Some Railroaders Say Northwestern Line Will!Discontinue It.

LOCAL AGENTS DECLARE IT WILL STICK

General Passenger Agent Francis Says the Burlington Will Soon Meet All:Time Made by Competing Lines.

A report was prevalent on railroad row yesterday that on mext Sunday the Chicago & Northwessern railway would take off its eleven-hour fast train service to Chicago. The story went the rounds rapidly and before noon everyone was discussing the probability of such action and the Mills and wife, all of whom live near meaning of it.

When the people who were agitating the question finally happened to think that the Northwestern road had some representatives in Omaha and carried the tale to the local officials of that line they met with an emphatic denial of the story, but that said that the report cause straight from Northwestern headquarters in Chicago and that the headquarters of the other four trunk line railroads between Omaha and Chicago knew the service was to be abandoned. Assurance of this, in fact, was said to be the reason why none of the other this eleven-hour journey.

It is said that two things have influenced the Northwestern to discontinue the speedy service. The first was the establishment of the two new additional trains between Chicago and Denver. These trains give a twelve-hour run from Chi-cago to Omaha and one of eleven hours and forty-five minutes from Omaha to Chicago. Then the extra trains relieve the congestion of traffic that was felt, so that another train is not really needed. Northwestern Agentse Taik.

To this the Northwestern officials reply a. m. could not possibly take the place of they say that the eleven-hour service is a great advertisement for the road, even if the train is not absolutely necessary for traffic purposes. The second point made against the fast service is that it does not pay. It is said that people are as a rule afraid to ride on this whirlwind train, and as they can get out of here either on No. 6 at 4:55 p. or on No. 2 at 7:45 p. m., they have a fine choice of trains that are a little slower, but still offer good service for afternoon and evening travel. This again the Northwestern people say is not true. The receipts have been very satisfactory, they say, for a demand has arisen for this ride that is more than anyone expected. You can take dinner in Omaha, get on the train, and have breakfast in Chicago. On No. 6 you must eat dinner on the train, and on No. 2 you must take breakfast on it, as it does not arrive in the Windy City till after 9 o'clock. These features people like. Local officials are confident the service will be continued on percentage, if for no other reason, and they do not believe other roads will make a move to meet it.

New York Central Fast Train.

The speed contest started by the Chicago-Omaha roads seems to be stimulating the rivairy of the eastern roads, which are determined to hold their own. Word comes now that the New York Central and Lake day, June 9, at 20th and Paul streets. Shore railroads are to place in service June 15 a new 20-hour train to run between New York and Chicago every day in the year. It will be called the Twention, New York, at 2:45 p. m. each day, by the Lake Shore, at 9:45 next morning; at 12:30 p. m., arriving Grand Central station. New York, at 9:30 next morning, thus saving a day between the two cities. General Passenger Agent Daniels of the Central rightfully boasts that this is a real twentieth century move in line with the genius of American institutions and the fastest long distance train in the world.

Script Milenge Bureau.

"Arrangements are rapidly being made for the establishment of the interchangeable appointment of the bureau agent by June primary of June 18, 1902. 15, though he has not been selected yet, and that will give us two weeks to get things in working order. Our printing will be done in ample time, as we have already chosen the style of script books to be used and have samples of the completed books on They will look like any other mileage book, but will contain $60 worth of script money, to be detached like mileage for each ticket bought, and will also have in them identification checks, which the owner makes out each time he takes a trip and buys a ticket from some ticket agent with his script."

Mr. Francis has just returned from the east, where he went on a mission for Passenger Traffic Manager Eustis of the Burlington system.

"Regarding this new fast time between Chicago and Denver, which the Union Paeific and Northwestern will put on Sunday," continued Mr. Francis, "we are of course figuring on the matter, and I think now that the Burlington will meet anything that any other road can do in that line. Twentyfive hours and a half is a good clip, but we gan make it if anyone can. We will not tart our fast trains, however, till all our Rolders are ready and out containing the new schedules. You can be sure of that,'

John M. Tanner, proprietor of a South Omaha democratic publication, has pricked he sensitive cuticle of Ignatius Jehovah Dunn, "deputy county attorney in and for Douglas county, Nebraska," and Ignatius proposes to have the law on him for criminal libel, filing a complaint in county court yesterday, despite the muttered protest of some democratic leaders, who considered that there was already grief a-plenty and disaffection more than plenty within the party ranks.

JUNKET MONEY IN QUESTION

Storekeeper O'Connor Has the Cash, but Does Not Travel.

MR. CONNOLLY, HOWEVER, TAKES A TRIP

Commissioner May Want the Money Appropriated for Delegate to Charity Convention Turned Over to Him.

At the county court house there are quite number of people who are wondering what will happen when James P. Connolly of the board of commissioners and chairman of the charity committee returns from his eastern trip. ing whether he or Thomas O'Connor. keeper of the county store, will get a certain $75 voted by the board to defray O'Connor's expenses in attending the pres ent conference of charities and correction in Detroit, or whether this money will be returned to the county's coffers.

Two weeks ago the board authorized frawing a warrant for this amount in O'Corner's favor, specifying the purpose for which it was to be used. Mr. O'Connor has already attended three of these conferences, but last week, the day before Connolly's departure for his "visit in the east," the storekeeper made the disquieting announcement that his children had suffered an attack of measles and that, therefore, he would be unable to go. Mr. Connolly announced that he would rearrange his program and attend the conference himself for a few days. There was no meeting of the board and his act was voluntary. But previously Mr. O'Connor had received the warrant for $75 and he said yesterday that he still holds the money and that he had thought of asking the board if he might not retain it and take a vacation later in the summer.

Not Vacation Money. As the resolution of the board appropriated the money for an express purpose, it is said that he cannot use it for vacation purposes without first having board rescind its former action and then expressly reappropriate the amount for vacatino purposes, which latter would be omething of an innovation.

Meanwhile Mr. Connolly, who has not been an ardent admirer of O'Connor and who has repeatedly tried to have him displaced by Patrick Ford, will have re turned.

The chairman of the charity committee remarked several weeks ago that he didn't see why some of the commissioners should not be sent at county expense to the char ity conference instead of the storekeeper. and some of his friends say that it is probable that he is still of the same opinion and that he will take the ground that as he attended the conference he should be the one to receive the money appropriated to O'Connor for this use. Some others who, perhaps, are not his friends intimate that he had his eye on the $75 when he started and that he will demand that it be transferred to him by O'Connor.

Chance for an Argument. Thus there becomes apparent a complicated condition that will make possible another of those lively melees that are recorded with such frequency in the history of the board since Commissioner O'Keeffe and Commissioner Connolly took to disliking each other. If O'Connor asks for the money to defray vacation expenses Connolly, it is supposed, will balk.
