

MAY MOVE FROM THIS CITY

Change of Headquarters Recommended to Woodmen of the World.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL TO ACT IN MATTER

Board of Managers Suggests that Omaha Building Be Sold and Headquarters Moved to St. Louis or Kansas City.

There was something of a sensation when the report of the board of managers to the executive council of the Woodmen of the World was submitted yesterday afternoon...

The recommendations of the board of managers covered many phases of the work, but the most interesting was the recommendation that the building now owned by the order in Omaha be sold as soon as possible...

The Woodmen of the World has a peculiar form of government. The sovereign camp meets once in two years and in alternate years the executive council meets. Once in two months the sovereign commander calls to headquarters three members of the board of managers...

Three Managers Act.

At the meeting of the board of managers which adopted the resolution calling for the sale of the Omaha property there were present members Frase, Fraser and Scott, and they all voted in favor of the plan...

DIETZ TALKS OF ST. PIERRE

Omaha Gives His Observations of the Island of Martinique.

C. N. Dietz, who has made several visits to the island of Martinique, made some interesting statements regarding the conditions existing there with reference not only to the topography of the country, but also to the people.

Advertisement for Long Hair for Sale! The girls of Brittany and the lower Pyrenees still sell their hair at the annual fairs.

which probably are liable to eruptions similar to that which caused the Martinique disaster. Indeed, reports indicate evidence of seismic disturbances, probably in sympathy with the outbreak of Mount Pelee, in other islands there.

ARCANUMITES AT BANQUET

Union Pacific Council Has Its Annual Membership Celebration at the Millard.

Union Pacific Council No. 1069, Royal Arcanum, gave its annual membership banquet at the Millard hotel last night, those members of the lodge who had induced the greatest number to join during the year enjoying the feast at the expense of their less energetic brothers.

William F. Wappich acted as toastmaster and introduced each number on the program with felicitous remarks. "Fraternalism" was responded to by C. G. Pearce; "Around the Banquet Board," by A. W. Jetter; "The Journal of Life," by T. W. Blackburn, and short talks were also made by Judge D. M. Vinsonhafer, Judge J. P. Baxter and others.

Supreme Court Matters.

PIERRE, S. D., May 15.—(Special.)—The supreme court today denied petitions for rehearing in the case of Oughman against Hollister, Kirby against Bergin, Mach against Blanchard, Sutton et al against Alper Mining company et al, Case against Flaxenger et al, Dunn against National Park bank, Park and Grant against Robinson et al.

With the Bowlers.

On Leitz and Williams' bowling alleys last night the individual league players made the following scores:

Table with 3 columns: Name, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, Total.

Drake Defeated by Grinnell.

GRINNELL, Ia., May 15.—(Special Telegram.)—Grinnell defeated Drake university in an exhibition baseball game here today morning in the case of Grinnell against Drake.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Kinsler of 3866 Farnam street died Wednesday night.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Smallpox on the Wane and Emergency Hospital is Almost Empty.

CRUSADE AGAINST FILTHY STREETS

Large Crowds Attend Convention of Nebraska Christian Missionary Society—Work to Begin on Boulevard.

According to the statement of the Board of Health the epidemic of smallpox which has been worrying it during the past month has disappeared about as suddenly as it came and the emergency hospital is almost empty.

Sanitary Inspector Frank Jones said Wednesday evening: "The smallpox seems to have left us, and I believe that we have it stamped out of the city permanently. The hearty co-operation of the citizens in general helped to stop the spread."

"During previous years too little attention was paid to the sanitary condition of streets and alleys and even the back yards of residences. It is surprising, even now, after all the trouble we have had with contagious diseases how many families have to be reminded by the health department before they will put their yards in a healthful condition."

HYMENEAL

Burlleigh-Gregg. One of the most beautiful church weddings thus far this year was solemnized on Wednesday evening at All Saints' Episcopal church, when Miss Jeannette Gregg and Mr. Paul Barlow Burlleigh were married.

First Call for Warrants.

The first call for outstanding city warrants was issued Wednesday morning by City Treasurer Howe. The warrants called in are drawn upon the various funds of the city and will cease to draw interest after May 16, two days later than the set for the stopping of interest on the $50,000 worth of school warrants called in a few days ago.

Funeral of Mrs. Rosa.

The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Ross, who died Tuesday at her home, 2210 J street, will be held from the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. After the funeral ceremonies the body will be conveyed to Monmouth, Ill., for interment. Four of the five surviving children are now here. Rev. J. F. Ross, pastor of the church, officiated Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Andrew Renwick will officiate at the ceremonies in South Omaha.

Awaiting News from Parents.

The remains of Thomas Dugan, the young man who was killed near Gilmore Tuesday night, while stealing a ride on the Union Pacific fast freight, are still at Brewer's undertaking establishment, awaiting word from the parents, who reside in St. Louis. Coroner Bralloy has ordered an inquest to be held Friday afternoon. Mike Inghet, who was Dugan's companion, is said to have been the only witness of the accident. The two were attempting to reach Colorado.

Waiting Park Improvements.

The statement of the South Omaha Land company, that it will immediately begin work on the proposed boulevard through syndicate park, was a great relief to the residents of the eastern portion of the city. For years they have been working to have the land company make the improvements now promised. The grading of the streets leading up to the proposed boulevard is well under way, and as soon as it is completed the park improvements will be made.

Equipments for Cavalry.

Captain W. L. Holland of the South Omaha cavalry company has just received word from Washington that the requisition of the troop for equipments will be honored at once and that they will be of the newest and most complete type. The old equipments will be retained by the company. It is expected that the goods will be here within the next ten days.

Harder Will Recover.

Albert J. Harder, 355 K street, who attempted suicide Tuesday evening, will recover. Harder's preparations were extremely accurate, since he placed the muzzle of the revolver practically against his head. However, the effect was to make only a glancing shot, which will lay him by, but a shot which he had intended to have been drinking when he attempted to end his life. He is well known in South Omaha, having been superintendent of Cudahy's tin shop for years.

Hold Big Meeting.

The first day of the Nebraska Christian Missionary society convention drew out great crowds, despite the threatening weather. Although the afternoon program was devoted to routine, still the First Presbyterian church, Twenty-third and K streets, in which the meetings are being held, was comfortably filled. The song service in the evening brought out a great many people. The convention sermon was preached by Elder A. D. Finch. The program for today will include the variety of "Missionary Discussions," speakers, H. G. Hill, Omaha, C. W. Fuller, Jr., Ashland, and Mrs. Collins, Fremont. Afternoon, 1:45 to 2 o'clock, bible school session; speakers, W. B. Creighton of Iowa, I. Clark and L. A. Dison of Ashland, and George G. Wall, of Omaha. Evening, 7:30 to 10, state and national work; speakers, J. W. Hilton, W. A. Baldwin and C. S. Paine. The convention will close tomorrow.

Magic City tonight.

Buggies on Payments. Culver-Co. The Young Men's Christian association will have a cantata in the near future. Mrs. Ann Taylor and mother have gone to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a few weeks' stay. Washakie tribe of Red Men will give a dance at Odd Fellows' hall this evening. St. Martin's guild met Wednesday afternoon in Guild hall, Twenty-fourth and J streets. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Neher, Twenty-second and E streets, announce the birth of a son. Many through trains of cattle are being routed at night here they are unloaded for water and feed. Mr. and Mrs. James V. Chizek, who have been visiting with relatives in Iowa for the last few weeks, returned home Wednesday morning. A small blaze at Swift's smoke house called out the fire department yesterday afternoon. It was out before the arrival of the department. The deputy tax commissioners report that the field work will be completed June 1. The work is not progressing as rapidly now as last year. Twenty-two fine specimens of dogs are already languishing in the city pound. Poundmaster McGill commenced gathering them in last Monday. The various kennels say they can not be ousted by the Board of Education before the end of the school year, claiming that they entered into a contract with the board.

OLD SOLDIERS INDORSE ARMY

Veterans of Civil War Command Present Day Comrades and Denounce Their Critics.

WELL ILLUSTRATED FROM PHOTOGRAPHS

New Vegetarian Cook Book by Sydney H. Beard—"Meditations of an Autograph Collector" Just Published by Harpers.

Whereas, Certain citizens of the United States have been guilty of the crime of desertion from the American flag and American institutions in the Philippine Islands; and Whereas, Such conduct brings fresh to our memory the crime made by the copperheads of 1860 to 1865; and Whereas, The veterans of the war of the United States who refuse to support our government during war and cannot see how practically the copperheads of 1860 to 1865 are less venomous than their ancestors; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the survivors of the war for the union heartily approve the conduct of the veterans of the war of the United States and the insurance in the Philippine islands, and that we hold in scorn and contempt the copperheads of 1860 to 1865 who see fit to brand our soldiers and their conduct as cruel and inhuman.

NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Timely book by John Kendrick Bangs entitled "Uncle Sam, Trustee." WELL ILLUSTRATED FROM PHOTOGRAPHS. New Vegetarian Cook Book by Sydney H. Beard—"Meditations of an Autograph Collector" Just Published by Harpers.

Have we done our duty in Cuba? Has the American occupation of the island justified itself, or have events in the last three years shown the change from Spanish possession to American trusteeship to have been, at best, but the substitution of a stulticly ignorant type of administrative incompetency? These questions, and the questions of fact which they involve, must be of deep interest to every intelligent watcher of the new century's historical development. In "Uncle Sam, Trustee," John Kendrick Bangs presents his views on this subject. It is a timely book as the official transfer of the Cuban government to the Cubans by the United States is to be made about May 20. The book is the outcome of Mr. Bang's observations during a visit to Cuba as a commissioner for Harpers's Weekly. The scope of the book is to prove that our army of occupation under General Wood has not made a record of blunders. The book is well illustrated from photographs taken in Cuba, texts and illustrations co-operating to give the contrast between Cuba past and Cuba present. Published by Riggs Publishing Co.

If the price of meat continues to advance the probabilities are that the new vegetarian cook book by Sydney H. Beard will have a ready sale. The book is entitled "A Comprehensive Guide Book to Natural, Hygienic and Humane Diet." The book will prove especially useful during the summer season, when vegetable and fruits are in season and are largely in season. Many persons would be glad to escape a hot diet if provided with adequate substitutes. To supply these is the aim of this book, which gives practical, reliable information in concise form, avoiding superfluous matter and "fadism," and supplying only such recipes as are so elaborately prepared to require the skill of a French chef for their interpretation. Many hygienic hints are included—the purpose of the whole work being to stimulate the growth of the higher self. Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., publishers.

In September of last year the Dartmouth college celebrated the centennial of the graduation of Daniel Webster, at which time Samuel W. McCall delivered an address termed the "Webster Centennial Oration." The address has been published in book form by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., under the title "Daniel Webster." Mr. McCall, who has won national attention by his reasonable independence and marked ability in congress, and who wrote the strong and discriminating "Life of Thaddeus Stevens" for the American Statesman Series, here presents with brevity and point the chief incidents in Webster's career and his more important services to his country. Without undertaking an exhaustive survey of Webster's life, he presents with great clearness and directness the character and achievements which were most distinctive, and which best entitle him to the admiring memory of the American people.

"The Meditations of an Autograph Collector" is a new and original book by Adrian H. Joline. Autograph friends, doubtless, would thoroughly enjoy the author's account of his finds, his losses, his pleasures and disappointments; but the general reader finds the book a treasure house of information and anecdote, while the student of literature and the collector of autographs are rarely good reading. There are letters from Queen Victoria in her youth to Lord Melbourne, letters from Ruskin, Louis Napoleon, Kipling, Robert Burns, Martin Van Buren, Winfield Scott, and Frederick Douglass. The author is a thorough autograph lover and is judged from his preface, which reads: "It is a pleasant thing to sit here," he says, "this rainy afternoon, with the books and the 'collection' close at hand. I have certainly been arranging that collection for some time, and it is arranged yet."

G. P. Putnam's Sons have published a very valuable and interesting book to the lovers of the "old world," "Fieldbook of American Wild Flowers." It is compiled by F. Schuyler Mathews. It contains short descriptions of their character and habits, a concise definition of their colors and incidental references to the insects which assist in their fertilization. It is a timely book, especially more so now that we are because of the popularity of the wild flower in the field and it is intended to go back there. I trust, in the hand of its good reader. Of course, not all of it was written on sunny meadows and in shady mood, nor were all of its illustrations made at once from specimens gathered during various botanical rambles; but, in the truest sense of the word, nearly all of the book is a direct result of field work, ranging from New Hampshire to Virginia.

In "Deep-Sea Plunderings" by Frank T. Bullen, author of "The Cruise of the Cachalot" and other successful sea stories, has just brought out another volume of salt water yarns. Bullen's adventures in these pages a series of brilliant and often dramatic pictures of the sailor's life and adventures. While the picturesque enters into his book, he deals also with the stern realities of the sailor's life, and he brings before the reader strange and bewildering phases of deep-sea adventure, which will lay firm hold upon the imagination. There is not only the freshness and vigor of the sea in this book, but also its grandeur and gloom, its uncertainty and its remorselessness. The thrilling experiences that we now know as Canada. It is supposed to be told by "one Ramsey Stanhope lieutenant to Pierre Radisson in the northern fur trade." Beginning with some tales of witchcraft in Boston Town, from the imprisonment for which the forefathers Ramsey Stanhope rescued the heroine, the scene of the story is transferred to the great white wilderness of the north, where some hair-raising episodes are recounted of Indian massacres, duels in the darkness with unknown foes, canoeing among ice floes and various other exciting incidents. With the next exciting scene all parties are transferred to London—the London of Charles II—and here tragedy becomes comedy, with an unusual though very satisfactory ending. The central figure in the story is Pierre Radisson, an adventurer of

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Smallpox on the Wane and Emergency Hospital is Almost Empty.

CRUSADE AGAINST FILTHY STREETS

Large Crowds Attend Convention of Nebraska Christian Missionary Society—Work to Begin on Boulevard.

According to the statement of the Board of Health the epidemic of smallpox which has been worrying it during the past month has disappeared about as suddenly as it came and the emergency hospital is almost empty.

Sanitary Inspector Frank Jones said Wednesday evening: "The smallpox seems to have left us, and I believe that we have it stamped out of the city permanently. The hearty co-operation of the citizens in general helped to stop the spread."

"During previous years too little attention was paid to the sanitary condition of streets and alleys and even the back yards of residences. It is surprising, even now, after all the trouble we have had with contagious diseases how many families have to be reminded by the health department before they will put their yards in a healthful condition."

HYMENEAL

Burlleigh-Gregg. One of the most beautiful church weddings thus far this year was solemnized on Wednesday evening at All Saints' Episcopal church, when Miss Jeannette Gregg and Mr. Paul Barlow Burlleigh were married.

First Call for Warrants.

The first call for outstanding city warrants was issued Wednesday morning by City Treasurer Howe. The warrants called in are drawn upon the various funds of the city and will cease to draw interest after May 16, two days later than the set for the stopping of interest on the $50,000 worth of school warrants called in a few days ago.

Funeral of Mrs. Rosa.

The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Ross, who died Tuesday at her home, 2210 J street, will be held from the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. After the funeral ceremonies the body will be conveyed to Monmouth, Ill., for interment. Four of the five surviving children are now here. Rev. J. F. Ross, pastor of the church, officiated Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Andrew Renwick will officiate at the ceremonies in South Omaha.

Awaiting News from Parents.

The remains of Thomas Dugan, the young man who was killed near Gilmore Tuesday night, while stealing a ride on the Union Pacific fast freight, are still at Brewer's undertaking establishment, awaiting word from the parents, who reside in St. Louis. Coroner Bralloy has ordered an inquest to be held Friday afternoon. Mike Inghet, who was Dugan's companion, is said to have been the only witness of the accident. The two were attempting to reach Colorado.

Waiting Park Improvements.

The statement of the South Omaha Land company, that it will immediately begin work on the proposed boulevard through syndicate park, was a great relief to the residents of the eastern portion of the city. For years they have been working to have the land company make the improvements now promised. The grading of the streets leading up to the proposed boulevard is well under way, and as soon as it is completed the park improvements will be made.

Equipments for Cavalry.

Captain W. L. Holland of the South Omaha cavalry company has just received word from Washington that the requisition of the troop for equipments will be honored at once and that they will be of the newest and most complete type. The old equipments will be retained by the company. It is expected that the goods will be here within the next ten days.

Harder Will Recover.

Albert J. Harder, 355 K street, who attempted suicide Tuesday evening, will recover. Harder's preparations were extremely accurate, since he placed the muzzle of the revolver practically against his head. However, the effect was to make only a glancing shot, which will lay him by, but a shot which he had intended to have been drinking when he attempted to end his life. He is well known in South Omaha, having been superintendent of Cudahy's tin shop for years.

Hold Big Meeting.

The first day of the Nebraska Christian Missionary society convention drew out great crowds, despite the threatening weather. Although the afternoon program was devoted to routine, still the First Presbyterian church, Twenty-third and K streets, in which the meetings are being held, was comfortably filled. The song service in the evening brought out a great many people. The convention sermon was preached by Elder A. D. Finch. The program for today will include the variety of "Missionary Discussions," speakers, H. G. Hill, Omaha, C. W. Fuller, Jr., Ashland, and Mrs. Collins, Fremont. Afternoon, 1:45 to 2 o'clock, bible school session; speakers, W. B. Creighton of Iowa, I. Clark and L. A. Dison of Ashland, and George G. Wall, of Omaha. Evening, 7:30 to 10, state and national work; speakers, J. W. Hilton, W. A. Baldwin and C. S. Paine. The convention will close tomorrow.

Magic City tonight.

Buggies on Payments. Culver-Co. The Young Men's Christian association will have a cantata in the near future. Mrs. Ann Taylor and mother have gone to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a few weeks' stay. Washakie tribe of Red Men will give a dance at Odd Fellows' hall this evening. St. Martin's guild met Wednesday afternoon in Guild hall, Twenty-fourth and J streets. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Neher, Twenty-second and E streets, announce the birth of a son. Many through trains of cattle are being routed at night here they are unloaded for water and feed. Mr. and Mrs. James V. Chizek, who have been visiting with relatives in Iowa for the last few weeks, returned home Wednesday morning. A small blaze at Swift's smoke house called out the fire department yesterday afternoon. It was out before the arrival of the department. The deputy tax commissioners report that the field work will be completed June 1. The work is not progressing as rapidly now as last year. Twenty-two fine specimens of dogs are already languishing in the city pound. Poundmaster McGill commenced gathering them in last Monday. The various kennels say they can not be ousted by the Board of Education before the end of the school year, claiming that they entered into a contract with the board.

Jap Rose Soap advertisement. one-sixth pure glycerin, most exquisite for toilet and bath. Odor of natural flowers. It is soothing and pleasant to the skin. Will not injure baby's delicate cuticle. Laboratory experiments without number have been made in perfecting Jap Rose. JAMES S. KIRK & COMPANY

Kirk's Rain Water Maker advertisement. Softens the Hardest Water. Send ten cents postage for free sample.

ALL PARENTS TO BE SWORN advertisement. School Census Enumerators Will Have New Duty This Year. THEY MUST GET NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH. Secretary of School Board Will Give Enumerators Special Instructions and Rehearsal Before Work Begins.

TAKE PRICKLY ASH BITTERS advertisement. For Indigestion, Constipation, Kidney Troubles, IT CURES. Society Stationery. Our display is the largest. Our goods the proper thing. Megath Stationery Co. BOOKS! BOOKS! BARKLOW BROS., 363 Farnam Street, Phone 28.