Rumor that it Will Soon Begin Extension to the Pacific.

WILL GIVE COMPETITION TO HILL LINES

Beavy Rain Makes Trouble for Some Roads-Rock Island May Discontinue Use of Union Parific Tracks.

That the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line to the Pacific coast is admitted in railway circles. It is also confirmed that completion of this important piece of work. The exact amount which has been laid aside for this purpose is said to be $20,000,000. Not all of this may be used in the actual is to be consumed by the Milwaukee in protecting its interests in the northwest from

The reason for the Milwaukee's decision to hasten the extension of its line to the Pacific is said to be the angression of the Great Northern to build into what is commonly known as Milwaukee territory. It was generally admitted during the Northern Pacific-Burlington flurry in Wall street last year that James J. Hill was not only reaching out for the Burlington, but also had his eye on the property of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and it was even reported at one time durng this period of railroad speculation that the Minnesota magnate had actually acquired control of the coveted line. This report later proved to be incorrect.

Hill's purpose, it was said, in attempting the purchase of the Milwaukee, was to shut off another competing line to the Pacific coast, which even then it was believed would, sooner or later, develop from the Milwaukee. His failure in absorbing this possible rival had the effect of stimulating his determination to beat the Milwaukee in all events and his means of accomplishing that feat, as has been shown, is to penetrate the territory in the northwest traversed, or likely to be traversed, by the Milwaukee, wherever this is possible.

The Milwaukee's western terminus is at Evarts, S. D., and its purpose is to run its to Helena, to which Hill's Great Northern diverts on its Butte spur. Having reached Helena, the Milwaukee will then proceed to the coast by way of Lolo pass, terminating at Seattle, Hill's great stronghold. ness and liver and kidney troubles. Try a

There is nothing which the Hill forces can do now, it is believed, to offset or obstruct these plans of the Milwaukee, and the latter company has determined to proceed with its scheme as rapidly as possible. There is talk of the Great Northern extending its line from Aberdeen, S. D., out to Evarts, on a straight line, thus paralleling the Milwaukee tracks, but should such a plan be followed it could not be relied upon to defeat any of the larger plans laid by the Milwaukee.

Rains Cause Washouts.

The Union Pacific Colorado special which is due here at 7 o'clock in the morning was delayed several hours yesterday. There has been considerable delay in Union Pacific trains during the past two or three days, especially since Monday evening. Officials at headquarters declare that this is not due to trouble with strikers or engine failures, but to the heavy rains which have caused washouts along the route. At Ogalalla, as was reported in The Bee Tuesday, the track was injured and this

The irregularity in train service is not, however, confined to the Union Pacific. Depot officials say almost all the roads have experienced similar trouble during the last few days, the rains causing damage to tracks in a number of localities. Testerday morning scarcely a train reached the Union station on time.

Rock Island's Denver Scheme.

The Rock Island is credited with a scheme to build a cut-off that will enable that road to abandon the Union Pacific tracks over which it now reaches Denver and enter that city over the tracks of an associated line. The annual payment of an enormous rental for the Union Pacific tracks has led the Rock Island officials at last to conclude that a more profitable plan could be adopted and that it lies in the construction of a shorter route of its own.

There is also some speculation of the Rock Island undertaking a more direct route from here to Wichita, Kan. It has been a source of wonder among railroad men for some time that this road did not decide upon this course. It is not definitely known that the plan has yet been adopted, but there is talk to that effect. The International Mining congress meets this year in Butte, Mont., from September 1 to 5, and the Burlington has arranged for special rates to and from this meeting. They will be a one-fare rate plus $2, and tickets will be sold August 22, 23, 28 and 29, with a time limit until September 10. Marriage Licenses.

GOLDIE COMPANY FIGURES

Takes Million Dollar Contract to Put Up Art Building at St. Louis.

The Goldie Construction company, which did a considerable part of the erection of the buildings for the Transmississippi exposition in Omaha, has just been awarded the contract for the art palace at the World's fair at St. Louis. This building is to be the largest of any at the exposition and the cost is $945,127.50. The Goldie company had already secured the electricity and machinery building, not far distant.

The contract for the art building was delayed some weeks because of a difficulty over expense which was finally adjusted in a peculiar manner. A change from Pittsburg brick to Missouri brick in a part morning information was given out at head- of the structure was what reduced the cost quarters that some two or three hundred of construction sufficiently for the directors feet of track at that place had been washed to conscientiously let the contract. The der in the first place, but its offer was $1.038.000. The directors did not think it proper to allow as much as $1,000,000 for this building and as all the bidders were agreed that it could never be built for less on those plans, a conference was held between Director of Works Taylor and a representative of Cass Gilbert, who designed the building. Some modifications of size, design or decoration it was thought would be necessary, but the conference developed the fact that a mere change in the brick would make a difference in expense of almost $100,000, so this was done. No change will, therefore, be made in design or decorative effects.

Advertising was the matter chiefly disussed last night, as it was agreed that the time for the heavy work along that line was coming. One important step taken was a decision to send to all Christian churches a petition for the members to sign in great numbers and submit to their daily newspapers. The petitions will request the newspapers to demand from the Associated Press detailed accounts of the convention in Omaha. It is expected that by bringing such pressure to bear the Associated Press will be persuaded to handle the affair at great length.

Other plans for advertising, as outlined by Chairman Maupin of the press committee, are for space from now on with the companies which sell patent insides to country newspapers. Mr. Maupin stated that such syndicate matter reached 75 per cent of the readers of the country from the Great Lakes to the Rocky mountains and he anticipated great results from having attention paid to the convention in such news matter. In addition to this, announcement of the convention will be sent individually to 30,000 newspapers of the United States.

Showing at Bethany. Nebraska State Christian Church convention, to be held at Bethany, near Lincoln, beginning August 5 next, was especially urged, so that interest in the national convention may be worked up among the state people present there. A national convention headquarters will be maintained at Bethany and everything done to boost the Omaha affair. In many other ways will the convention be widely advertised. Representatives of the local committee will be present at all district and state Christian church conventions in the country to speak for it, and an endless chain letter scheme may Want Royalty Paid.

It was reported yesterday that a protest would be made against the proposed extension of the Omaha Water company's franchise. The objection seems to be in line with the general policy of the city government to exact a royalty from all corporations. With the exception mentioned there seems to be no objection to the granting of an extension of the franchise as desired What some of the citizens would like would be a 5 per cent royalty on the amount of revenue. Against this, however, is the proposition of the water company for fortyeight hydrants free for two years providing the extension of franchise is granted or a new contract entered into. The rental of forty-eight hydrants for two years would amount to over $5,000 and this would be much more than the royalty would amount to.
