CONFLICTING STATUTES THE REASON

Findings of the Referee Will Come Up for Consideration in the Supreme Court at Next Sitting, April 15.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN. April 11 .- (Special.) -- Judge Robert Ryan, as referee in the Omaha tax mandamus case, has recommended to the supreme court that the application of William G. Shriver and George T. Morton for a peremptory writ of mandamus be not allowed. He holds that while the relators are entitled to the writ prayed for, it should not be issued because of the defective method provided by the statutes for the assessment of property of the kind and character involved in the action. The relators, Shriver and Morton, sought in this suit to have the court lasue a peremptory wilt to compel the city council of Omaha to sit again as a board of equalization to hear their complaints against the assessment of five public service corporations. Judge Robert Ryan of this city was appointed referee and his official report and opinion were filed late this afternoon in the office of the supreme

In the report Judge Ryan recites in detail the issues of the case and gives his findings. In the opinion the various authorities are taken up and discussed. The opinion also embraced an exhaustive discussion of the method of assessing public service corporations for purposes of taxation in this state. The findings of the referee will be taken into consideration by the supreme court at its next sitting, which begins Tuesday, April 15. The referee's opinion

Report of the Referee.

After a consideration of the issues in the light of evidence, the oral arguments of counsel and the briefs submitted, upon consideration whereof I have reached and report the following as my findings of fact and conclusions of law without attempting classification under those headings:

1. On December 24, 1891, the city council of the city of Omaha adopted a resolution directing notice to be published of the sittings of sa'd council as a board of equalization to be had on January 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, 1992, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m. of each day. In this resolution it was recited that "all complaints must be in writing and filed with the city clerk for the consideration and action of said board when convened." There was due publication of the notice above contemplated and the Board of Equalization convened on January 14, 1992, and was in session each day except Sunday until and including January 20, 1992. On January 14, 1992, the bearing of certain complaints against the assessments of the Omaha Gar company, the Omaha Water company, the Omaha Water company, the Omaha Street Rallway company, and the Nebraska Telephone company was fixed for Friday, January 17, 1902, on which day there were arguments made in support of said complaints and against them. These complaints were known as the complaints of the Real Estate exchange, a corporation of which one of the relators was a member. The Real Estate exchange, a corporation of which one of the relators was a member. The Real Estate exchange, a corporation of the complaints as individuals signed some of the complaints as individuals signed some of the complaints, and for convenience of reference I shall hereafter speaksof these complaints as complaints of the Real Estate exchange.

Costs on Councilmen.

On the above recited facts I find that the action of the board of equalization overruiting the complaints filed upon procurement of the Real Estate exchange did not estop the relators with reference to their five complaints and was in no sense a matter of adjudication which forbade inquiry into the merits of the complaints of said relators. Upon said five complaints I find further, that the action of the board in fixing a time for the hearing of the complaints by relators was a sanction of the sufficiency of said complaints in form and substance and that the conduct of Hascall, Mount, Trostier, Whitehorn and Karr, who alone have answered in this case, was capricious, willful and arbitrary with respect to the complaints filed by the relators and that thereby said relators were deprived of the right to have reviewed the proceedings of the said Board of Equalization with reference to their above complaints by error proceedings for the want of a final judgment and that therefore, irrespective of the final results of this action, because of other considerations hereafter to be set forth, the costs of the case should be taxed against said Isaac S. Hascall, David T. Mount, Simon Trostier, William B. Whitehorn and Myron D. Karr and judgement rendered accordingly.

West Would Be Inoperative.

Writ Would Be Inoperative

While I find that technically the relators are entitled to a writ of mandamus for certain purposes I find further that in its discretion this court should not issue the writ in this case, for reasons I shall now state in detail, and these reasons are:

1. The manner in which companies and associations incorporated under the laws of this state (except insurance companies) shall be assessed is prescribed by section 22, chapter ixxvii, Compiled Statutes, and this method I find is exclusive of any other method. It is, however, abortive, if not unconstitutional, as to the four of the corporations, exclusive of the telephone company, which had no debt, for it requires the market or real value of the corporate indebtedness, and this corporate indebtedness is twice deducted, once in fixing the market or real value of the stock and again by an actual substraction required by the statute.

2. The alternative writ, even as amended, shows that the basis of valuation for assessment purposes in Omaha is 40 per cent of the real value of all property assessed, except the property of the said corporations, and its mandate requires the respondents to ascertain and employ the basis employed generally and to bring the property of the five public service corporations above referred to to that standard. By sections 4 and 5, chapter ixxvii, Compiled Statutes, personal and real property is required to be assessed at its fair value. The peremptory writ must follow the alternative writ and thereby the respondents would be required to violate the express provisions of sections 4 and 5 aforesaid, if the averments in the alternative writ are true.

3. It is extremely doubtful whether the city council of the city of Omaha, sitting While I find that technically the relators

3. It is extremely doubtful whether the city council of the city of Omaha, sitting as a board of equalization, has power to review the proceedings of the Board of Review. I suggest that this is doubtful without definitely committing myself on that proposition.

I do not hesitate, however, to recommend, and do recommend, that in the exercise of its discretion this court shall refuse to issue a peremptory writ and that it shall dismiss this action at the costs of the answering respondents, Isaac S. Hascall, David T. Mount, Simon Trostler, William B. Whitehorn and Myron D. Karr. All of which the respectfully submitted. which is respectfully submitted.
