Hill Lines Make Extended Changes in the assembled at Verdigris.

Passenger Schedule.

No. 13 Will Run Through Omaha Instead of Plattsmouth and No. 2 Will Take Eastbound

Passengers.

On May 4 extensive passenger schedule changes, affecting Omaha and the middle weat generally, will be made on the Burlington and Northern Pacific railways. General Passenger Agent John Francis of the B. & M. yesterday announced the principal alterations. The new time card has not yet been adopted, but on next Friday or Saturday a meeting of the officials of the passenger and operating departments of the different lines concerned will be held either here or in Chicago for the final consideration and adoption of the changes.

An increased convenience for passengers at two terminals on the Northern Pacific and one important connection on the Burlington is mainly responsible for the remodeling of the time card, and the easier handling of the westbound business out of St. Paul by the Northern Pacific also figures largely, that road being given under the new figures more time to get away and to

Time to West Shortened.

The chief import of the changes as far as Omaha is concerned is probably the facts that another through Chicago-Denver train will pass through Omaha and that time to Portland and Seattle will be shortened two hours. The next biggest factor at this end will be that the through Burlington train for the northwest will be changed to leave Kansas City more than two hours later, thus waiting for all the late afternoon trains into that point, which it misses under the present schedule.

"We have not adopted this matter yet," said Mr. Francis, "but I feel safe in stating just about what the changes will be. In the first place the Northern Pacific had asked for two hours later leaving time at Billings, Mont., where we join them. That time has been 1:55 a. m. It will be changed to 4:15 a. m. That gives us two hours and twenty minutes more at this end, so we will take up the slack, as follows.

No. 41, our through train, will be changed to leave Kansas City at 6:30 p. m. instead of 4:10 p. m., as now. That lets us in on all those late afternoon connections there. From 11:10, the present leaving time at Lincoln, the hour will be advanced to 1:30 a. m. We will then arrive at Billings at 8:45 a. m. the next day instead of 1:45 a. m., and will leave at 4:15 a. m. instead of 1:55 a. m. The time of arrival at Portland will not be changed.

One More Train for Omaha.

This will give Omaha one more through Burlington train from Chicago to Lincoin and Denver. No. 13, which has been Lincoln at 10:50 p. m., to make this connection with the Portland train, has gone by way of Plattsmouth heretoroie, a stub being run down from Omaha as No. 13. leaving here at 9 o'clock and joining the main train at Ashland.

"This stub will now be discontinued, as the main train will come through here. The leaving time here will no longer be 9 p. m., but about 11 p. m., reaching Lincoln between 12:30 and 1 a. m., connecting with No. 41 as before. That will take No. 13 out of Chicago an hour and a half or two hours later in the morning.

Eastbound Changes.

"The changes in time of the eastbound train, No. 43, will be far more extensive. This now leaves Portland at 11:30 p. m. which will be changed to 7:30 a. m. a tump of eight hours. So, instead of leaving Seattle at 7:45 a. m., it will be changed to leave at 1:30 p. m. It now arrives at Billings at 11:30 p. m. a day later, and leaves at 11:50. This will become 6:30 a. m. for arrival and 7 a. m. for departure. That will bring the train into Lincoln at 1:10 p. m., instead of 4:45 a. m., as now.

"This means a new connection at Lincoln. Passengers from the northwest who have been catching No. 6, the Colorado special, for Chicago, leaving Lincoln at 5:20 a. m., will now catch No. 2, another Denver train leaving at 1:40 p. m. This will get them into Chicago at 7:20 in the morning, instead of at 8:30 at night. Minor changes in local trains will probably result from these."

Officer and Lands in Jall.

E. J. Russell was arrested Sunday night and is held for impersonating an officer, on complaint of Ed B. Knight of Irvington, Neb. Russell met Knight at the corner of Thirteenth and Douglas streets at a late hour Sunday night and proceeded to arrest him for being on the street. After walking with him for some distance Russell, so Knight claims, said he did not desire to arrest a man for being out for a good time, and for a small consideration would release him. Russell had read of the padlock game and other bunco methods of separating men from their money and started an argument as to whether Russell was an officer While the men were talking two soldiers from Fort Crook came along and Knight asked them as to Russell's authority. First Venire with Business Men Brings Many Excuses.

JUDGE BAXTER LETS SOME OF THEM OFF

Purely Business Rensons, However, Are Not Considered by the Court

Sufficient to Excuse Man from Service.

Judge Irving F. Baxter of the criminal bench held a reception yesterday in his private office at the courthouse, at which there were in attendance a large number of Omaha men who seldom go out, but who wouldn't have missed this for a good deal. They were men who wished to be excused from jury service, for which they had been drawn, and if they had missed it the dereliction might have cost them $25 as a fine for contempt of court.

WANTS NO POLITICAL ASPECT

Why Irish League Withdraws Invita tion to Douglas County Democracy.

The latest thing to accentuate the lack of harmony between the Douglas County Democracy and the Jacksonian club of Ne braska is the coming meeting to be given by Emmet branch of the Irish National league in honor of William Redmond and Joseph Devlin, who are to speak upon the condition of Ireland and the aspirations of the members of the Irish Parliamentary party at Boyd's theater Wednesday even-

Joseph A. Conner is the chairman of the hall committee of the league and in that position has disposed of the seats and boxes according to his own ideas. One of his ideas was that place should be set aside for the representatives of the political clubs of the city. Unfortunately the democratic party is the only one maintaining active clubs, so his field was limited. However, he issued two invitations, one to the County Democracy and one to the Jacksonian club. The former accepted the invitation immediately and sent word to the chairman of the hall committee that the decorations for the two boxes assigned to that club would be provided by the members and that it would be in harmony with the occasion, while advertising the fact that they were occupied by representatives

The invitation extended to the Jacksonian club remained unanswered until the last meeting of the general committee of the league, when a member of that club, a ormer state officer, who is also a member of the general committee of the league. introduced a resolution expressing the sentiment that no political clubs should be ecognized and that any such club which nad promised to occupy boxes should be thanked for their friendship and told that the presence of representatives was not desired by members of the league, who de stred to give no political cast to the meeting. This resolution prevailed and it then devolved upon Mr. Conner to withdraw the invitation which had been accepted by the County Democracy. This was done and the boxes will be devoted to other purposes while the representatives of the club who had depended upon the seats in the boxes will have to come down among the general populace in a hustle for seats which are now hard to secure.
