As soon as work was suspended at Omaha expected that a committee from the naday to investigate the local situation. In addition to notifying the international officers, telegrams were sent to Chicago sent to that city by the company. The number of the cars containing the patterns were given and it is understood by the officers of the local union that a committee of the Chicago union will meet these find out where the patterns are delivered.

Stand of the Local Union.

Speaking of the difficulty, a member of the union said: "The trouble, if trouble there is to be, has only begun. When the officers of the International union arrive we will lay all the facts before them. Officers of the company have been quoted as saying that the demand for increased wages had nothing to do with the suspension of work, but we know that before the announcement was made three of the officials from headquarters called a number of the moulders employed in the shops into their office and asked if the men in the foundry "stood by the request of the local union's scale committee for the increase in wages. These officials were informed that the demand was unanimous and their attention was called to the fact that the increase would only restore wages to the point where they were about ten years ago, when a re duction, at that time said to be but temporary, was put into effect. The reason for calling the men into conference was said to Travelers' Insurance Co.: be because none of the officers of the union signing the demand for the increase were was issued.

Trouble Follows the Patterns.

"If, as we contend, the shutting down is a lockout, the matter will not end in Omaha. The shop to which the patterns have been sent is a union shop in Chicago. If the officers of the international union adopt our views of the matter union men cannot work on Union Pacific work in Chicago, and any attempt to use those patterns will cause trouble. We have learned that the patterns are not to be taken to the regular shop, but to one outside of the regular foundry, where it is possible an attempt will be made to use non-union men in case the union men are ordered not to work on Union Pacific patterns. If such an attempt is made the machinists in Omaha will re fuse to work on the castings and the strike will then extend to all departments of the shops. We cannot tell what will be done until the representatives of the international union arrive, but they will probably

The Union Pacific officials were yesterday served with notice that the car builders including the woodworkers and finishers. would demand an increase of wages after the first of the month, the minimum wages to be 35 cents an hour. At the present time 100 or more men are employed at wages varying from 18 cents to 35 cents. No answer has been made to the notice, "This demand," said a member of the Car Builders' union, "is made for the reason that every item in the way of living expenses is higher today than it ever has been. Judge Munger has handed down an cars upon their arrival in that city and opinion in the case of the United States, on relation of Chester P. Messlich, against the officers of the city of Beatrice. The judge orders the city to pay to the relator money on hand collected to pay certain bonds held by the relator, upon which he had secured judgment.

The defense of the city was novel. The officers acknowledged that money was in the treasury, raised by tax levied to pay but claimed that they were bonds. estopped from paying the relator because the bonds he held were part of a series of which a portion were held by other parties, and that these parties would be injured should the money be paid on the judgment held by Massitch.

Burlington Does a Little More Speedy Running Out West.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR DISTANCE COVERED

Fifteen Miles on Crooked Track in Colorado Covered at Astounding Rate of Speed by Chiengo Special.

For the fifth time the Burlington railroad has made an unequaled run. The fourteen and eight-tenths miles from Eckley to Wray, In Colorado, was covered at a speed of 98.6 miles an hour, which is far and away the fastest gait on record for that distance.

March 24 last was the date on which this run was made. It has been kept under cover by Burlington officials till absolute proofs of the authenticity of the time could assembled. Now, with the watches o the conductor, of the engineer, of the station men at both points and of many prominent men on the train to vouch for the facts, the Burlington has completed its investigations with a personal report from Conductor J. H. Burns, and publicly adds the record to its other achievements.

As a comparative basis, the list of notable fast runs printed in the World Almanac for 1902, contains mention of bursts of speed for distances of from twenty-one to 964 miles, ranging from 50.4 to 80 miles an hour. The best is 43.96 miles, done at eighty miles an hour, by the Lehigh Valley line Black Diamond Express between Alpine and Geneva Junction, N. Y., in April, 1897. Nine instances of short distance runs are cited in the almanac, of which four are only one mile long, one is two miles, one four, two five and one six. The best speed was 130 miles an hour for 2.4 miles, made by the Burlington in January, 1899, between Siding and Arion. The six-mile run was done on the Wabash, the speed being 87.46 miles an hour.

In a Class by Itself.

This run of 14.8 miles is more than twice as long as the longest short distance run cited and was done much faster. Again, it is almost as long as the shortest long distance run mentioned, twenty-one miles, and so would properly come nearer being in that class than the other. But the speed on that twenty-one mile run was only 72.69 miles an hour, made on the New York Central in March, 1892, between Oneida and Dewitt, N. Y. Conductor Burns, telling of the run, says:

"From Eckley to Wray the track is full of curves and the train of nine cars was running constantly on two of them at one time owing to the length of the train and the shortness of the curves, except in only two cases, where they are longer. The proof of loss given you April 8 for policy on train consisted of engine No. 41, mail car, baggage car, two reclining chair cars, special Pullman car Grassemere, three sleeping cars and dining car Prescott.

> Story of the Run. "The circumstances were these: No. 6 left Denver ten minutes late. A heavy wind prevailed to Akron, Colo., putting us out of there just thirty minutes late. Nothing was said to Engineer O'Connell about making unusual speed, as it has been lor, equipped with steam heat. customary to run from Akron to Wray, the first stop, at from seventy to seventy-three miles an hour when late. We passed Otis at fifty-nine miles an hour, Hyde and Yuma in the observation car with Arthur Johnson of Denver, Wells Atley of Los Angeles Traffic Manager Bush of the Colorado Midland and Mr. Foley from Omaba. Everybody was holding his watch, corroborating, I Wray so soon that I thought for a minute from Eckley, where we do not stop regu-

Some of the carpets had become slightly damaged by the fire which was in the furniture department, but most of these carpets and nearly all of the rugs are absolutely sound and perfect. The Boston Store was one of the largest purchasers at the auction sale in Chicago, because the goods were greatly sacrificed, in fact, in trade circles it has caused a remarkable sensation that these goods were sold so cheap. This firm carried only the best grades of carpets and the finest grade of rugs; almost the entire stock consisted of high-class rugs in room sizes.

These goods are now arriving and being arranged for sale, which will take place on Monday, April 21. We promise you the greatest bargains in high-class rugs and fine carpets that have ever been offered in Omaha. The sate will be Monday, April

INQUIRE ABOUT CITY GHOST Salvation Army Lassies Ask Mayor When Municipal Pay Day

Comes.

No one about the mayor's office realized until yesterday how far-reaching in its effects is the present indisposition of the city ghost. It has been known all along that it affected the grocer and the butcher, who are carrying the employes on their books, but it remained for two Salvation Army larses in poke bonnets and blue serge gowns to let it be known that it affected the dissemination of the gospel as well. Entering with a hesitating galt, marked y little pauses and furtive advances, they proached his honor and asked:

"Is this the mayor?" "For the second time." was the answer. "Well, we called to ask you when the city hall men will get their wages." The mayor drew them a map of the situa tion and they retired, satisfied.

UNION PACIFIC GETS BUSINESS TO WEST

Three Special Trains of Pullmans Expected Next Week to Make Only Short Stop at Depot Here.

Nebraska Federation women a few weeks ago ignored the importunities of Nebraska railroads to use their lines on the journey to Les Angeles, and made arrangements to go out over the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road. This was for the reason. as stated by the committee in charge of transportation, that the New England delegation was going via the Santa Fe, and the Nebraska women wished the pleasure of that company.

Today, however, the Union Pacific railway is making arrangements to carry from Council Bluffs through Omaha to the coast the entire New England delegation, 300 strong, in three special trains.
