TEACHERS COME OUT IN FORCE

Large Number Present for Opening Day of Work at the County Institute.

The enrollment yesterday at the Potlatch County Normal institute showed 245 teachers in attendance and it is expected that at least fifty more will enroll during this and next week.

The first session began promptly at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, with Prof. H. E. Kratz of Sioux City, Prof. Shuttleworth of Oakland, Mo., Prof. Cronier of Avoca, Ia., and Prof. Philbrook of Rock Island, Ill., in charge.

Superintendent McManus at the general exercises took occasion to express his appreciation of the co-operation of the teachers in making the institute a success. He said he expected as soon as the institute was over that most of the teachers present would start for Minneapolis to attend the National Educational association meeting.

The devotional exercises are a permanent part of the institute. The different ministers of the city are interested in the work and have offered to make any possible way to advance the cause of public education. Rev. Milford Riggs of the First Baptist church led the devotional exercises at the institute yesterday. Rev. Barnes, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, will conduct the exercises today. He will also give a address on the subject of "Our Public Schools" as viewed from the standpoint of the clergy.

Prof. Kratz' work in pedagogy is expected to prove a popular feature of the institute, as he can speak with authority on the subject, having held the chair of pedagogy in the South Dakota university previous to going to Sioux City, where he has been superintendent of the city schools for the last ten years.

Prof. Philbrook, who has charge of the music, is well known to the teachers of this county, as he has been instructor in that branch of the work at the last three institutes here.

These teachers from outside the city enrolled yesterday: Mrs. W. I. Lowry, Windsor, Neb.; Minnie Woodman, Macedonia, Ia.; B. Bay, Oakland; Ida Gathman, Treynor; Edith M. Oeler, Carson; Myrtle Lewis, Oakland.

Iowa State News Notes.

William Jones, who has been lying in a cell in the Fort Dodge jail, having for fear of men who he imagined were following him to kill him, has been declared insane. His attorney, Henry Gieseler, has secured his release. Liquor is alleged to have driven him crazy.

Myron Munstinger, Tabors' "cattle king," continues to close deals that entitle him to the name. He has sold about $500,000 worth of cattle within a year and has a herd with several hundred head left on hand. He was fully $500,000 when he returned from western Nebraska, where he had 1,000 head. These are heavy cattle and will be shipped to Tabors in two months. Then they will be fed for a brief time and sold before winter. Mr. Munstinger feels confident of an excellent market and safe profits.

Judge Roberts of Fairfield has granted a new trial in the damages suit of Mrs. E. Randall against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad. This case has been tried twice in the district court, the amount of the verdict being $5,000 in the first trial and $10,000 in the second. The jury awarded her damages for the amount of $10,000. The case was brought here from Kansas and has cost the county several thousand dollars.

Several farmers near Marshalltown whose crops were damaged by the recent high water and hail storms and who had begun the work of overcoming the damage done as much as they could, were surprised when they saw millet or buckwheat on the land where corn was at first planted and destroyed by the high water. E. W. Moore, who lives six miles south of Marshalltown and who lost a large field of corn by hail damage, is going to try to raise corn on the late roasting ears market, and expects to realize considerable profit out of the venture. Other farmers are going to replant their fields with corn for feed.

With left hand crushed and mangled in the belt caught in the relentless grasp of a joiner in the shop of C. W. Ackerman of Fort Dodge, a young man stood for fifteen minutes and directed his fellow workmen while they took the machine to pieces and it was carried to the office of a physician. It was found that his left hand was crushed between the base of the fourth finger diagonally across the hand, part of the thumb being taken. The little finger was unhurt and a stump of the fourth finger left. Careless use caused him to try to wash away shavings too close to the knives.

J. H. Parker of Malvern marketed four loads of cattle in Omaha that made him pretty good money. There were seventy-eight head in the bunch and he had fed them ninety days. He sold $1,500 for them and sold them for $3.50. They were cheap cattle, 1 and 2-year-olds, averaging 500 pounds each. He had a few calves and they averaged an even 1,000 when sold. This was a gain of 40 per cent in weight and 50 per cent in price, which any one can see makes a nice profit, even when corn is 50 cents a bushel. Mr. Parker says he thinks it always pays to feed this class of cattle in the spring.

Pair of Weddings.
Dr. Irving U. Parsons of Malvern, Ia., and Miss Minnie Williamson were married yesterday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Williamson, on Fourth avenue. Rev. W. S. Barnes, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. Dr. and Mrs. Parsons left in the afternoon for Spirit Lake, where they will spend their honeymoon before going to their home at Malvern. Dr. Parsons formerly lived in Council Bluffs and his bride has been one of the popular teachers in the city schools for several years.

A. C. Snyder and Miss Alice Chambers, both of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Snyder, 703 North Eighth street. Rev. G. W. Snyder, pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church officiated. A large number of relatives and friends were present. Following the ceremony refreshments were served on the spacious lawn. Mr. Snyder and his bride went to a home which the groom had prepared at 406 North Eighth street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 15.

The motor company will be compelled to take down the fence which it constructed across Third street at Manawa when enclosing Shady grove with the balance of the resort. It will have to keep this thoroughfare clear of obstructions from its intersection with Park avenue to the lake front and will also have to remove all obstructions it may now have across Park avenue, and it is expected that the motor company will be forced to fence in or obstructing either of these public highways.

This was in substance the ruling of Judge Scott of the superior court handed down yesterday in the proceedings brought by Christman & Roberts, property owners at Manawa, against the motor company from fencing in certain alleged public thoroughfares and enclosing them as part of the grounds of its resort at the lake.

Judge Scott held that the value of the plaintiffs' property in Manawa consisted partly in its proximity to the lake and partly in its accessibility to the resort. The plaintiffs contended that after the dedication of the plat of Manawa and streets therein, giving access to the lake, subsequent owners of portions of the plat could not vacate the thoroughfares so as to deprive the remaining owners of their access to the lake and Judge Scott in his ruling sustained this contention.

Regarding this phase of the dispute Judge Scott in his opinion said:

Synopsis of Opinion.
That the principal object and purpose in platting said ground was to place the same upon the market and dispose of the lot for the benefit of the public, and that the reason of its accessibility to Lake Manawa, and the fact that the same was a part of the public highway, is a fact which is not to be denied. The fact that the same was a part of the public highway, is a fact which is not to be denied. The fact that the same was a part of the public highway, is a fact which is not to be denied.

Referring to Park avenue Judge Scott held "that Park avenue, from the point of intersection on the west with the county road and its intersection on the east at Second street with the county road, is material and necessary to the property owners along Third street to gain access to the public highway and should not be closed or obstructed by the motor company, and that Third street is the street along which the motor company last year had its tracks and from which it had its main entrance to the resort. It ran between the resort proper and Shady grove on the east. This year the motor company, commencing at the north end of Shady grove, enclosed the resort by making the grove part of the resort, and thus shutting out the owners of lots on the street from access to the lake. Park avenue is the thoroughfare running east and west and directly north of the company's grounds where it had its tracks this year and made its entrance into the resort.

The plaintiffs asked that Portland avenue also be opened, but Judge Scott denied this on the grounds "that the same could be only used by the plaintiffs and the public in gaining access to the property of the defendant company and would only result in damaging the public enterprise, which the defendant company has undertaken to establish."

Must Comply with Order.
Judge Scott also holds that about 200 feet of the old public highway fronting on Lake Manawa running east from the foot of Third street had never been legally vacated, but that in its present condition without an outlet would be of no material benefit to either the public or the plaintiffs.

All Are Invited.
The Retail Grocers' association extends a hearty invitation for all those engaged in other pursuits to join them in their picnic next Thursday, June 26, at Jeffrey's grove, fourteen miles north of Council Bluffs. The train will leave the Illinois Central depot at 9 a. m. Round trip tickets, which also includes admission to the grounds, 50 cents. Children under 12 years of age free.

June 23, 1902.—The week was unseasonably cool, the average daily temperature at the central station being 12 degrees below normal. On the morning of the 21st and 22d the frost line was reached in numerous places but no material damage resulted. The rainfall was variable, ranging from a trace to three inches. In considerable portions of the state the soil was dry enough for cultivation of corn and dry progress has been made in cleaning the fields. In the dryer sections the corn crop is about ready to be laid by in promising condition.

The low temperature has been favorable for small grain, checking the tendency to rust and excessive growth of straw. For maturing and harvesting barley, oats and spring wheat there is need of dry weather and sunshine. Clover cutting is in progress, but conditions have not been favorable for securing the crop. Pastures and potatoes are doing well. Apples are doing fairly well, though the crop as a whole is considerably below the average. All fruits have been generally disappointing this season, but garden vegetables have made bulky growth.

FIRING OUT BOGUS CLAIMANTS

Inspectors from Land Office Unearth Scheme to Capture Much Public Domain.

SIoux CITY, Ia., June 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Hundreds of bogus claims and other papers in Iowa and Nebraska were discovered by inspectors from the land office in the vicinity of Pierre, Chamberlain and elsewhere where they have paid or are liable for perjury for proving up their claims. A small army has taken up claims upon the representation that actual residence was unnecessary. The inspectors assert that professional "locators" are at work making such representations and engaged in the work of protecting the claimant when the inspectors come around. This organization has a gang of men keeping fires lighted at the shanties, and when the inspectors come around someone is on hand who will give the information that Mr. So-and-So has gone to Sioux City for a few days, or elsewhere, as the case may be. The inspectors say that, attracted by the prospect of making claims, hordes of speculators have gone into the Dakotas and filed on claims, upon which they never had any intention of becoming bona fide residents. All these will have to go out. As an example of the seriousness of the intentions of the inspectors, at Chamberlain on June 14, nineteen claims were canceled and on the 14th forty claims were declared null.

Meat Trains Change Lines.

CRESTON, Ia., June 24.—(Special.)—An important change that will materially benefit the city of Creston and the packing houses of St. Joseph has been announced in the running of the meat trains out of St. Joseph. It is understood, upon generally reliable authority, that the meat trains, 130 and 131, which now run over the Chicago & North Western, will be discontinued. They will be run from Kansas City by way of Creston, being consolidated at this place with fast freight No. 70. Going west the service will be given to No. 73.
