A pleasant feature of the closing session was a tribute paid to D. E. Morron, the retiring secretary, who has been forced to relinquish his membership in the Iowa order by his removal to Kansas City. He was unanimously accorded a vote of thanks for his work in behalf of the order in Iowa.

The newly elected officers were installed by W. E. Trexler of Des Moines, past grand counselor.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the members of the local council, the citizens of Council Bluffs, especially the women, and the local wholesale dealers and jobbers who had extended varied courtesies for the royal manner in which the grand council and the visiting members of the order had been entertained during their stay in the city.

During the morning the wives of the visiting members were the guests of the local council on a trolley ride through the city to Fairmont park and across the river to Omaha.

McCune as superintendent of the School for the Blind at Vinton.

Judge Wilkinson in the district court today branched out in an innovation in providing punishment for incorrigible boys by having them put in sentence two boys, Brindley and Allen, convicted of breaking into and entering a drug store. Brindley is 15 years old and Allen, who is his half brother, is two years younger. The judge considered the crime and that the boys had been six days at labor, at the same time directing the sheriff to see that they are taken to a city park every day and kept at work cleaning and improving the city parks.

Assessment Work Ready. A meeting of the executive council was to have been held today, but not all were in the city and it was deferred. It was the plan to take up the railroad reports and make a preliminary study of them. The secretary of the council has completed the publication of the abstract sheets showing the contents of the reports in tabular form, and never before has such an elaborate presentation of information been made by the executive council. Nothing official can be done until in July and it is regarded as probable that it will be near the close of the month before the assessment is finished.

The games committee of the College Athletic union has declared Fell, a young man attending Drake university, a professional, on the ground that four years ago he ran in a foot race at Perry upon which there were no restrictions.
