LAST JURY BEFORE OCTOBER

Only Eighteen More Days for Jury Trials in District Court.

CRIMINAL BUSINESS TO BE HURRIED

Judge Baxter Takes Up Appeals from Decisions of Police Court First—Lulu Patterson Pleads Not Guilty.

There is prospect of a greater activity in the district courtrooms for the next three weeks, as the last jurors of the present term appeared yesterday morning, with but eighteen days to serve, unless they should run over a day or two because engaged on an unfinished trial when their allotted time is up. There will be no more regular juries after these until the October term, beginning October 6.

Among those of the present panel who, willingly or unwillingly, are elected to serve are: Harry Nett, a broker; William Butnor, proprietor of a hotel; R. L. Metcalf and W. G. Ure. Among those who failed to appear and for whom deputy sheriffs were sent were Thomas H. McCune, Hon. C. M. Hunt and August Miller, a South Omaha councilman.

Judge Baxter excused a less number than formerly, but there were some who pleaded business sufficiently urgent or illness sufficiently dangerous and escaped, among them being Frank Bandle, Louis Fischel, the late Isaac Newman, Thomas C. Byrne, J. R. Daly and W. A. Watson. G. A. Sheldon and L. Jackson were discovered to be women; E. B. Stafford has to put in his corn, Jacob Stull cannot hear, Martin Tighe is a watchman employed by the Union Pacific and Isaac Newman has a grocery store without a clerk.

First on the Call.
The first case to be tried in criminal court are those from police court on appeal. Henry C. Gettscher, who was found guilty of stealing harness from J. H. Leeny April 9 and fined $35 and costs by Judge Berka, gets the first hearing in the higher tribunal.

Others to follow as rapidly as possible are: Nettie Taylor, fined $30 and costs for stealing a jacket from a local store in January; Albert Swanson, fined the same amount for an assault on N. J. Nelson; Obe Warren, another $30 for assault upon the wife of John Fleming, 229 Cooper street, May 15; and William Holmes, who pleaded not guilty to burglary, Holmes is supposed to be the one who broke into the Castellor school, May 12, and carried away clocks and some other things.

Two Plead Not Guilty.
Before the Gettscher trial yesterday the judge arraigned Lulu Patterson, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of larceny of a watch from the person of Timothy Maloney, May 11; and William Holmes, who pleaded not guilty to burglary. Holmes is supposed to be the one who broke into the Castellor school, May 12, and carried away clocks and some other things.

CENTRAL BOULEVARD TAXES
City Engineer's Department Completes Map of the Special Assessment District.

The city engineer's department has completed the work of mapping out the benefit district of Central boulevard from Poppleton avenue to Burt street and the plans will be filed this week with the Board of Public Works, a special meeting of which will probably be called for this purpose Tuesday. The amount to be raised by taxation to pay for the property condemned is $49,590. Generally speaking the benefit district is bounded by Twenty-fourth, Fortieth, Pacific and Burt streets and taxes for the improvement will be levied on every lot included in this territory, the amount to be determined by the property's proximity to the boulevard.

The boulevard, which will follow a devious course through the district, will be an average width of 175 feet, though at some points its width exceeds 200 feet. The taxes will be equalized by the next special Board of Equalization, which meets the second Tuesday in June.

Mortality Statistics.
The following births and deaths were reported at the office of the Board of Health during the forty-eight hours ending Monday night last.

Births—Charles Carlson, 1814 Davenport street; boy, Sydney Gilson, 62 South Sixteenth street; girl, Peter Lantz, 2123 South Eighteenth street; Charles Dumas, 901 North Twenty-third street; girl, Grand street; Charles Brock, 14 Grand street.

OMAHA POPULACE ON WHEELS

Bright Sunday Makes Big Business for Street Cars and Liverymen.

The Omaha populace was on wheels Sunday. Most of it moved in street cars, a little of it in automobiles and the rest in carriages, runabouts, surreys, golf wagons and those other vehicles that people used to call just plain buggies, but which now have more than a Chinese noisemaker.

The nickel crowd had to move along certain rail-prescribed paths—a straight and rectitudinous as the way of them that walk in righteousness; the chauffeurs zigzagged wherever they could pass the most people with the least safety; the horse-drawn livery to the country drives and the tall timber.

Nobody knows how many people in Omaha have equipages of their own—not even the assessors, who are supposed to. But it is an easier matter to learn how many rent them. The Bee telephoned to the twenty-five leading liverymen and learned that at 4 o'clock there had been taken out or reserved for evening 131 double rigs and 336 single.

Estimating five persons for each of the former, which is a conservative estimate, so many were there holding six or more, there were 655 individuals in the first class. Estimating two for each of the singles, there were 718 in the latter class. The total, according to leading mathematicians, would be 1,373.

This showing is apt to create some discontent among the Model Linotype firm, who sat in the front of the hall all afternoon making things pleasant for young Mr. Fitzgerald. The firm is apt to grow feverish in wondering why she wasn't one of the 1,373. And so is Lena Madge Lucy Smith, who sat in the back kitchen all afternoon.

Traveling men and girls, I've been there myself. I used to live over in Iowa when a young fellow and I can distinctly remember the Sunday program. I had a colt that I had broken at a cost of three ribs, and a buggy I had bought at a cost of two years' saving and a pet ferret. I had also a whip, a fancy lap robe and a black suit that went with the rig. That suit was somber as an undertaker's and heavy as a buffalo robe, but it was full dress with me and always worn when I drove over to 'my girls'.

The sweat would trickle down both sides of my face at once. My feet burnt, my collar choked and I drove like an idiot—but it was "buggy driving," so I stood for it all and thought I was the real thing. These young chaps in Omaha nowadays don't drive much better nor look much more comfortable, and the secret of the situation is the same.

Warm spring days produce a feeling of drowsiness if the body is loaded with the impurities of winter diet. Cleanse the blood, liver and bowels with Frickley's Ash Purifier. It creates energy and cheerfulness.

Too Great a Risk.
In almost every neighborhood scoundrels have died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon.

W. G. Whitmore, a grain and stock dealer of Valley, Neb., was slated for the principal address at Sunday's meeting of the Omaha Philosophical society. In part his paper was as follows:

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Municipal Ownership Becomes the Subject of Some Discussion.

WATER COMPANY HAS TWO YEARS MORE

Expiration of Its Franchise May Not, However, Find City Financially Able to Buy a Plant.

There is considerable talk about the city voting bonds and erecting its own water works and electric light plants. The water company franchise expires in two years, while the right franchise has over twenty years yet to run. Some say that by the city erecting a plant of its own it can furnish water and light to consumers at a much less rate than is being paid now. While the scheme is only in its infancy, the city is already being made in connection with the water proposition it is asserted that if water be taken from the river at this point it will contain a great amount of refuse dumped into the stream at Omaha, and consequently be impure. The fact that the water now served patrons comes from Florence street going through a number of settling basins is considered good enough for the time being. As to the lighting proposition, the city would be forced to purchase the franchise of the lighting company now supplying light to the city, and this would be expensive.

The question is whether the city will increase its bonded indebtedness $1,000,000 or more in order to take up this work. Just now the general bonded debt is $307,400 and the city has all it can do to pay interest, to say nothing of increasing the debt. While a great many citizens would like to see municipal ownership of water and lighting plants, there does not seem to be any great desire to vote bonds for a sum sufficient to install such plants as would be needed to supply the city with an abundance of light and water. A compromise will most likely be made when it comes to renewing the water contract and a reduction in the annual hydrant rental will doubtless be brought about when the time for taking up the matter comes around.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services were held at the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday afternoon and the edifice was crowded to the doors. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Grand Army of the Republic; the Woman's Relief corps and the South Omaha cavalry troop were in attendance. Rev. M. A. Head, the pastor of the church, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. At the conclusion of the services, the members of the Grand Army of the Republic post formed on N street, opened ranks and the cavalry troop passed in review.

Establishing Branch Office.
The postal department at Washington is now considering the request of members of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange to establish a branch office at the exchange. Messrs. Millard has been requested to assist in the establishment of this branch and it is reported that he is lending his hearty support to the proposition. The mail from the stockyards and packing houses is heavy and it is asserted that with a substitution a reduction in the time of delivery can be made. Anything of this sort will be appreciated by the commission men and other doing business at the yards.

Letter Carriers' Convention.
The local letter carriers are making great preparations for entertaining the delegates to the state convention to be held at the latter part of the week. Odd Fellows' hall, Twenty-fourth and M streets, has been engaged for the occasion. Hon. W. G. Millard, superintendent of the free delivery system of Chicago, will be present and address the convention. He is also billed for a few remarks at the banquet to be held Friday night. M. T. Finnan, national vice president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, whose headquarters are at Bloomington, Ill., will attend. All postmasters of the free delivery offices in Nebraska have been invited. At the banquet to be Friday evening addresses will be made by a number of prominent people.

FARMER TO CHAMPION PURITY
Whitmore of Valley Tells Philosophical Society of a Desired Condition.

W. G. Whitmore, a grain and stock dealer of Valley, Neb., was slated for the principal address at Sunday's meeting of the Omaha Philosophical society. In part his paper was as follows:

The gradual reversal of things which has been going on in recent years, whereby the producer, especially the western farmer and stockman, is obtaining better prices and a more equitable share of the profits of business, as well as much lower rates of interest, has had a tendency to divert his mind from the old-time notion that he was in some mysterious way oppressed by every other kind of business.

"Doubtless, as in the past, with our superb natural advantages of climate and soil, the more plow jogger will continue to get a fair living, but the man who would thrive and progress and secure for his family the advantages of education, culture and the thousand little amenities which help to make life worth living must be alert to perceive and prompt and courageous to act along more modern and scientific lines.

The sentiment of the farming class is no longer regarded by the political boss with the wholesome dread that ought to exist in such a state as ours. This is largely due to a serious decline among the farmers of individual independence of political thought and action—a substitution of the party for the patriotic standards of judgment. A corrupt and debauching spirit of commercialism pervades the political atmosphere and poisons the fountains of law, liberty and progress. I would not advocate the formation of an agricultural party to correct this evil, for I do not believe that any man should administer his political duty in this country

FLEMING LEAVES THE TEAM

AFRAID HE WOULD BE BENCHED HERE

ON in His Work and Worried Over Return of Stone, He Goes to Burns' Aggregation Rather Than Jump.

Tom Fleming has become a Millionaire. The Omaha left fielder has gone to Tom Burns and the Colorado Springs base ball team. He did so with the full consent of manager Bourke, and supposedly on the same salary that "Pa Bill" was paying him. Fleming will take the place of Barrett, who has been playing left field for the westerners. Tom did not play in yesterday's game, but with the Millionaire last evening for their home town.

This change in the personnel of the Gate City group has been expected for some time. Fleming has been notoriously dissatisfied in his position with Omaha. He was drawing good money, but felt that he was not high in popular favor, and the bringing back of Stone added to his sorrows. He was plucked and has been kicking with Sacramento to join that west coast aggregation. His wife's poor health is another incentive for him to locate on sea or mountain country.

When Stone was loaned to Peoria Bourke offered to let Fleming go there. He refused to make the change. So Stone went. Last week matters came to a final point with Stone's return. Fleming told Bourke he wanted to get out. Bourke said he would carry the fielder along the season, though if he wished to stay, Tom said he did not care to stay and sit on the bench. Then Tom Burns, who was looking for a chance to strengthen his outfield, began negotiations. Bourke told Fleming to go ahead if he could come to terms with Burns, and Tom did so.

Stone Permanently Placed.

"I shall now play Stone permanently in left field," said manager Bourke. "That will put Genine in middle field between the two young ones, and he can thus watch both of them. Frank will play today, and his shoulder is almost well. My team personnel is now just what it will be the season through. I have not yet recovered from the loss of these four pitchers and Eddie Gordon will make a fifth on June 1. Five is not too many for the class of team I have this season."

The exception mentioned by Bourke is Dave Calhoun. Though he is known as a top-notch first baseman and one of the best in the league, his permanency depends upon good conduct. Bourke thinks now that Dave will play the season out all right, but if he does not Thomas will make a good substitute, and a new substitute catcher will be secured. Calhoun has not yet recovered from his "sickness" of last Saturday, but will be in the game again shortly.

More Seating Capacity.

To prevent any more overflow meetings such as the record crowd of last Sunday Bourke will put in seating capacity for 1,000 more people at an expense of $1,000. A large force of workmen started this morning to extend the long west bleacher 100 feet farther to the north, running it clear to the north fence. In addition to this twenty-four boxes, seating six people each, will be built along in front of the grandstand on a level with its floor. In the center of this grandstand will be the press box, directly behind the home plate. With this box accommodation Bourke expects to get out to his games a better class of people than have ever attended base ball games here. He calculates that the exclusiveness will catch the tonier set. Box seats will cost 50 cents in addition to the 25-cent gate admission. The work will be rushed, and on next Wednesday night, when the season opens, the day with Des Moines here, will be finished. There is no game Tuesday, but two on Friday.

FORMER COUNTY CLERK INSANE

H. T. Leavitt Taken to Asylum at Lincoln, with Small Prospect for Recovery.

Herbert T. Leavitt, long a citizen of Omaha and for two terms in the office of county clerk, was taken to the asylum at Lincoln yesterday morning, with small probability of his reason ever being restored.

Mr. Leavitt was an attorney and in 1882 was appointed deputy county clerk under John Bauman. In 1884 he was elected to the clerkship and held the office a year, after which he went to the Union Pacific's law department, where he remained until about a year ago, when his health failed. For some months he has been at St. Joseph's hospital, his wife and two children remaining at their home, at 1915 Capitol avenue. He is more than 50 years old and Dr. Tilden states that as his trouble now

Change of Christian Church Convention Committee Headquarters Announced.

At the meeting of the Monday club yesterday Knox P. Taylor of Bloomington, Ill., Sunday school evangelist of that state and president of the Sunday School union, delivered an address, in which he spoke of the advance work of the Church of the Disciples. J. W. Zachary of Lexington, Ky., general evangelist of that state, spoke of the same work.

It was announced that the headquarters of the Christian church convention committee had been transferred from the Her Grand to the Millard hotel, and that the Southeastern Passenger association had joined the Central, Western and Southwestern associations in making a rate of one fare for the round trip for the convention.

GOES AFTER SALOON KEEPERS

Woman Sues Fourteen of Them for Selling Liquor to Her Husband.

Jessie Caroline Campbell has made good her threat to make a systematic campaign against those whom she suspects of selling to her husband those beverages which cheer but break up whole families. In district court her attorney has filed a petition for $3,000 damages, naming as defendants fourteen saloon keepers of Omaha. Her complaint is that Charles, her husband, has spent all his own money and $750 of her hard earnings for liquor and become a habitual drunkard; that notwithstanding her warnings the barkeepers have continued to take his money when he offered it and given him whatever he called for.

WANTS RECEIVER APPOINTED

Condition of Poppleton Park Building Association Not Satisfactory to Shareholder.

George B. Tschuck asks that a receiver be appointed for the Poppleton Park Building association and that an accounting be made by Eugene S. Seaver, president, and Robert B. Gould, secretary. In the petition it is alleged that the petitioner, in March, 1897, bought a share of the association stock and took a lot, the company then having forty lots as its assets. He states that he has paid $900 on the lot and some taxes; that the association now has but three lots as its assets and that it is proposed to deed one of the lots to Carl E. Herring.

Miss Julia O'Shea of Ashbury Park, N. J., will be the star in the address of her sister, Mrs. John Noche, whom she last heard from in 1892. The postmaster has made inquiries, but cannot find any such person in the city.

Charles F. Hovatt, with Martinique instincts, allowed his spirits to boil over Saturday night, causing him to become so bilious that it took two days to get him to jail to cool him off. CADETS IN FINEST FEATHER

High School Boys Off for Encampment at Weeping Water.

GOVERNOR TO REVIEW THEM WEDNESDAY

Foraging Will Not Be Tolerated and Every Man Must Be Inside the Lines at Taps Every Night.

The High school cadets were in their finest feather yesterday, with uniforms carefully brushed, shoes shined and accoutrements polished, preparatory to their annual encampment, which is to be held at Weeping Water. Three hundred and fifty of them, under the command of Commandant J. M. Tompsett, left over the Missouri Pacific at 4:10 yesterday afternoon and arrived at the grounds at 5:20, where the camp had been laid out for them by a detail which went down last Saturday.

At 8 o'clock the cadets fell in for the line of march at Twenty-second and Capitol avenue. The column formed in the following order: First Battalion—Band, Company E, in command of Captain Corvill; Company D, Captain Kelly; Company A, Captain Smith; Second Battalion—Company B, Captain Barrett; Company C, Captain Gordon; Company F, Captain Morsman; hospital corps, Lieutenant Stubbendorf.

The column marched from Twenty-second and Capitol avenue north to Chicago street, thence east to Sixteenth street, thence north to Webster street, and thence to the Webster street depot, where two special cars awaited.

Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Keikenny will serve as major of the First battalion and the Second battalion will be in command of Major Sidwell.

Most of the rations and camp supplies, in charge of Captain Buchanan, chief commissary officer, were shipped to the grounds Sunday. Three cooks have been appointed for each of the six companies and one for the officers' mess.

The grounds are described as especially advantageous for the purpose, as of late they are rolling, insuring good drainage for the camp, while hard by is a large level field for drill and target practice. The governor and his staff will be present Wednesday to review the cadets.

"Special efforts will be made to discourage foraging," said Colonel Keikenny. "No one will be allowed outside of lines after taps, which is 9:45, and anyone caught running the guard will be disciplined."

JOBING TRADE ON INCREASE

Last Week Surpasses All Previous Records for Month of May.

Last week with the Omaha jobbers was one which surprised them on account of the bulk of the trade, which for the third week in May was the heaviest in the history of the city.

The effect of the extension of the Elkhorn road into northern Nebraska was felt accordingly, as one new stock and considerable additions to present stocks along the proposed line of that road were sold by local jobbers. This territory will undoubtedly increase in population with the coming of the railroad and when the road is built it will come into closer business relations with this city. The dealers here in the past done considerable business at Sioux City.

Some of the increased activity last week, in the opinion of jobbers, is due to the trade excursion, and this makes them all the more anxious to take the trip into northern Nebraska. This territory has been debatable ground between Omaha and Sioux City for many years. Omaha has the better of the situation in many places, but it still divides with the Iowa town to an extent not satisfactory to the local dealers. Plans for this trip are being arranged, but will not be ready to be announced for a day or two, as questions between the club committee and the railroad have not been settled.

A. V. TODD IS UNDER ARREST

Former Omaha Agent of Pacific Mutual is Charged with Embezzlement.

Sergeant Haver of the police department left Sunday morning for Minneapolis to bring back A. V. Todd, wanted here by embezzlement by the Pacific Mutual Life insurance company. Todd is now in jail in Minneapolis and it is expected that he will return without requisition papers. The complaint sworn to by the company charges him with embezzling $365, though it is said his accounts will show a greater shortage. Todd left Omaha some time ago and last week the police were asked to locate him. Saturday he was found at Minneapolis and the officers at that place arrested him.
