Judge Eller Once More Insists that Gordon is Real Police Judge.

J. W. Eller has found another way to keep himself and Samuel I. Gordon in the public eye. He has bobbed up in the case of the state against John Hennings with a plea in abatement, grounded upon the contention that Judge Berka, who bound Hennings over to the district court, is not the real police magistrate, but a pretender to the throne of Gordon the Sticker...

Burglars made an attempt to enter the residence of H. C. Galt at a late hour Monday night, but were frightened away before accomplishing their purpose. In other places break thieves did a little better. G. B. Gray reported that some one had a gold fish watch from the pocket of his vest, which was hanging in his barber shop, 506 South Tenth street. John Berry, 1212 South Tenth street, lost a watch in the same way.
A jury in the United States circuit court met at St. Paul, Minn., yesterday to consider material to the issue to know the features of the country where the accident took place by which the plaintiff lost a leg under the wheels of a train belonging to the defendant. The judge therefore ordered the jury to go to the scene of the accident and inspect the banks and cuts along the line.
A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held at 12 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to consider a petition to appoint an examination of the pupils and to pass on the question of issuing additional diplomas to the graduates of the school who were right to graduate with the class of next Friday there is some doubt. Principal Waterhouse has recommended that all graduates be compelled to take out licenses at once. But as the graduates for years past are familiar with such orders, and as they never have been compelled to comply with the law, they say they will not go out of their way to do so now.

SOME SAMPLES OF FIGURES

Several Examples of What County Assessors Have Turned In.

INCREASE IN VALUATION NOT YET KNOWN

County Commissioners Organize as a Board of Equalization and Take Recess Until Thursday, but Books Are Open.

It's up to the County Board of Equalization. The assessors have turned in their books, but the pages of the latter do not disclose to a casual observer that the assessment as proposed is much nearer a fair one than was that of last year. Some at the court-house assert that there is a million-dollar increase in the total valuation of the county, and others that it is only $200,000.

THE PENNSYLVANIA SPECIAL

In addition to the present through trains, the Pennsylvania Lines will, on Sunday, June 15th, inaugurate their 20-hour passenger service between Chicago and New York, leaving Chicago daily at 12 o'clock noon. The equipment of the new train will be up-to-date, and it will be known as "The Pennsylvania Special," running through from Chicago to New York in 20 hours.

Communication with Martinique.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The French Cable company this morning made the following announcement: Telegraphic communication with Martinique is maintained via the Southern route, there being no interruption of the cable. The Commercial Cable company issued the following notice: We are advised that the cable between Hong Kong and Manila, which was interrupted May 2, has been repaired.

Indiana Touring New England.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 10.—A party of seventy-five young Indians from the Hampton, Va., school, arrived here today on the steamer Augusta, in charge of Traveling Agent F. D. Gleason. After breakfasting the party left for New England, where the summer will be spent at various points of interest.

Assessors' Board's Figures, Figures.

R. Benson, Hayden Bros., Boston Store.

Some of the members of the board laughed a superior and scornful laugh when they looked over the books Tuesday and they implied that to raise the assessors had made over last year's figures was ridiculously small. But they laughed that same way last year and they made those same kind of remarks. Then they went further and hinted broadly and grandly of increasing the corporations' assessments $111,852. Then they got together in a closed room for a hour with one Thomas Hector and when they came forth again the $111,852 had dwindled to $158,172, and a prayerful public was invited to go through eggs at itself.

Another Deal Likely.

Hector is not on the board now, by request of his constituents, and some other members are to face the music next week so that there seems a possibility of a different course being pursued. Connolly, who is still in the east, fought the corporations openly and in full sight of the grandstand last year and he has promised to perform the same stunt this year. O'Keefe came onto the board pledged to save and to make for the county whatever and whenever he can. Hofseld said, after the result was announced last year, that he "held out as long as he could, but it did not do any good." Ostrom announced some weeks ago he was proposed to fight for a general raise all along the line to save an equal fair value. Harie, as ever, is just burning to do something for the dear people. And yet, with all these favorable conditions and all these assurances, people about the court house are reluctant to predict that the assessors' returns will look much different after the Board of Equalization is through with them three weeks hence, and the public will not throw its jaunt cap high in air until it has been given Missouri satisfaction.

Del Cary Smith, the highest flyer in the County Attorney Shields was informed of this, together with the fact that Monday Detective Dunn took Anderson to Council Bluffs, and the latter had not only identified the two men as those whom he shared his room the night of the robbery, but he had also identified the money, and the detective had requested the Council Bluffs officials to hold the money as evidence.
County Attorney Shields informed the police that it was none of his business to interfere, and as he was not a collection agency he would advise Anderson, if he desired the money, to employ an attorney and retrieve it. Later, however, and after repeated demands had been made upon him the county attorney announced that he would send a deputy to Council Bluffs in the afternoon to see what could be done.

South Omaha News.

The appointment of two members of the Board of Review was the feature of the council meeting last night. Under the law the city treasurer appoints one member of the board and the mayor the other. Treasurer Howe named the one, and the appointment was confirmed with a consent. Then the mayor named A. L. Bergquist, and this appointment was confirmed by a vote of all of the members. The Board of Review will meet and sit for four days commencing on June 15 and equalize the returns made by the city tax commission.

Knights and Ladies of Security.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 10.—The fifth biennial convention of the national council, Knights and Ladies of Security, met in a grand ball room at the Hotel Hamilton yesterday. The delegates are present from all parts of the United States.

Attorney Lambert made a report of four cases he had tried for City Attorney Murdock in the district court. Owing to the fact that Murdock had brought these cases against the city prior to the time he was selected as city attorney, he asked for a special appropriation. This was granted by the council. In his report Mr. Lambert says that in the four cases decree for the plaintiffs against the city was entered. He then went on to explain the defects in the city's side of the cases. Further he says in his opinion the city would be liable to needless expense to appeal to the supreme court. The report was referred to the finance committee.

Along in the legal line City Attorney Murdock called the attention of the council to the fact that three cases were on the call in the supreme court and he asked for assistance, as he had brought the suits against the city. The finance committee will report upon the matter when it gets around to it. Mayor Koutsky and some of the members of the council think that Murdock should pay these expenses himself.

SOME GROWSOME EXHIBITS

Human Cadavers to Recall H. Rider Haggard's Amahagger Mummies.

THEY DEMONSTRATE ACME OF EMBALMING

Opening of Nebraska Funeral Directors' Association Convention at Creighton Medical College—Mayor Welcomes Delegates.

Among the growsome exhibits at Creighton Medical college, where the Nebraska state funeral directors are in session, are two human cadavers, which have been treated with a peculiar kind of embalming fluid. Mr. Curry Carroll, the exhibitor, says he has been carrying them around with him for three years. They are not what they have been called, being somewhat unburned, and of the color of tan shoes, yet they are comely enough as corpses go. About a year ago Mr. Carroll found these "subjects" and left them in his room at the hotel, to the terror of the chambermaid and the indignation of the proprietor; since then he has always kept them on display with his chemicals and appliances.

Another Wierd Property.

Another wierd property of the undertakers' craft is what is called a telescope lowering device. A hundred years ago this would have been held a machine of the devil and the funeral director using it would have been tried for witchcraft, but now it is regarded as a very neat labor-saving contrivance. Its office is to lower a coffin into a grave. Heretofore this work was done by four to six men, who slowly played on straps passed underneath the coffin until the director using the lowering device was up in the process. The lowering device does its work alone, the pallbearers "perform the last sad rites for the dead" by placing the casket upon the straps, then step back five feet or more from the pit, the director touches the spring, the chair chokes there, and at 9:30 p.m. the coffin sinks to its last resting place. There is something almost uncanny in the function of the machine, but it is said that its action is capable of scientific demonstration.

As to the other exhibits, they consist mostly of beautifully upholstered caskets, crepe cloth hangings and funeral looking coats, shirt fronts, bodices and the "large white cravats" that Captain Ben King wrote about.

The cordial alliance which exists between the undertakers and the doctors was demonstrated by the convention being held in a medical college, and at 9:30 p.m. morning, the large lecture room was filled with members of the association and their wives from all parts of the state.

Among the Delegates.

Conspicuous in the gathering were E. Rainour of Weeping Water, A. H. Fellows of Humboldt, Ed Livingston of Harvard, George Brown of Superior, N. P. Swanson, H. K. Burket and Harry B. Davis of Omaha; James Heaton and W. J. Roberts and Lincoln, F. V. Taylor of Red Cloud, Joseph Sunderman of Grand Island, H. G. Karsten of Nebraska City, A. Radmacher of Crete, D. E. Wherry of Pawnee City and Fred Bader of Fremont.

The meeting was called to order by the president, H. B. Davis, and was opened with an invocation by Rev. Edward F. Trefz. Mayor Moore delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by J. W. Armstrong. This was followed by the appointment of committees by the chair, by the president's annual message and by reports of the treasurer and secretary.

APPOINTMENT OF A BOILER INSPECTOR.

Only union labor is to be used in the reconstruction of No. 2 fire hall. Some bills and a few minor claims were paid and then the council adjourned for one week.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS.

Elaborate plans are being made by the Board of Education for the expenditure of the money now in the city treasury which was brought in by the payment of saloon licenses. At last night's meeting of the board a motion prevailed directing the buildings and grounds committee to advertise for bids for a site for an eight-room building.

REPORT OF EXPERT CHIEK.

This building is to be erected between Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth streets on the east and west P and W streets on the south. The cost of the expenditure of a large portion of the board's revenue and the movement was not favored by all of the members, although there has been a constant demand for more school room. A. L. Davis was employed as architect of the board for another year on the former terms.

REPUBLICANS SELECT DELEGATION.

The report of Expert Chizek did not favor the old board or its secretary to any alarming extent, as mention was made of the fact that cranes had frequently been made. Morrill suggested that in the future no supplies be purchased except upon an order of the supply committee, at least when the members signing the order. This was agreed to.

REPUBLICANS SELECT DELEGATION.

Henceforth all teachers will be assigned by the superintendent instead of by the teachers' committee of the board. A request will be made that teachers attend summer schools wherever it is practicable. All teachers who have been elected so far are requested to notify the chairman of the teachers' committee at once whether they will accept the positions tendered there or not.

REPUBLICANS SELECT DELEGATION.

These are the delegates: E. L. Gustafson, Koutsky, John Keegan, Frank Lee, Fred Martin, George Johnson, George B. Sherwood, Edward Ericson, John McIntyre, George Houseman, Jeff Cooley, J. H. Van Dusen, Harry Kelly, John Troutan, C. F. Dennis and B. E. Wilcox.

COMPARATIVE RETURNS.

Below are given some of the returns made this year by the assessors, together with the assessment as finally fixed by the Board of Equalization for last year. It should be borne in mind that this is for personal property and that the assessors are supposed to return a figure representing one-sixth of the fair value of the property listed:

Table with 2 columns: Property Name, Figures. Includes Omaha Street Railway Co., Omaha Water Co., Omaha Gas Co., Nebraska Telephone Co., Omaha Council Bluffs, Omaha Bridge & Terminal, Street Railway Co., Union Pacific bridge, American Smelting and Refining Co., Iron Stock Yards Co., Chicago & North Western, Cudahy, Commonwealth, Omaha Packing Co., Swift and Company, W. Y. M. C. A. BOOMING.

The present condition of the Young Men's Christian association is the most prosperous in its history. The association now has an enrolled membership of over 400 and new applications are being daily made for membership. The question of new rooms for their accommodation is being again agitated and some definite action along this line will probably be taken at the next meeting of the board of directors.

MILLER FILING HOLES.

Street Commissioner August Miller and his force are at work on the heavy trucks and cavations made by the recent heavy rains. It is the intention of Mr. Miller to fill up all of these places and thus prevent damage suits against the city for personal injuries. Some bad washouts were made.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT COMPLETED.

The county assessors completed their work last night and today returns will be made to the county commissioners. As each of the assessors employed from three to four deputies during the time allotted by law for the work it was impossible last night to secure any figures, and so no comparison with the county assessment of last year can be made at this time. Some property have been raised, but a comparison cannot be made for a day or two.

EXCHANGE MEETS.

The South Omaha Live Stock exchange met yesterday afternoon and transacted a considerable business of importance to the members. Some changes in the arrangements in the marketing of hogs were made and then the question of membership fees was taken up. The price of a seat on the exchange is now $1,000 and the understanding is that when a member who holds a certificate dies the membership stops. In lieu of turning the memberships over to the estate the heirs will be paid the cost of the seat. This new arrangement, it is said, is a very wise one.

IT'S ALWAYS COOL AT COURTLAND BEACH.

Members of the eighth B and preparatory school are invited to a social at the Y. O'Connell this afternoon. C. C. Marsh, secretary of the local Young Men's Christian association, will go to Maryland to attend one of the convocations of that association. He will be absent a month.

RETURN FROM GRAND AERIE

Seth Cole Explains Why Omaha Candidate for Grand Worthy President Withdrew.

Seth Cole has returned from Minneapolis, where he attended the annual meeting of the Order of Eagles as the delegate from the Omaha aerie. "We went to Minneapolis with the intention of nominating A. S. Ritchie of Omaha, for grand worthy president," said Mr. Cole, "but when we arrived there we found that everything had been set up for the re-election of Grand Worthy President Dell Cary Smith of Seattle, and so Mr. Ritchie withdrew from the race. If he had stood as a candidate he would have received a large vote, but he did not desire to stand in the way of the unanimous re-election of Mr. Smith. We had a very successful meeting, and it was shown that the order had progressed remarkably both in membership and finances during the past year. The next meeting of the grand aerie will be held in New York City."

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema; the frightful scaling as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of itisias, and the anxiety of warts-out papules, as in milk crust, leetor, and salt shoun, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtue to successfully cope with them.
