

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $1.00...

OFFICES: Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—City Hall Building, Twentieth and M Street...

Remit by draft, express or postal order, payable to The Bee Publishing Company, 107 North 16th Street, Omaha, Neb.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION: State of Nebraska, Douglas County, Neb. George B. Tschuck, Secretary of the Bee Publishing Company...

Net total sales, 908,889. Net daily average, 29,319.

Subscribed in advance and sworn to before me this 21st day of May, A. D. 1902. M. B. HUNGATE, Notary Public.

King Edward's bedside is now the focal point of the world's news.

Hereafter the main abode of the fusion circus will be pulled off in the democratic tent.

The weather man is admonished to take another look at the calendar and hurry up the late consignments.

The ocean steamship combine should now let its coronation schedule of passenger rates down a notch or two.

Our Dave says he is coming straight to Omaha as soon as congress adjourns. What will Atlantic City do without him?

It is now Dr. Theodore Roosevelt, but we will continue to address him as President Roosevelt for some time to come.

Nebraska populists may now enjoy the rare privilege of serving as hewers of wood and drawers of water for the Democratic animals.

According to latest information, Mont Pelée is still a warm number, although public interest in its indisposition has perceptibly cooled off.

It will take a "big giant," to say nothing of a "little giant," to carry the Nebraska forces of calamity to victory in the midst of republican prosperity.

Among the recipients of coronation honors, Sir Thomas Lipton is to be a peer of England. As a true sportsman he has long ago been voted the peer of anyone.

Whenever the franchised corporations are willing to compromise on a figure for their tax assessment we may be sure that the other taxpayers are getting the worst of it.

King Edward's coronation festival has been declared off, but King Ak-Sar-Ben's coronation carnival will be held on schedule time, subject only to the acts of God.

By the adoption of the conference report on the Panama bill, which is sure to receive the signature of the president, another of the pledges in the last republican national platform is redeemed.

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinese is reputed to be peculiar. When it comes to peculiarity, however, the fusion statesmen in Nebraska will not have to give way to the heathen Chinese.

It was a two-ring show at Grand Island and the continuous performance lasted twenty-four hours without interruption. Riddle: How long would it have taken to drop the curtain had there been three rings as formerly instead of only two?

If the signs are read aright, a grand battle is in the air between rival telegraph companies, and if it is a fight to a finish it will end only one of two ways—either the stronger will swallow the weaker or the government will swallow both into a postal telegraph system.

South Dakota populists have submitted to voluntary merger into the democratic corporation of that state, trading off even their separate name in the bargain for a chance at the spoils.

In Nebraska the absorption merger has not yet been completed, but it is well under way.

Items have been added to the general deficiency bill before congress to the amount of $600,000 to help pay the deficits of the Buffalo and Charleston expositions. It must be a gratifying recollection of all connected with the Omaha exposition that it inherited no deficit with which to wailay congress.

FISSION CONFUSION. The populist and democratic conventions just held at Grand Island, to put in nomination a state ticket for the coming campaign, have afforded a striking illustration of the confusion of fusion.

The purpose of fusion is twofold. First, each party to the compact is struggling to fool the other party into the belief that it is furnishing the bulk of the fusion votes and therefore entitled to the bulk of the offices; and, second, both together are endeavoring to fool the people into the belief that they are still really two great political parties unselfishly joined together to accomplish patriotic purposes.

As to the ticket and platform, they are precisely what was to be expected out of a mass of heterogeneous and conflicting interests, with no common purpose except to divide between them the patronage of the state government.

Their platforms are radical on nearly every issue they touch. Their extreme partisanship is disclosed in the arraignment of the republicans for offenses of which the fusion officers were equally, if not more, guilty when they were in control of the state house.

When the question of revising the assessments of these corporations was before the city council a grossly inadequate valuation was agreed to in the form of a compromise under the pretense of the corporations that a large part of their property and business was situated outside of the limits of the city of Omaha and, therefore, not subject to municipal taxation.

When the question of revising the assessments of these corporations was before the city council a grossly inadequate valuation was agreed to in the form of a compromise under the pretense of the corporations that a large part of their property and business was situated outside of the limits of the city of Omaha and, therefore, not subject to municipal taxation.

Now that the republican administration is seeking the enforcement of the anti-trust law the democrats are not satisfied, complaining because it has not instituted criminal proceedings, instead of taking the more direct way of remedying abuses through injunction.

SENATE CANAL BILL ADOPTED. The house of representatives having adopted the senate canal bill, known as the Spooner substitute, that question is disposed of and in a way that will be satisfactory to a very large majority of the people of the country who have given intelligent attention to it.

County Clerk Miller has come to the conclusion that county officers ought to be elected to serve four years instead of two years as now, and he is inviting opinions of other county clerks throughout the state on the same subject with a view to promoting legislation having that purpose.

Mr. Bryan means to remain active in politics, accepting any leadership that may be offered him in national affairs, and assuming such leadership when it is not offered.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

company of France on the Isthmus of Panama, provided a satisfactory title to such property can be obtained. He is further authorized to acquire from the republic of Colombia exclusive and perpetual control of a strip of land six miles wide extending from the Caribbean sea to the Pacific ocean, with other concessions necessary to the construction, operation and maintenance of the canal.

Washington Post. The gentlemen gathered at the home of the late Richard P. Bland last week for the purpose of unveiling a monument to his memory were conspicuous in the work of plotting the great silver advocate out of the democratic nomination in 1896.

The king of England ordering that all loyal subjects engaged in any way to include the queen as well as himself, and the emperor of Germany leading the students of Bonn in cheers for his empress are setting notable examples as appreciative husbands.

Europeans continue denouncing the American invasion, but they are not making any strenuous efforts, seemingly, to resist it. In amount of human indignation or policy will do away with the natural law of the survival of the fittest and as long as American goods are the fittest they will survive those of European competitors.

The democrats attack the trusts as if they alone were opposed to trust abuses, ignoring the fact that the republican party was the first to declare opposition to monopolistic combinations and enacted the only federal law against them.

Is there a genuine democrat anywhere who can make a speech on party affairs without receiving unpleasant attention from various harmonizers in all parts of the country who are armed with brickbats and decayed vegetables?

General Wheaton has a philosophical way of looking at the situation in the Philippines, where he has been on duty for the last three years. He sees compensations for the ravages of war where Senator Hoar can see none.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

act of benevolence. The effect of gaining the friendship of the population of France was worth far more than the cost of the expedition.

Washington Post. The gentlemen gathered at the home of the late Richard P. Bland last week for the purpose of unveiling a monument to his memory were conspicuous in the work of plotting the great silver advocate out of the democratic nomination in 1896.

The king of England ordering that all loyal subjects engaged in any way to include the queen as well as himself, and the emperor of Germany leading the students of Bonn in cheers for his empress are setting notable examples as appreciative husbands.

Europeans continue denouncing the American invasion, but they are not making any strenuous efforts, seemingly, to resist it. In amount of human indignation or policy will do away with the natural law of the survival of the fittest and as long as American goods are the fittest they will survive those of European competitors.

The democrats attack the trusts as if they alone were opposed to trust abuses, ignoring the fact that the republican party was the first to declare opposition to monopolistic combinations and enacted the only federal law against them.

Is there a genuine democrat anywhere who can make a speech on party affairs without receiving unpleasant attention from various harmonizers in all parts of the country who are armed with brickbats and decayed vegetables?

General Wheaton has a philosophical way of looking at the situation in the Philippines, where he has been on duty for the last three years. He sees compensations for the ravages of war where Senator Hoar can see none.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

A New Domain

New lands for great masses of people will be created by the irrigation of the arid sections of the Rocky mountain region and Pacific coast.

The gentlemen gathered at the home of the late Richard P. Bland last week for the purpose of unveiling a monument to his memory were conspicuous in the work of plotting the great silver advocate out of the democratic nomination in 1896.

The king of England ordering that all loyal subjects engaged in any way to include the queen as well as himself, and the emperor of Germany leading the students of Bonn in cheers for his empress are setting notable examples as appreciative husbands.

Europeans continue denouncing the American invasion, but they are not making any strenuous efforts, seemingly, to resist it. In amount of human indignation or policy will do away with the natural law of the survival of the fittest and as long as American goods are the fittest they will survive those of European competitors.

The democrats attack the trusts as if they alone were opposed to trust abuses, ignoring the fact that the republican party was the first to declare opposition to monopolistic combinations and enacted the only federal law against them.

Is there a genuine democrat anywhere who can make a speech on party affairs without receiving unpleasant attention from various harmonizers in all parts of the country who are armed with brickbats and decayed vegetables?

General Wheaton has a philosophical way of looking at the situation in the Philippines, where he has been on duty for the last three years. He sees compensations for the ravages of war where Senator Hoar can see none.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

Under existing political conditions in the United States public interests are best served by concentrating even balance in the numerical strength and popular prestige of the two leading parties.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

That he will give no countenance to those democrats who could not conscientiously support him in his race for the presidency, except on what he knows to be the impossible condition of confession of sin, pleas for admission to the Bryan ranks and a term of probationary membership.

WHERE BRITAIN EXCELS.

Deaths from Railroad Accidents in England and America.

We were aware that the number and percentage of deaths from railroad accidents is very much smaller in Great Britain than in the United States, but a recent report of the British Board of Trade contains the almost incredible statement that in the whole of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales not one passenger was killed last year in railroad train accidents.

The number of railroad employees killed and injured in this country is shockingly large every year—very much greater than the number in all the countries of Europe combined.

Philadelphia Press: "There's no progress about him." But he's still doing business at the old stand, isn't he?

New York Sun: "Yes, papa, Jack says he expects his income will be doubled this year."

Chicago Post: "No, George," said the girl regretfully, "I'll not sit in the hammock with you this evening. Papa has attached the word 'device' to it that registers the weight."

Detroit Free Press: "Don't you think she's a model mother?" "Why, her children are little terrorists!" "Yes, but she writes such good papers for our mothers' meetings."

Chicago Tribune: Girl with the Gibson Girl Neck—Fan Hillwig has begun to show her teeth in a most unbecoming manner. Girl with the Julia Marlowe Dimple—I should say not. She's begun to try to hit it.

New York Sun: Midge—Dolly is going somewhere with that young man this evening. Marjorie—Yes, going to sit with him in the hammock. Right after dinner she'll get upstairs and put on a dark shirtwaist.

Detroit Free Press: "There is only one place where an American is content to have another's hand on his shoulder," remarked the business man. "I'm sure it gave me indignation."

Washington Star: "Why should we care so much for gold?" asked the philosopher. "We care for it as much as we used to," answered Senator Borah; "I'd rather have sugar or oil or several other things than gold these days."

YOUNG LOCHINVAR UP TO DATE. S. E. Kiser in the Record-Herald.

Oh, young Lochinvar came out to the west; He claimed that his automobile was the best; It was painted dark red and it brilliantly shone; He went like a streak and he rode all alone; He shot over tufts with a sloop and a jar, And another fled madly from young Lochinvar.

With a whirl of his wheels and a hum of his cog; He knocked down the children and ran over dogs; He frightened the horses and laughed at their pranks; And men who got mad he regarded as cranks; He gave her the very last notch on the bar, And a cloud of dust followed the gay Lochinvar.

He stayed not at bridges, he stopped not for stone; He calmly took all of the road as his own; 'Till he came to a crossing and smothered through a gate; And endeavored to butt through a trainload of freight; They searched and at last, lying under a car, They found a few chunks of the bold Lochinvar.

The lady sat waiting to hear the loud hum; That would tell her the gallant had finally come; But she waited with sighs and she waited in vain; Those car wheels bore many a sickening stain; And, to show you how pitiless some people are; They said it was good for the young Lochinvar.

Thousands Upon Thousands of Youths' Stylish Suits. Ages 12 to 20 years. Several thousand dollars worth. This has proven to be one of the most successful deals we have ever made, showing conclusively the strong demand for the highest class youths' clothing.