Baturday Tax Commissioner Fitzgerald and his deputies completed the city assessment for 1902. In the making of these lists the commissioner and nine deputies have been employed for forty-five days. It will be Monday noon at least before any definite figures can be given out. At that time the High school students, it should rightfully Board of Review will meet and then Mr. Fitzgerald will present his figures. The board will then proceed to hear complaints and endeavor to adjust the valuations according to its own ideas. Last year, after a three days' session, the Board of Review increased the total assessment as returned larger this year, but there is no authority for the statement. Until it is known what Mr. Fitzgerald has done the matter of valuation is mere speculation. It has been meserted, however, that there would be a

On account of the fact that in the daytime the council chamber is used as a po-lice court, it is possible that the Board of year the corporations made a hard fight against an increase in assessment and it is presumed that the same thing will be done over again this year. Taxpayers are showing considerable interest in the outsome and the actions and findings of the Board of Review will be closely watched.

The board of examiners appointed by the Board of Education recently to examine teachers yesterday prepared a schedule, which it is asserted will be carried out. The examinations will be held in the assembly room in the High school building, and will commence on June 19. The forenoon session will be made up of examina-tions in reading, arithmetic and orthography. In the afternoon the seesion will devoted to grammar and theory and

On the day following the examiners will have the class take up geography, penmanship and drawing in the morning, and in the afternoon physiology and English composition. Saturday, June 21 will be the last day of the examination, when the teachers for positions in both the High school and the lower grades will be asked questions in the higher branches.

Philippine Veterans. An effort is to be made here to organize an association of soldiers who have served in the Philippines. For this purpose a meeting will be held at the cavalry troop armory on Monday evening. It is understood that regulars and volunteers will be admitted to membership. Those who are pushing the movement assert that about two dozen volunteers now reside in this city. With the assistance of the regulars from the Twenty-second United States Infantry it is expected that quite a membership can be se-St. Agnes Boys.

The closing exercises of the boys' class of the Eighth grade of St. Agnes' church will be held at the troop armory on Tuesday evening. There will be a class of seven boys to receive certificates. Finally, after those last nice things were once more said, the class of '02 broke up and became a mere heterogenous col-lection of individual alumni, like all the classes that have gone before.

> NOMINATES READ FOR JUDGE dicial District Names Candidate Unanimously.

The republican convention of the fourth udicial convention nominated Guy R. C. Read for judge and transacted all of its other business in less than fifteen minutes yesterday afternoon. The convention was held at Washington hall and was called to order at 3 o'clock by H. H. Baldrige, chairman of the judicial committee. On motion 121, 1902, from Omaha to the following of W. I. Kierstead, Mr. Baldrige was made points temporary chairman and F. H. Woodland of the Fifth ward temporary secretary, and sale June 1st to 15th inclusive; in column then the temporary organization was made (2), June 16th to 36th inclusive.

Charles Altstadt of South Omaha moved that Guy R. C. Read be nominated for judge by acclamation, and the motion was carried with enthusiasm. Chairman Baldrige named A. S. Ritchie of Douglas, E. B. Carrigan of Washington, Judge Wilson of Sarpy and C. W. Conkling of Burt as a committee to notify Judge Read of his nomination, and the convention took a recess to await the appearance of its nominee Within a few minutes Judge Read was escorted into the convention hall and introduced as the member of the judiciary to be elected this fall. The judge made a that his conception of the duties of the office for which he had been nominated was to make an honest and conscientious effort to interpret the law without fear or favor. After the convention adjourned all of the delegates congratulated Judge Read on his unanimous nomination and predicted his election by a big majority. He is nominated ticulars. to fill the unexpired term of Judge Ben S. Baker, resigned, which ends December 31, 1903. Several months ago when Judge Baker resigned, the governor appointed Judge Read to fill the vacancy until the next general

BALLOONIST LANDS IN IOWA Courtland Beach Aeronaut Who Went Up Friday Night is Safe and Sound.

Balloonist Free, who went up from Courtland Beach on Friday night and failed to come down within the specified limit, thereby giving the management a fright, landed all right in Iowa. He found his parachute tackle had fouled in some way, so he simply rode out the flight with balloon, making a trip some seven miles north of the starting point. He came down on the Iowa side of the river, in the front yard of a farmer, and reported as early as possible yesterday, but not in time to prevent the dispatch of several searching parties, who were regaled before leaving with stories of the disappearance of the illfated aeronaut who went up on the night of July 8, 1892, and has never since been seen. Free did not go up last night, but will continue to make ascensions from Courtland Beach.

WANT GOVERNMENTAL LINE

Canada Greatly Fears the Morgan Steamship Combine.

PROMPT ACTION SURE TO FOLLOW

Service May Be Established Under the Auspices of Both Canadian and Imperial Governments.

OTTAWA, June 15 .- (Special Telegram.) The thing which has held attention in Canada this week more than anything else has been the possibility of getting a governmental fast line between Great Britain and the Dominion. The danger to Canada from the Morgan Steamship combine has ecome so threatening that it has become ecessary to act promptly, and it is generally expected that at the inter-colonial conference steps will be taken immediately o establish a service under the auspices of both the Canadian and imperial govern-

For years there was one Canadian line, the Beaver, now known as the Dempster line, which has kept aloof from the combination of trans-atlantic steamers, but of ate it looks as if this line might succumb also and join the Morgan crowd.

That the situation is very serious is generally admitted. Active competition is being threatened by the American and German interests of the Morgan syndicate with the Dempster line in their South African trade at present and no matter whether he company is driven out of business or driven into Morgan's hands, it would mean an immediate increase in all the various steamship rates between Canada and Eu-The steerage rate would not be exempt from this and any important increase in that would have a bad effect upon the emigration to Canada.

The only way in which the great combination now existing can be fought is by the government establishing a steamship line of its own without loss of time, no matter whether it be slow or fast, as long as is there for the present to take care of the emigrants whom the Morgan combine would like to exclude.

One thing Canadians think Mr. Morgan will never be able to corner and that is the fish supply of the Pacific. Just for the present the Canadians have the advantage of the Americans in the matter of the salmon, at any rate.

Speculation upon what the representaives of the colonies and the empire may or may not do at the inter-colonial conference n regard to general trade matters will keep the minds of Canadians occupied for some ime to come, but it is pretty certain that Sir Wilfred Laurier will make the strongest possible opposition to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's proposal for free trade between the various colonies and Great Britain.

GENERAL SMITH'S FAREWELL Praises His Troops and Says Non-Ever Faced More Trying

Ordeal. WASHINGTON, June 15 .- The order of Jeneral Jacob H. Smith, on relinquishing ommand of the Sixth separate brigade in the Philippines, preliminary to his return o the United States is of more than ordinary interest on account of the criticism of that officer's conduct of the campaigns n Samar and Leyte. The order is as fol-

Pursuant to telegraph instructions from division headquarters the undersigned hereby relinquishes command of the Sixth separate brigade. For over forty years his daily life has been identified with the soldiers of our army, and naturally he has had a large and varied experience of them and their duties. And never in this long period has he seen them confronted with experiences so novel, so difficult and which required such courage, persistency and pluck as those imposed upon them by the Samar campaign now closing. Never has American manhood responded more cheerfully and intelligently. Never were hardships more gallantly faced. The trials of hewing away tropical lungle in a roadless country, sore and bleeding feet with clothing soaked for weeks at a time, infrequent meals and often scanty rations—all have been met with a courage and virility which, showing her young manhood, bodes well for the future of America and her flag.

From such troops as these their brigade

well for the future of America and her flag.

From such troops as these their brigade commander takes his leave with mingled feelings of pride, satisfaction and sorrow—pride and satisfaction in their achievements; sorrow that the inevitable hour of parting has come. To them all, as well as to the troops in Leyte, the members of the navy and marine corps who have done well and so loyally assisted him in all of their undertakings and to the members of the brigade staff who have ever met each duty with an ability which have made possible the results achieved, the brigade commander offers the assurance of his appreciation of what they have borne and done, and his deeply feit thanks therefor,

RESOLUTION FAILS

Virginian's Attempt to Precipitate Debate on Cost of Philippine War is Futile.

WASHINGTON, June 15 .- The feature of the house's session yesterday was the attempt of Mr. Hay of Virginia to secure the adoption of a resolution calling upon the secretary of war for information as to the cost from all sources of the war in the Philippines. The resolution had been referred to the committee on insular affairs, and not having been acted upon within the time limit prescribed by the rules, became privileged. When Mr. Hay called it up, Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana moved to lay it on the table, and his motion prevailed by a party vote, 91 to 66. The latter part of the session was devoted to private pension legislation, 199 bills being passed.

A bill was passed to validate certain acts of the territorial legislature of New Mexico relative to the issuance of bonds. A bill was passed to change the fees of United States marshals, deputies and witnesses in the Indian Territory. The bill was recommended by the Department of
