Lace Curtains and Draperies

A WELL known Dry Goods Store sold us their entire Carpet and Drapery Department to make room for other departments. One of the stipulations of the sale was that we are not to advertise their name. Last Monday we sold the Carpets and Rugs from this stock, and last Wednesday the Matting was sold. Those that attended these sales are acquainted with the character of the goods and will attest to the fact that the bargains were beyond belief. They were the most successful sales we have ever held. Tomorrow we will place on sale all the Lace Curtains and Draperies. The Curtains are mostly imported and include Brussels Net, Arabian Cluny, Irish Point, Point de Calais, Point d'Esprit, etc. A few of the items are mentioned below—read the news in detail.

Millinery--Summer Opening

Duck, Linen and Pique Hats for Street and Outing Wear

Monday we will display a profusion of the newest fancies of Dame Fashion for summer 1902 in duck, linen and pique street and outing hats. The shapes are mostly those adapted by the Paris milliners and the swell London and New York haters, viz: the rolling brim medium and sunken crown sailors, the drapings are of various diaphanous materials, such as liberty and Louisene silks, chiffons, etc., while the fashionable stiffer materials, such as linen and Batavia cloths are largely in evidence, these goods are generally applied with a variety of pretty braid cordings of green, black, blue and green, and black and white combinations. The trimmings are of ostrich, horse-hair and flower pompons, straw, leather and feather quills, feather darts, wings and natural parrots, in like colorings to the drapings. These trimmings impart that swagger tone to the hats that distinguish the wearer as a smart dresser, strictly, in line with the Gibson and Du Barry effects so popular now, Monday 40c to $5.00.

There is among this lot an especially fine assortment of pure white and black hats, and also a large number of those chic Newport drooping styles, which we positively could not duplicate for less than $10.00, however we must unload and do it quickly.
