Closing Business of Session of Reorganised Church of Latter Day Saints.

MEN SENT TO ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

All Missionaries to He Kept in the Field and President Smith Calls for Loyal Financial Support of Church Membership.

LAMONI, ta., April 24.-(Special.)-The closing business session of the forty-ninth conference of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has been held. The two items of greatest interest were the selection of nembers of the board of publication and the appointments of labor of the missionary force of the church.

After the reading of the missions President Smith made an earnest and heartfelt address to his brethren, encouraging and counseling them and stimulating them

OCCUPATION TAX PROPOSED INSTEAD

City Officials Estimate that Enough Could Be Realised on Special Tax in Two Years to Clear Floating Debt.

There seems to be a feeling among the people that the city should not at this time call a special election for the purpose of voting bonds for the taking up of the overlap which has been accumulat ing for years. One reason is on account of the expense and the other is a plan formulated by certain members of the present administration.

It is now proposed to levy an occupation tax upon all classes of business, including professional men, banks, etc. One suggestion is that each saloon be taxed $200. This, if carried out, will bring in about $18,000 and the assessments on the other business men will be made large enough to bring the total up to $25,000. This amount will pay off half of the overlap and the expectation is that the same tax will be levied next year, thus clearing the city of its current debt and at the same time avoiding the issuing of bonds. This plan of assessing an occupation tax has been tried here several times, but has never been really successful for the reason that business men would not pay, while the liquor dealers were forced to put up. If the occupation tax, as proposed, is not favored by the people the council proposes to endeavor to induce the liquor dealers to get out and hustle for the bonds proposed to be issued. It is asserted that these bonds can be sold for $3,000 premium, providing that interest at the rate of 5 per cent is paid. Should the issue go for a less amount buyers say that par will be paid.

May Be Murder. Investigation made yesterday showed that there is a possibility of Edward Woods having been murdered. After the autopsy which was conducted by two physicians, had been completed and the report had been made to the county attorney Sarpy county and the coroner, it was discovered that prints of a boot heel were plainly discernable on the left side of the face of the deceased. This caused an order to be issued by Mr. Patrick, county attorney for Sarpy county, for the inspection of the clothing worn by Tom Joyce and Webb Clark, the men who were last seen with Woods. Dr. Curtis of South Omaha was directed to make the examination with a microscope and he found blood spots on the clothing of both of the men. When questioned about these spots yesterday afternoon the prisoners, who are held for further examination, admitted, it is asserted, that they had a scuffle with Woods and that he was struck in the nose with such force as to bring about bleeding. As for the heel prints on the face they deny all knowl-This case may still bring about some interesting facts, but the fact that the county attorney and the coroner and the jury did not request the presence of the train crew which was supposed to have struck Woods looks in a measure rather peculiar. It may be that the county officials are holding back certain information which they have secured in connection with the case. The remains of Woods were interred at St.

GENERAL GORDON RE-ELECTED

Georgian is Again Made Commander in Chief of Confederate Veterans.

DALLAS, April 24 .- The United Confederate Veterans tonight unanimously reelected General John B. Gordon commander-in-chief, General Stephen B. Lee commander of the Army of the Tennessee department; General W. L. Cabel, commander of the Transmissippi, and elected C. I. Walker commander of the Department of Northern Virginia to succeed the late General Wade Hampton.

New Orleans was selected as the place for the next reunion. General Gordon was given no chance to retire. A voice from the back of the hall cried out, "The only way you can get away from the office general, is by dying." The largest crowd of the reunion was present today. The bureau of information gave out a statement saying that lodging for 140,000 people had been found. The estimated number of veterans present was 12,000. General Gordon called the convention to order at 10:30 a. m. Chaplain General Jones delivered the invocation and General Lee followed with an eulogy. General Gordon spoke briefly of the dead sol-

VIENNA, April 24 .- The comment here to generally adverse to the Morgan steamship combine. The Neues Weiner Journal characterizes it as the first world trust and "The interests of the entire world are opposed to America monopolizing the whole shipping traffic of the world, or using interold and respected employe of the Union national navigation to develop its own export trade and serve its own political ends. The present organization contains the root of a still closer combine, of which America will be the strongest member, notwithstanding the fact that Germany is able to bring into the pool a hundred times the traffic of America, yet the superior organized financial power of the Morgan syndicate will eventually give the United States supreme control.

"From the standpoint of national interests the trust is the most dangerous concelvable and it is only natural that the states affected should watch the development most closely and take every precaution possible. It may be found necessary to extend the system of state ownership to the sphere hitherto left exclusively for private initiative. Yet state ownership of the commercial marine would greatly reduce its mobility and give fresh advantage to America, which has other means of defending and concentrating its own interests.

FRANK SILVER'S RACE FOR LIBERTY

Escapes from Deputy Sheriff and Makes Mad Race Only to Be Overhauled and Safely Locked in County Jail.

Frank Silver, convicted by a jury April 3 of breaking and entering in the daytime, was sentenced by Judge Baxter yesterday afternoon to three years at hard labor in the penitentiary, and with this somber pros-pect to make him desperate he attempted escape as he was being led from the courthouse back into the jail.

A resolution to change the confederate Sheriff Adam Sloup had not considered it The distance is not great and Deputy Silver stepped through first and pulled the door shut on the wrist of the hand that Sloup had kept on his shoulder. Sloup was angered by the trick and pulling the door open again with a quick jerk struck Silver a blow that sent him headlong. The prisoner is lithe and agile and instantly was on his feet and running like a deer down the payement that leads to the southeast corner of the premises.

His Run Was a Peach.

But just then the city patrol wagon turned that corner on its way from the police station to the county jail with William Auberry, for a short time with the Bennett store, who is being held on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper, and with Sam Marowitz, airrested for forgery, but sent to the jail for examination as to his sanity. J. B. Wilson was driving and the towering Tony Vanous sat beside the prisoners. I happens that Vanous is the right kind of s riend of Sloup's and the cheerfulness with which he rushed to his friend's assistance was something inspiring. Silver is a sprinter and led the pair down Harney street to Sixteenth, and then south, Tony not daring to fire into the crowd, but puncturing the heavens for a bluff. Wilson, who itches for a fast drive evertime he takes hold of the reins, was edging along with the bunch, one eye on his horses and the other on the prisoners in the wagon, but he didn't get to pull out the throttle any, for at Sixteenth and Howard streets Silver collided with Officer Edwards, whom he tried to bluff with a bad-side step and swing, but who caressed him on the west side of his brow with the official club. Silver went down like a wet collar and didn't come to until the wagon had delivered him back at the jail, with a lump on his head the size of a jockey's shirt-OUTPUT OF PACKING HOUSES stud. His only remark was that he couldn't be blamed for running, but only for getting caught.

Has a Bad Record

Silver is a man with a history of a kind that he doesn't care to have written up. He has already served one term at Lincoln and the history of this present crime is a long one. On June 8 of last year, it is told, he stole some shoes from Furay & Mc-Ardie's office at 1511 Dodge street. The next day he beat his wife, who had him arrested, and he was given a fine of $25, which he had to work out. While he was in jail Detective Drummy discovered at a pawnshop that he was guilty of the theft, but it was decided to let him serve out one sentence before beginning another. On June 25 he escaped from the city jail by doing a fancy walk across a board that he stretched from the bathroom to a hall transom and went to Denver. The police located him, but decided to let him come back at his own will and save the cost of transportation. He came about two months ago and was arrested by Captain Her at a beer hall the first night he was in town. He was arraigned on March 27, pleading not guilty, and his trial before a jury occupled the time of Judge Baxter's court April 2 and 3. Deputy Jailor Heaton says that ever since

Silver has been in the county jail here he has walked the corridors a most incessantly, as if to keep himself in condition for just such a run as he made yesterday
