But One Sentiment. There was but one sentiment expressed in Omaha when the opinion of the supreme court in the tax case became known yesterday morning. On every hand the greatest of satisfaction was expressed because the court was unanimous in the opinion and the judges had gone so far as to lay down a rule by which corporation property shall be assessed. The members of the Real Estate exchange were particularly pleased with the result, as every contention of that body had been sustained, down to the fixing of the costs. There was some discussion as to what the tax committee of the exchange will do with the funds raised to prosecute the case since the coats had been assessed to the other side. In a commodious room on the second floor of the Omaha library building there City Attorney Connell has not permitted was opened yesterday an exhibit of art work that is to remain on display over Sunday, and that is intended primarily to be of assistance to school children and others who are interested in nature study, and secondarily to more fully acquaint the general public with the resources of the library as a reference department.

Miss Tobitt, librarian, said: "Just at this time, when animal and plant life appear to take a new start, nature study is most profitable and most pursued. REFUSE TO SELL GIFT HOUSE Offer for Property Donated to Auditorium by Herman Kountse Turned Down.

At the meeting of the Auditorium directory yesterday afternoon the offer of $2,000 for the Kountze house and lot on Pinkney street was refused. C. G. Pearse was placed in charge of the "Auditorium day" work, with power to call upon other members of the board for assistance. An effort will be made to have each wage-earner in the city contribute one day's wages to the enterprise, all contributors under this plan to receive one share of common stock in the company for each 25 cents contributed. The promotion committee reported that it is now carrying out plans for the celebration of the Fourth of July by fireworks and music near the Auditorium site. The question of making the first payment to the architect of the building was passed over for one week in order to permit the counsel to examine the contract and records.

Omaha Ministers Think of Adopting Practice of Eastern Pastors.

SERMON IN EVENING, BURIAL NEXT DAY

Rev. Trefs Says Services at Night Will Tend to Increase Attendance and Strengthen Effect of Funeral Sermons.

The preachers of Omaha are seriously discussing the introduction of night funerals, and it is more than probable that in the near future it will be decided by them to hold no more funeral services during the day. Night funerals have long been in vogue in the castern cities, and some of the ministers of Omaha believe that after the start is made the arrangement would prove satisfactory here. Night funerals, it is said, would give a better opportunity to business men to attend. It would also mean less expense in carriage hire and many other arguments have been advanced by its champions. Rev. E. F. Trefz, pastor of the Kountze Memorial church, said: "I hope we can agree to have the night funeral. I have thought of it for some time and have seriously studied it and believe it will be much better than the present system of having funerals in the middle of the day. At present when a person dies and has many friends who desire to attend the funeral, it is frequently the case if the person dies on Saturday he is buried on Sunday; and if he dles Monday the body is kept until the following Sunday. Many friends who would like to attend funerals are unable to do so because they cannot get away during bustness hours.

I have spoken to several preachers and some are in favor of and some are against the innovation, but I hope we will all soon agree. I certainly shall do all I can for the night funeral and I think we will like it much better after trying it."

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING

Societies of the Omaha District in Session at Seward Street Church.

The convention of the Epworth league of the Omaha district of the Methodist Episcopal church opened yesterday morning at the Seward Street Methodist church, Miss E. Marie Wilcox of Blair presiding. Committees were appointed as follows: On nomination, Dr. J. W. Jennings, Mrs. Scranton and Mrs. Markley: on resolutions, Rev. J. L. Vallow of Blair, Rev. Harry C. Kemp of Omaha and Mr. Hooker; on credentials, Miss Emma Rishel, Rev. C. N. Dawson and Mr. Noyes.

The committee on credentials reported the presence of representatives from eighteen of the twenty-two chapters in the district and the representatives then made financial and spiritual condition of the various chapters, showing considerable progress during the last year.

Mrs. Hattle Osborn of South Omaha re ported from the department of mercy and help and Rev. George H. Main reviewed the reading course of the present year. Miss Jennie F. Berry reported on the department of correspondence.

At the afternoon session papers were presented by Rev. Harry G. Kemp, "How Can the Epworth League Help the Pastor in a Revival?" Mrs. Edith Cory, "How Can the Pastor Help the Epworth League?" but little more time to serve. He was tried Mrs. C. S. Scranton, "The Epworth League and Missions;" C. L. Fritscher, "A Half Hour With the Social Committee:" Willard Noyes of Fremont, "How to Conduct the Devotional Meeting;" C. H. Anglin, "The Epworth League and Church Finances;" Miss Florence Booze of Gretna, "The Juniors."

Last evening a song service at 7:30 o'clock was conducted by C. W. Miller and Dr. Tindall preached, followed by a consecration meeting conducted by Rev. C. N. Daw-

COPENHARVE BEGINS CONTEST Makes Charges of Frand Against Democrats in Recent South

Omaha Election.

Isaac J. Copenharve, republican, proposes to give William Broderick a run for his seat in the South Omaha council as member from the Fifth ward, and filed his complaint in county court yesterday morning. May 5 will be answer day for the incumbent, The canvassing board made a return showing Broderick to have received 1,751 votes in the election of April 1 and Copenharve 1,696. In his complaint the contestant goes after the alleged crookedness of his opponents with an unsparing hand and pummels them liberally with charges of tampering with both votes and voters. He affirms that he was elected by a sufficient majority, but that democratic election judges declined to permit duly qualified republican electors to vote and that, not content with that, they did a clumsy job at remarking ballots in blue and black to suit themselves after they had been received from the voter. Former Commissioner Tom Hoctor is also due with his complaint in a contest to secure the office of city treasurer, to which Ed Howe, republican, was elected, and Barney Lucky is to commence making trouble for M. Smith, republican councilman from the Third ward.

MOVE FOR NICHT FUNERALS TO REST AT LEAVENWORTH

Name.

Remains of Soldier to Be Burled at City Bearing His

General Bates and staff of the Depart ment of the Missouri will probably go to Fort Leavenworth on Decoration day to take part in the ceremonies which will mark the reinterment of the body of General Leavenworth, the man for whom the post and city were named. The officers at Fort Leavenworth and the citizens of Leavenworth, Kan, are making great preparations for the event. An invitation has been sent to Secretary Root to be preent and it is announced that the principal address of the day will be delivered by General MacArthur, the present commander of the Department of the Lakes.

General Henry Leavenworth, whose remains will be interred at the fort which bears his name, was one of the heroes of the war of 1812. He was a lawyer when the war broke out, and raised a company of New York volunteers, which was attached to the Ninth infantry. During the war he operated with the army of the north and was present at the battles fought upon Canadian soil. At the close of the war he became a member of the regular establishment and for a time was a captain in the Second infantry. He then became lieutenant colonel of the Fifth, and as such was sent into the western country in the operations of the government against the Indians. He established Fort Snelling in Minnesota, and later was sent to a point near St. Louis, where a site for a fort had been decided upon, and there established Jeffersen barracks. This post was hardly in operation before Colonel Leavenworth was ordered to proceed to a point on the Missouri river, then in the heart of the Indian country, and establish a fort. Fort Leavenworth, established in 1827, was the result of this order.

It Contemplates Organization of Local Branch of Irish National League.

Within a few days T. J. Mahoney will issue a circular to the members of the general committee which received William H. reports. These reports entered into the Redmond on his recent visit to Omaha, requesting them to meet for the purpose of forming a local branch of the Irish National League of America. The society formed previous to the visit of Mr. Redmond to this city was not a branch of that league and its organization was practically disbanded upon the departure of the Irish member of Parliament. The society to be formed will co-operate with the national league.

The matter has been taken up by other cities. St. Joseph, Mo., raised $1,000 for the parliamentary fund during the visit of Mr. Redmond to that city. St. Louis raised $3,000 at one time and is still adding to the fund. So far Omaha has done nothing in the way of raising money for the party and the new organization will have that as its principal object.

PROBABLE TRAIN CHANGES Passenger Agent of Missourt Pacific Suggests Some Affecting Local Traffic.

General Passenger Agent H. C. Townsend of the Missouri Pacific railway was it Omaha yesterday and told of plans for altering the service on the Nebraska lines break of the Pawnee Indians took place and between here and Hiawatha, Kan., which

"In this same connection No. 4, a train running from Hiawatha, Kan., to Kansas City and St. Louis, would be begun at Falls City, fourteen miles further north, thus completing the additional local service two ways from Falls City, north to Omaha and south to St. Louis.

"I do not think that No. 61 will be changed, but No. 4 probably will. The new card should be out next Sunday. Another proposition still is under consideration. That is to run the train from Lincoln, No. , southward from Weeping Water on the west, one of the two parallel lines to Auburn, instead of east from Weeping Water to Union, and then down to Nebraska City on the east line. People on the west route are asking for more service, and that would give it to Avoca, Berlin, Dunbar, Talmage, Glen, Brock and Rock, the through train from Omaha to Kansas City not being met till Auburn is reached, instead of at Union away to the north. I do not know what Superintendent of Transportation Watrous will do in that matter."

Mr. Townsend is on a trip of inspection He went down to Lincoln yesterday. He does not get into Omaha very often. Traveling Passenger Agent Thomas Hughes accompanied him to Lincoln.
