DAVID B. HILL HAS FRIENDS AND FOES

Club Has Troubles Enough for One Sight Without Bringing Up Charges Against South Omaha Members.

Jefferson was relegated, the Declaration of Independence called a dead issue, David Hill eulogized and excertated, William J. Bryan mentioned once by a new recruit, Ed P. Smith read a paper on current events, and the committee that had been appointed to investigate the action of the South Omaha democrats who failed to support the mayoralty candidate of their peraugation was not called upon to report, at a meeting of the Jacksonian club last night.

Smith's talk had been advertised as the feature of the meeting and consisted of a discussion of what had taken place during the last two weeks in political affairs and what should be done by the He said the democrate should be allowed to name the head of the state democratic ticket. That the socialist party was growing and something should be done to secure its vote. He didn't know what was meant by party reorganization, but if it meant to win and get offices, then he was in favor of reorganizing.

Attorney Shoemaker followed in a lengthy speech for the democratic party to advocate democratic principles. "We cannot expect to get the vote," he said, "if we go before the people with free silver, the Kansas City platform or any other such humbugs.

Dr. Hipple said the people were tired of listening to "Jeffersonism" and would prefer to hear of taxes and have public ownership. As Shoemaker retaliated that public ownership was nonsense in a national campaign, ex-Congressman Butler of lows threw oil on the troubled waters by announcing that as there were scarcely five men in the party who would agree as to what were the fundamental principles of democracy, it would be a good idea to allow the national committee to say and then stand by it.

Ex-Attorney General Smyth said that democratic principles had always been all right, but it was the men whom the party had nominated that were wrong. He then gave a short talk on the way Grover Cleveland and David B. Hill had treated

The meeting adjourned without having called for a report of the committee appointed to investigate the obstreperous democrats of South Omaha, and with the almost unanimous opinion that the party had paid too much attention to discussing the Declaration of Independence and Jefferson and Jackson.

TRAVELERS ELECT OFFICERS Meeting of Nebraska Division of the Drummers' Protective Association.

Nebraska division Travelers' Protective association met at Omaha yesterday with fifty delegates present from Post A of Omaba, B of Fremont, C of Lincoln and D of Nebraska City. The report of the secretary-treasurer showed a gain of 107 members since the last meeting, an increase of over 52 per cent, and with this gain the division hopes to retain the trophy secured last year for the largest percentage of increase in membership.

Past Grand Master George Loomis of Fremont had promised to deliver an address on the subject of "Odd Fellowship," but he, also, was unable to be present. Henry E. Burnham delivered the address welcome and Past Grand Chaplain L. Channell the address on "Odd Fellowship."

Mrs. C. L. Talbott of South Omaha represented the Rebeksh lodges in an interesting address. J. L. Alvison recited "Odd Fellows' Chain" and Mrs. Thomas Hamita read a paper relating to the part taken by women in the success of Odd Fellowship. Miss Irene Liddell sang a soje and Thomas Hamlin gave a recitation. Miss L. Sutherland read a paper on the subject of "Friendship, Love and Truth." Prof. Gillenbeck sang a solo and also rendered a banjo solo

City Officials Decide to Enforce Garbage

Ordinance Provisions.

Mayor Kontsky Determined to Have gaged cutting down trees and excavating Streets and Alleys Cleaned and City Kept in Better Sanitary Condition.

> City officials say they will tolerate no more nonsense in the handling of garbage. It appears that when property owners receive notice to clean up and they have the refuse carted away. The drayman takes the refuse, which often includes manure, and dumps it on vacant property or in holes in the unpaved streets. While a few places might be cleaned in this way the nulsance was in no way abated.

When the foundation is finished it will By the present city ordinance, which provides for the hauling of garbage upon twenty-one feet six inches high at the the securing of a permit, a fine of from northeast corner, twenty-eight feet high at the southeast corner and twenty-one feet $5 to $50 is imposed for a violation. This was too much to the square foot. To overcome these for the inspectors and a vigorous camdifficulties the foundation along the alley paign will be started at once.

Naturally garbage haulers object to the long ride to the river and endeavor in various ways to evade the law in hopes of but six feet. The footings proper are to be made of concrete and will be two and escaping detection. Commencing Monday one-half feet high and the width as stated each police officer and the inspectors on above. On this footing of concrete will duty will be instructed to arrest any rest a wall three feet in thickness, and garbage hauler found dumping refuse or manure inside the limits prescribed by this wall will extend up to the arena floor ordinance. This order applies as well to keepers of livery stables as any others and it is understood that the mayor proposes to enforce it.

By carrying out the plans laid down by the mayor the city will soon be cleaned up and in better sanitary condition than it has been in a long time. There is some talk of making a radical change in the handling of garbage here, but this matter will hardly come up before the council until that body gets a little better acquainted with municipal affairs.

Mayor Koutsky Stands Firm. The four democratic members of the city council made a demand on Mayor Koutsky yesterday that they be permitted the holder can record the numbers of the to name eight of the appointees, that is, estimates to avoid duplicating, and other two for each of the democratic members. In regard to the matter of plans and While no answer was at first given to the architect's fee, there appears to have the request it was proposed that a conbeen a misunderstanding. Mr. Latenser ference be held later in the day. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the four democrate met with the mayor at the latnow or at any time for his fees. He and the committee do not agree exactly as to ter's office and the request was again the terms of his contract, and that matter made, this time in detail.

After hearing what the democrats had strangle to death. to say the mayor replied that he had been elected mayor of South Omaha by the peoby reason of this. As he been present at any recent meeting of the had been chosen by a majority of nearly 800 over his democratic competitor he considered that it was the desire of the BENEFIT FOR THE CADETS voters that a republican act as mayor. The request of the democrats was then turned down flatly. The mayor said that he would not consider any proposition of the kind made and would not enter into any tie-up. When the mayor had given his decision the democrats departed, well aware of the fact that their attempt to make a tie-up with the chief executive had

Dog Tags Not on Hand Yet. As Mayor Koutsky has not yet appointed dog catcher the city clerk has not deemed advisable to order tage for this year. It is expected that the mayor will take this matter up on Monday and will designate a time for the commencement of operations. It is thought now that the dog catcher will not be able to commence before the middle of May, as it has been customary for the authorities to give the people a certain number of days in which to

It was understood yesterday that the Board of Education would hold a meeting Monday night. At this meeting more than likely the board will designate certain banks as city depositories and as soon as this is done City Treasurer Howe will come into possession of the school funds, which still remain in the hands of Frank Koutsky. The board will meet formally on May 5 to organize, but the election of teachers and janitors will not be taken up until the first meeting in June.
