TO SHUT OUT OPIUM. In Washington, presumably looking out for the interests of the San Francisco opium agents, as two of the men who have been haunting the committee rooms, asking for information regarding the bill mentioned, are known to be from that city and in all probability, these men will use every effort to defeat the bill.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio is making a strong effort to get through congress at this session, what is known as the Hoar-Grosvenor anti-injunction and anti-conspiracy bill. This bill is far-reaching in its effects as it will restrict and regulate by limiting the meaning of the word conspiracy, the use of restraining orders in strikes without giving aid or encouragement to law breaking.

This bill, said Mr. Grosvenor, "will permit men in large bodies, in the employ of railroads and transportation companies doing an interstate business, may combine or agree to do so, provided they do not knowingly endanger or destroy life or property."

New Building to Be Costly. The proposed state, judicial and executive building will be one of the most costly federal buildings in Washington.

By providing for the State department in the new building the War and Navy departments will be enabled to occupy to good advantage the space thus to be vacated.
