Weston Obtains Facts. Weston Obtains Facts.

- 1. That one of the respondents herein, Charies Weston, the auditor of the state of Nebraska, did also obtain all the facts and information relating to the valuation of the properties belonging respectively to and information relating to the valuation of the properties belonging respectively to rallroad telegraph and sleeping car companies in the state of Nebraska in such manner as appeared most likely to secure the frue and correct values thereof, and did have the same in his office, together with the information furnished as stated in paragraph 2 hereof by the different railroad and telegraph companies respectively and by the Pullman company as stated in said paragraph 2 hereof, and the same was presented on and before May 5, 19.2, together with other and additional information furnished by said railroad companies and telegraph lines to said board at its meeting aforesaid, and said board did then and there enter upon the consideration of the valuation of the properties of all kinds owned by said railroad, telegraph and sleeping car companies within the state of Nebraska, from and after April 1, 1901, to and including April 1, 1902; and thereafter, on May 16, 1902, did assess the value of all the properties of said railroad, telegraph and sleeping car companies respectively in the state of Nebraska in the manner required by law. In making up such valuation of assessment the said State Board of the state of Nebraska in the manner required by law. In making up such valuation or assessment the said State Board of Equalization did examine and consider the list or returns made by the respective railroad and telegraph companies named, and also the report made by the Pulman company of its sleeping cars used in this state during said period, and did consider in connection therewith reliable information obtaimed from any and all other sources. All of which was done under and by virtue of the powers conferred upon said State Board of Equalization by law.

Assert Hevenues Were Considered.

4. That said respondents sitting as such Board of Equalization performed and completed the duty of assessing the properties of said railroad, telegraph and sleeping car companies on the 16th day of May, 1902; that in arriving at the valuation of the several properties of said respective companies for assessment and taxation within the state of Nebraska, said Board of Equalization considered the fact that said companies and each of them were actually engaged in using and operating all of their properties in the performance of the duties incumbent upon them and each of them by law to perform, and in transacting the business for which they and each of them were incorporated; and also considered the revenues and earnings of said companies from the use and operation of their several properties; and thereupon, after full consideration of said matters, each of the properties of said respective companies was valued as a unit for said purposes of assessment and taxation.

5. Respondents further represent that the items mentioned in the foregoing paragraphs are the matters and things which these respondents took into consideration in arriving at the value of the property of the said railway, telegraph, sleeping and dining car companies for the purpose of taxation; that said respondents did not believe that under the law defining the powers and duties of the respondent board it had authority to value and assess extra corporate franchises of said companies separately and apart, from their tangible property and here submit the facts that were actually Thren into consideration by said board in the performance of its same duty.

6. And, making further answer herein, these respondents deny each and every allegation in said siternative writ contained, not hereinbefore specifically admitted, denied or otherwise answered.

Wherefore these respondents submit to this honorable court that said State Board of Equalization performed its full duty in the hearing, consideration and assessment of the dif Assert Revenues Were Considered.

Philippines.

All Portions of the Archipelago Are Sufficiently Pacified to Warrant a Government by Civil Officers.

WASHINGTON, June 8 .- Secretary Root today made public the following cablegram from Acting Governor Wright of the Philippines:

from Acting Governor Wright of the Philippines:

MANILA, May 23, 1902.—Secretary of War Root, Washington: With reference to your cablegram of the 15th, outside of Moro country the only portion of archipelago not organized and under civil government are: Lapanto, Bontoc, Batangas, Lagina, Principe, Infanta, Mindoro, Samsr and the Paraguan and other small groups. No armed resistance in say of them.

No reason, so far as relates to peaceful conditions, why civil government in all may not be now established. Special governments for Bontoc and Lepanto, inhabited exclusively by peaceful Igorrotes, will be organized in a few days. Will organize civil government in Laguna immediately. Batangas, formerly organized, was turned over to military authorities by Philippine commission. Act No. 173 will repeal same to take wifect July 4.

Only reason for not giving act immediate effect is that many people ip this province have only recently returned to their homes, and in order to prevent possibility of suffering think best to have military look after them until date named, because latter have perfected organization which civil authorities look.

Crops now being planted will mature by August 1. Whist Principe and Infanta could be organized at once, difficult to look after them until we receive vessels now building, say by September 1: few inhabitants and unimportant. Mindoro and Paraguan group are large islands, sparsely inhabited and difficult of access without vessels. For this resion think best to leave military temporarily in charge, because they have transportation facilities.

Under Spanish regime Bontoc, Lepanto, Principe, infanta and the Paraguin group did not have provinced government, but were commanded by military officers, and Windoro was attached to Marguelous.

England Congratulates Itself on Financial Status After Strain of Costly War.

LONDON, June 6 .- Prior to the second reading of the loan bill in the House of Lords today Lord Goschen, liberal, and a former chancellor of the exchequer, announced that he desired to say a few words on the financial position of the country. Consols, which were now paying only 21/2 per cent, stood at 97. Before the conversion of 1889, 3 per cent consols stood at 101. If they had been converted then, they would have been worth only 82, so that now the stock was really fifteen points higher. After a costly war and the borrowing of £150,000,000, the country might well congratulate itself on a situation which showed such economic statements.

The premier, Lord Salisbury, said such words, coming from such a high authority, were very gratifying and would be widely Crowd is Dangerous. The chief of the Wilkesbarre police, with a squad of men, went to the colliery to arrest the guard, and after some trouble the chief and his men gained an entrance. They got their man but the crowd on the outside was so large and so threatening that the police did not dare take him from the place. At a late hour the crowd was still hanging around the colliery. Shortly after the shooting the crowd sought vengence on the company's property and some set fire to a trestlework. The fire department was summoned and with considerable difficulty put out the blaze. At the Murray colliery, also operated by the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre company, in the eastern part of the city, a crowd of boys succeeded in buring about 400 feet of a high board fence that surrounds the company's property. The fire department extinguished the blaze. The chief of police made an investigation and finally placed the blame for the shooting on four coal and iron policemen who were located near the place where the shooting occurred. They were taken from the colliery by a circuitous route and landed at the lockup at midnight.

BASIS OF TAFT'S MISSION

Instructions by Root to Guide in Vatican Negotiations Sent to Congress.

FAIR DEALING KEYNOTE OF DIRECTIONS

Separation of Church and State Im perative and Reasonable Compensation for Friar Lands. Must Be Heeded.

WASHINGTON, June 6 .- Secretary Root sent today to the Philippines committee of the senate and house the actual copies of the instructions given by him to Governor Taft for his guidance in dealing with the vatican respecting the acquisition by the United States of the friars' lands in the Philippines. These instructions were exhibited yesterday by Governor Taft to the vatican officials and served the purpose of credentials.

Secretary Root lays down the following propositions as the basis of Governor Taft's negotiations with the pope: a. One of the controlling principles of our government is the complete separation of church and state, with the entire freedom of each from any control or interference by the other. This principle is imperative wherever American jurisdiction extends and no modification or shading thereof can be a subject of discussion.

subject of discussion. Need to Apply This Principle.

2. It is necessary to deal now with the results of establishing a government con-trolled by this principle in the Philippine islands, which have for centuries been govislands, which have for centuries been governed under an entirely different system, with church and state closely united and having functions of the one exercised by agents of the other, where the church has long centrolled and acted virtually as the agent of the state in the public instruction and public charities and has from time to time acquired large properties held by it or by its subordinate corporations or officers for these public uses. A novel situation ers for these public uses. A novel situa-ion has been created under which the adtion has been created under which the 2djustment of means to ends appropriate to the former system entirely fails to produce the intended result under the new system and the separation of church and state requires to be followed by a readjustment and rearrangement in the interests both of church and of state, and for the attainment of the great ends of civil government, of education, of charity and of religion.

Must Cense Joint Service.

Must Cease Joint Service.

3. By reason of the separation the religious orders can no longer perform in behalf of the state the duties in relation to public instruction and public charities formerly resting upon them, and the power which they formerly exercised, through their relations to the civil government being now withdrawn, they find themselves the objects of such hostility on the part of their tenantry against them as landlords, and on the part of the people of the parishes against them as representatives of the former government, that they are no longer capable of serving any useful purpose for the church. No rents can be collected from the populous communities occupying their lands unless it be by the intervention of the civil government with armed force.

Speaking generally, for several years past the friars, formerly installed over the parishes have been unable to remain at their posts and are collected in Manila with the vain hope of returning. They will not be voluntarily accepted again by the people and cannot be restored to their possessions except by forcible intervention on the part of the civil government, which the principles of our government forbid.

For Interest of Church.

It is manifest that under these conditions it is for the interest of the church as well as of the state that the landed proprietorship of the religious orders in the Philippine Islands should cease and that if the church wishes, as of course it does, to continue its ministration among the people of the islands and to conduct in its own behalf a system of instruction, with which we have no desire to interfere, it should seek other negative therefor.

have no desire to interfere, it should seek other agents therefor.

A. It, is the wish of our government, in case congress shall grant authority, that the filles of the religious orders to the large tracts of agricultural lands which they now hold shall be extinguished, but that full and fair compensation shall be made, therefor.

5. It is not however, deemed to be for the interests of the people of the Philippine islands that in this transforming wholly unproductive tracts of land into money capable of productive investment, a money capable of productive investment, a fund should thereby be created to be used for the attempted restoration of the friars to the parishes from which they are now separated, with the consequent disturbance of law and order.

Wants Fair Settlement.

Wants Fair Settlement.

6. The titles to the great amount of church lands and buildings in the islands other than those of the religious orders and now apparently owned by the state should be settled fairly.

7. Provision should be made for ascertaining what rentals, if any, ought to be paid for the convents and other church buildings which have been occupied by United States troops dering the insurrection, this being of course subject to further specific action by congress.

8. The rights and obligations remaining under the various specific trusts for education and charity which are now in doubt and controversy ought to be settled by agreement if possible, rather than by the slow and frequently disastrous processes of litigation, so that the beneficient purposes of these foundations may not fail.

9. Your errand will not be in any sense or degree dipiomatic in its nature, but will be purely a business matter of negotiation by you as governor of the Philippines for the purchase of property from the owners thereof, and the settlement of lands in such a manner as to contribute to the best interests of the people of the islands.

Any assistance which you may desire whatever on the part of officers of the civil government or of military officers to enable you to perform the duties above described in a manner satisfactory to yourself will be afforded, but the business is left entirely in your hands, subject to

LITTLE RED DEVILS: Mind Makes Peculiar Things,

Coffee almost kills some people before they are willing to admit that coffee is really the cause of the trouble. Yet it is easy to break off the habit providing Postum Coffee, well bolled, is served in its place.

A lady says: "After coffee drinking had become a habit with me I experienced a sense of faintness in the stomach with lassitude and duliness of the mind. This was accompanied with severe pains in the region of my liver.

Gradually my health failed and I became thin and a nervous wreck, having sick headaches every day. Then insomnia set in and I suffered for four years such tor ments as those who have been through the experience know of. At night I would grow so pervous over the continual distress in my stomach that I would imagine hundreds of little red devils had strings attached to the back of my stomach and were trying to pull, it out. I was compelled at times to take laudanum to relieve the distress and cramps.

This condition lasted with some variation for about three years. I tried various physicians and finally was advised to try leaving off coffee: this I thought could not be done. I was finally induced to give up coffee and use Postum and I began to get well.

When I recovered and thought I was well enough to go back to coffee again I tried it, but after using it a short time the old stomach trouble came back and I threw the balance of the coffee in the stove. There has never been a grain of the old fashioned coffee in the house since and never will be as long as I am running Postum Coffee is delicious when made according to directions and served hot with good cream and some sugar. The whole family use it and enjoy it greatly. I have gained 400 pounds in the last year and my nerves are fast becoming a thing of the past. I sleep perfectly all night and am a well woman, thanks to Postum.

New York's recent shower of muddy rain a one of those phenomena which, though common, occur at long intervals in all the situation continues most encouraging parts of the world. Not long again at Flume, in Austria, there was a heavy fall of half-frozen, brownish snow and in Italy and some parts of Germany there was a downpour of red rain. It was found upon investigation that the brown snow of Flume was caused by the admixture of sand which had been blown from the desert of Sahara hundreds of miles away across the Mediterranean, and the red rain was not a deluge of blood, as the peasants thought, but was due to the presence of quantities of minute infusora, which somehow had been drawn up into the heavens and let down again when the clouds fell as rain.

and let down again when the clouds fell as rain.

A singular phenomenon of this sort occurred in Venezuela some time ago when colored hallstones fell in the state of Zamora. There was first a heavy thunderstorm, with much rain, and then, after a while, the hall came down in such abundance that hundreds of bushels of hallstones might have been gathered. Some of the hallstones weighed as much as two ounces. It is well known that in the tropics hallstones are exceedingly rare in places sliuated in the lowlands. But this nailstorm was particularly remarkable on account of the color of the hallstones, some of which were whitish, while others were blue, green, rose color or red. of which were whitish, while others were blue, green, rose color or red.

Schwedoff, who, in his memoir on the origin of hailstorms, describes a fall of similarly colored hailstones which fell at Minsk, in Prussia, in the month of June, thinks that the colors are due to the prespect of nickels and salts of cobalt, and that the phenomenon confirms his hypothesis of the cosmic origin of hail. There have been many well authenticated cases where, after a heavy rain, the ground has been found strewn with small fish which have dropped from the clouds, and even young frogs, scarcely out of their tadpole state, have been known to descend upon the wings of the storm. One theory is that all these foreign substances are carried up into the clouds by whirlwinds, and another that the least bulky of them, such as minute infusors, are caught up in the process of evaporation. noon and remain on duty until the trouble is over.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "George, dear, why is it that the scientific persons don't try to investigate the inside of the earth." I suppose they consider it beneath them, "I suppose they consider it beneath them, my love."

"There, George, you are trying to jake again. I'm serious about this—real serious. It seems to me that it would be doing the world a great service if somebody could find out just what it is stuffed with."

"That is the woman of it, my dear. You want to get at the cotton batting and the sawdust. Yes, you do. You are consumed by a ruthless curiosity. You want to find the funny business that makes the doil say 'papa' and 'mamma.' It's the destructive instinct that all women possess."

"Why, George, you're horrid!"

"Oh, I know your sex. We've had several women in our family. I knew all about you when I married you. But suppose you could get your destructive little scissors into the inside of the globe. Would it do you any good to find out that the cotton batting was guncotton and the sawdust giant powder." half of its full capacity. "George, you are a mean thing. I don't care the littlest bit what's inside the old earth. Only it does seem as if we ought to know. Perhaps we could guard against things better if we knew what to expect."

"Pooh, pooh, my dear. The chances are if you knew what to expect you wouldn't sleep a wink afterward. Your head would be filled with the wildest apprehension. Yours ears would be strained to catch the hollow crash that foretold the end of everything. You'd walk pussy-footed for fear of breaking through the crust. You'd have a sulphur respirator and a lava cellar and a steel umbrella that would shed cinders. Oh, you'd enjoy your inside knowledge. I don't think."

The Philadelphia Times says that Clement A. Griscom tells a story of the mayor of Portland, Ore., who, upon reading that Portland, Me., was in flames, dispatched the following message to the mayor of the stricken city."

"George, I'm not going to say another word to you."

Here are some questions about things you've seen every day and all your life. Wou ware a wonder you may possibly answer one or two of the questions off-haid. Otherwise not.

What are the exact words on a 2-cent stamp and in which direction is the face on it turned?

The which direction is face turned on a cent? On each hind foot?

Which way does the crescent moon turn? To the right or left?

White down offhand, the figures on the face of your watch? The odds are that you will make at least two mistakes in doing this. the following message to the mayor of the stricken city

"Portland, Ore., bleeds for you. can we do to aid you?" The mayor of Portland, Me., replied:

"We need food and clothing, and money to buy both." The Oregon man immediately called meeting of the city council, but the councilmen were so indignant that the mayor had dared wire without consulting them that they adjourned without action. The mayor was in a quandary, but he felt that he had done his duty, and sent forthwith the following to the mayor of Portland,

How the Present Educational System May Harm Our Boys and Girls- Overcrowded Minds and Weakened Bodies.

"Our schools are evidently trying to cover oo much ground within a limited time," is the statement of Charles N. Skinner, New York state superintendent of public instruction. "Our children are being hurried forward too rapidly. They rush through their studies and often graduate too young. This, from so eminent an authority on education, adds weight to the arguments advanced by many parents who see their children declining in health under the strenuous system of education now in District President Duffy and Sheriff Gombert of Carbon county will have a convogue in most schools. We thought she would outgrow it, but she kept getting worse. Finally we had to take her out of school entirely and the doctor who attended ous. Sheriff Reef has decided to increase her thought she was going into consumption. Her lungs were very sore and she raised considerable matter; she always had a headache and her stomach, liver and kidneys were in a very had condition.

"We didn't know what to do for her and she continued to grow worse until, upon reading a little book which was left at our door, we decided to have her try Dr. Williams' Pink Pilis for Pale People. In a little while after she began using this remedy she was feeling better and, after continuing with it for about four months, she was cured. She is now a bright, healthy girl and we recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to everyone whom we think would be bedefited by them."

Miss Sutton took the one unfailing remedy for such afflictions and was cured. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are unlike other medicines because they act directly on the blood and nerves. This makes them invaluable in such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the aftereffects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
