Queen Alexandra arrived in London from appeared to be in his usual health. With the return of the court to London from Windsor today the festivities of the coronation may be said to have commenced and each day until midnight Saturday, when the last gun of the royal salute will be fired by the fleet as Spithead, will furnish its quots of the attractions which promise to make the week memorable. From today the special ambassadors, envoys and princes invited to join in the festivities become the guests of the king. Throughout the day numbers of royal personages have been arriving from the conti-

They were met at the railroad stations by royal carriages and guards of bonor and were escorted to the official residences assigned to them. Consequently, plenty of entertainment was provided for the crowds of sightseers filling the streets. A big throng took the opportunity of greeting the king and queen on their entry into the capital and semi-state progress to Buckingham palace. Accompanied by Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, their majesties reached Paddington at 12:30 p. m., and proceeded in semi-state landaus, drawn by four horses, with postilions, preceded by outriders and attended by an essort of the Royal Dragoon guards, along the route usually followed by the late In Company with General French the Queen Victoria. Makonnen, who has black curly hair and a beard, wore a cloak of white silk, pantaloons, a shoulder cape of heavy white satin bordered with gold and a broad brimmed green felt bat. Three native chiefs who accompanied him were scarcely less gorgeous in their apparel while an African priest, carrying a heavy silver crozier, was the general's constant companion. Ras Makoppen's native followers carried guns and spears.

Among the other arrivals today were Prince Henry of Prussia, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir presumptive to the throne of Austria, the Prince of Austria. Crown Prince Gustaf of Sweden and Norway, Admiral Gervais, head of the French mission and Mgr. Merrie del Val, the papal

The scenes in the streets today were largely a repetition of those of Sunday. During most of the day they were even more prowded, many of the omnibus lines deserting the main thoroughfares and congested districts and running through back

Whitelaw Reid, the special sproy of the United States to the coronation, began a busy week today. During the afternoon be made a round of official calls at the embassies in a royal carriage, escorted by Lieutenant Colonel Sir Fleetwood Edwards, 'the extra equerry of his majesty, who is in special attendance on Mr. Reid. Tomorrow all the members of the American special embassy will probably be present at a big veception of the special ambassadors at Buckingham palace, though it is possible, in view of the fact that Mr. Reid and all his suite have previously been presented to the king, that they may be excused from attendance at the crowded function tomor-

State Dinner at Buckingham

Tomorrow night will occur the state dinner in the ball room of Buckingham palace to which all the coronation guests have been invited. The ball room has been elaborately decorated. There will be a large table for the king and the chief envoys at the end of the hall and fifteen smaller tables for the other guests. Reid will be seated at the king's table, where the princess of the Asturias (Princess Charles of Bourbon-Sicily, eldest sister of the king of Spain) will have the place of bonor on the sovereign's right. Princess Henry of Prusais will be seated on his majesty's left. Mr. Reid will be placed between the earl of Pembroke, lord steward of his majesty's household, and the maharajah of Gwalter, the most prominent of the Indian princes. Mrs. Reid will be scated at one of the smaller tables, between Prince sorge of Greece, who is an old friend, and Admiral Gervals, head of the French

Leaders in House Clash Over Civil Government Bill Under Discussion.

COMPARE CRUELTIES OF TWO WARS

Mahon Parades Andersonville Borror and Makes Prediction that American People Will Stand by the Boys in Blue.

WASHINGTON, June 23 .- Debate on the civil government bill warmed up in the house today and henceforth promises to be of a much livelier character. The increased interest is due to the injection into the debate of a comparison of the cruelties charged to have been practiced in the Philippines with those which occurred during the civil war. The subject has been lightly touched upon once or twice, but attracted little attention, until Mr. Growvenor of Ohio today revived the memories of the extremities to which Grant and Jackson were put to during the rebellion. This was followed late in the day by a speech from Mr. Mahon of Pennsylvania, in which he paraded the horrors of Andersonville and Libby prisons. He predicted that in the coming elections the American people would stand by "the boys in blue. Mr. Grosvenor in his speech also defended the rules of the house against the crititism passed upon them and paid a high tribute to Speaker Henderson's imkpartiality. Mr. De Armond of Missouri spoke at considerable length in opposition to the administration's Philippine policy. The other speakers today were: Messrs Olmstead of Pennsylvania, Williams of Illinois, Corliss of Michigan and W. W.

His Alleged Adherents Have Little to Say, While Allen Men Are Making More Noise About

the Exchengtor. (From a Staff Correspondent.)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 23 .- (Special Telegram.)-Nothing could be more striking than the contrast between condiions here on the eve of two fusion state conventions and at Lincoln last week, the night before the republican state convention. The Lincoln hotel lobbies and streets were overcrowded with visiting delegates and spectators, placards and badges announced the various competing candidates and open house headquarters warmed up enthusiasm among the followers of the different standards. Here at Grand Island only a few stragglers so far are to be seen on the streets, the hotels have been by no means overtaxed, just two candidates for governor, Vifquain and Coffin, have established headquarters, and everything betokens an empty seat circus when the ringmaster starts the performance tomorrow afternoon, despite predictions that the built

The situation as to probable nominees is still decidedly unsettled. The talk of Bryan is not so loud as was to have been expected, while the disposition of the populists to hang out for a populiet for the Kansas City and Chicago, is to be taken bead of the ticket is more strepuous. The out of the receiver's hands and Arthur E. local fusion paper is trying to start a Stilwell is to be reinstated as its president. he does not want to be considered.

Boosting for Allen

of the delegates will come on the morning

On the other side there is some talk of is, it is stated, to merge the Guardian ex-Senator Allen with the instruction that his plea for Bryan and suggestion that no patriotic fusionist has a right to refuse to respond to his party's call is really intended as a feeler to lead up to his own present. E. L. Martin, vice president of the | nomination. Sentiment is stronger, how-Guardian company, returned today from ever, for M. F. Harrington, if he could be induced to say he would take the nomination, and although a populist, he would be fairly acceptable to the democrats.

Of the democratic candidates, Smyth and Vifquain neither is particularly beholder to the populists. One prominent populist declares that Smyth can not get the populist endorsement, even if the democrats hold out for him till election is over. Another suggests that the way to make sure that the governorship is not stolen away from them is for the populists to go shead and nominate their man for gover and then appoint a conference committee to negotiate with the democrats the division of the nomination places on the ticket under the circumstances.

Minor Places Go Begging. No competition whatever is visible for the minor nominations, but the candidates for these will have to be sprung on the conven-

As to platform both conventions will be rabid on the corporation question. The leaders are convinced that their cause is desperate and that their only chance to stem the tide of republican prosperity lies in the most explicit declarations against the rallroads on everything that may recall a griev-

On national issues they will be against the government with the democrats on the administration attitude on trusts, on Cuba, on the Philippines, on everything. The made-to-order platform of the Douglas county populists is apparently not in high favor. It is too long and goes into details too much, says Chairman De France. We want to be specific, yet confine ourselves to general principles and broad policies." The resolutions adopted by the Holt county populists are more likely to set the pace for the populists. Chairmen of the Conventions Judge Travis of Cass will be temporary chairman for the democrats and also permanent chairman, if he has the convention well in hand. The temporary chairman for the populists will be chosen by the convention, those mentioned being former Governor Poynter and Judge Edward L. Adams. The committee chairmen will probably remain unchanged, providing Chairman DeFrance of the populists and Chairman Hall of the democrats are willing to serve. The wellgrounded fear that they will lose their identity as a political party will prevent the populists from consenting to any closer working arrangements with the democrata than they have already had-It is this apprehension that moves the opulists to to insist upon having a populist to head the ticket. Knowing that the governor has all the appointive offices, they are not willing to trust the democrats to be fair in the distribution of the pie. "The democratic governor would appoint no populist to office except on condition that he became a democrat and would exert himself to bring the rest of the populists into the democratic fold," said a well-known populist. "We will have none of that, especially when we don't know who will control the democratic party in the next national campaign. We don't propose to be swallowed just yet, not with our consent."

Maryville Editor is Made Chairman of Missouri State Repub-Henn Convention.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 22.-Several undred republicans are here tonight to attend the state convention, which meets tomorrow, to nominate a state ticket. The state committee had a meeting this afternoon and after a close contest selected fit. E. E. McJimsey of Maryville for temporary chairman and A. F. Schriper for temporary secretary. The election of McJimsey is victory for National Committeeman Kerene over State Chairman Akins, whose support went to Congressman Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis. The Akins men will control the convention and talk topight is that Barauthorities to close all gambling houses, thoidt will be made permanent chairman. This afternoon Chief of Police Paul issued or that this honor will go to B. P. Russell orders to close all gambling houses and of Steelville, candidate for congress in the keep them closed. Chief Paul says also that Sixteenth district. Chairman Akins will be the Sunday saloon closing law will be re-elected without opposition, as he has enough instructed delegates.
