scandalously disposed of for a consideration, which found its way, not to the city treasury, but into the itching paims of the public pilferers.

CLARK JOINS WITH GOULD Two Magnates Pool Interests on the Atlantic and Pacific Seaboards.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 5 .- The Herald says: Los Angeles will be the Pacific coast terminus of the Gould railway system. The Gould and Clark interests have combined at either side of the continent Senator W. A. Clark having joined with George J. Gould in the building of a road from Pittsburg to the Atlantic seaboard and Mr. Gould becoming interested in the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road These arrangements will give the Gould system a continuous line of roads across the continent, beginning with the Salt Lake, then the Rio Grande Western and the Denver & Rio Grande to Denver. The Mis souri Pacific to St. Louis, the Wabash to Pittsburg and the West Virginia Central with projected extensions to the Atlantic Charles W. Clark, the senator's son, whe now in Los Angeles, and J. Ross Clark brother of the senator, who has the management of the Sait Lake railroad, would only partly confirm the reports of a combi-
