Society Gives Its Attention to the June Nuptial Oelebrations.

YOUNG WOMEN GRADUATES COME HOME

Depleted Ranks of Debutantes Gain Many Recruits from School and Prospect for Lively Times Ahead is Good.

Of all the things that are engaging the attention of society just at present, the June wedding takes first place, one after another having been announced and solemnized in such rapid succession that it fairly takes ones breath to contemplate the result if certain current rumors have any foundation, rumors that October will far surpass the spring month in its number of weddings. In such an event the young women graduates now returning from eastern colleges promise the chief consolation as recruits to the sadly depleted ranks of debutantes.

But without looking so far ahead, soclety promises to have a rather one-sided slipped and fell, breaking one of the bones of it this summer, for "everybody" is of her right forearm. going away for a month or two at least,

At last society has set the seal of its approval upon ping pong and registered the little game among the things of its favor, and those who fell victim to its fascinations long ago and have since done so much misalonary work in its behalf, are enjoying the fruits of their effort, also the fascination of being proficient in the thing that society considers worth while. It is an open secret, however, that it has required something more than the persuasion of these pioneers to convert society, for in spite of all that has been written and said about the game it was not until the season for everything else was over and the fashionables found themselves weatherbound that ington, Minn., for a week's fishing. they really adopted ping pong or to any extent considered it, but within the last fortnight everybody has become interested and nearly every gathering, unless some other means of entertainment has been specified, finds its members playing ping pong before the evening is over.

Its a well known fact that this house has been doing a big plano rental business. During the winter many colleges, schools, and private houses were supplied with the finest and highest class pianos and organs on a rental basis, which now that school closes, and summer travels begin, are forced upon our hands in great numbers from the city and out-of-town institutions of learning have arrived, and more coming. These instuments are being polished and tuned, and the slight use they had in the short few months, is barely noticeable, but the price is cut to factory cost, as we have already had our profit in the rentals received therefrom.
