WRIGHT ASKS A REHEARING

Tells the Supreme Court It Erred in Deciding Police Board Case.

DECISION DISAPPOINTS THE GOVERNOR

State Board Leases All the School Land in Boyd County, Which Closes Up Practically All the Land in the State.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May 24.—(Special.)—A motion for a new trial of the Omaha Fire and Police commission case was filed in the supreme court today. The application is made by C. C. Wright, retainer in the mandamus case. The following grounds are cited as reasons why a new trial should be granted: Because the judgment and decision rendered herein by the court is contrary to law. Because the court erred in refusing to grant the writ of mandamus as prayed. Because the court erred in sustaining the plea as res adjudicata set forth in the return of the respondents. Because the court erred in holding that the state was an action against an officer, the result of which binds his successor in the office. Because the court erred in holding that the state was a party in the several actions mentioned in the return to the alternative writ issued in this case. Because the court erred in holding that there was anything in litigation in the judgment set up as res adjudicata in this case further than the term of office held by the parties at that time. Because the return to the alternative writ in this case shows that the term of office under which the litigation arose, in the return as res adjudicata has long since expired and that the res in those cases adjudicated was the right of those particular parties to hold the term therein specified and over which the contention arose. Because in those contentions the law relating to the things there litigated was determined for the purpose of that case only and has no binding effect on this court except as an authority which has since been overruled. Because by the decision in this case the court has arrived at the conclusion that a valid constitutional law in full force and effect can exist in this state without power in this court to enforce it, an absurdity which will necessarily bring disrespect upon the jurisdiction of the state.

Governor is Disappointed.

Governor Savage has not hesitated to show his disappointment at the holding of the court. He was anxious to have the writ of mandamus issued and had even gone so far as to determine upon a list of appointments, which would have been made public immediately had the court decided against the present board. Governor Savage was out of the city when the court's opinion was delivered, but when he returned the next day he hastened to the department of justice for a consultation with Attorney General Frost. Just what advice or recommendation had the court decided against the present board. Governor Savage was out of the city when the court's opinion was delivered, but when he returned the next day he hastened to the department of justice for a consultation with Attorney General Frost. Just what advice or recommendation

What agitates the governor is that portion of the opinion which declares: "The decision in the Moore case is not law, but for the purpose of litigation it stands in the place of the law. The governor may appoint, but in the face of a plea of res adjudicata we cannot put his appointees in possession of the office."

Land Commissioner Polimer and Deputy Commissioner Eaton returned today from Boyd county, where they held a series of successful school land auctions. "We consider the auctions in Boyd county among the best we have held this year," said Mr. Eaton. "The demand for the land was far greater than the supply and in every instance the land was bid up to the full appraised value, and in many cases land was rented on an excess basis. The value upon which we leased the land ranged from $4 to $20.75 per acre. We leased about 2,000 acres and could have disposed of twice as much at the same prices. There were buyers there from Omaha, Sioux City and various places in Nebraska and South Dakota, besides the residents of Boyd county. The territory there is enjoying a substantial boom and bids fair to become one of the most prosperous and important communities in the state." This practically puts all the school land in the state under lease, the few acres remaining being fractional pieces. The republican convention for the first
