

Wet Weather is Controlling Factor in Bull-Wholesale Market. CORN TOUCHES SEVENTY-CENT MARK. Data Also Reach Record Price in Strong Pit, While Wheat Prices Higher, but Ease Off. Though Closing Up.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Wet weather again caused fair returns in grains today, but the absence of any liberal outside business and clearing of the market has restricted gains to some extent. September wheat closed higher, July corn, September corn, 70c; July oats, 19c; higher, provisions closed unchanged 1/2c to 3/4c higher.

September wheat opened 1/4c higher at 70c; July corn, 70c; September corn, 70c; July oats, 19c; higher, provisions closed unchanged 1/2c to 3/4c higher. Corn still showed marked strength on the demand for export, and the market reported generally in the corn belt, but wheat was a little lower in price for the week. The feature of the day was in the opening of the futures market, which showed a strong upward movement, but later in the day it was checked by a heavy selling of the pit, however, for some time and worked against higher prices. Receipts of wheat for the week were 1,000,000 bushels, compared with 500,000 last year. Seasonal receipts in wheat for the week totaled 70,000 bushels.

BAD DIGESTION. Imperfect digestion is more serious and far-reaching in its effect than is generally understood. This state of health is like a poison gate-way to disease. As a germ that may be in the air we breathe at once seizes such an opportunity to attack the vital organs. They slowly undermine the strength and energy, and collapse comes—usually at a time when a strong body is most needed.
