

PARDONS FOR THE FOURTH

Barney McGinn, Sent Up from Omaha on Murder Charge, Among Them.

OMAHA CONVICT TAKES FRENCH LEAVE

Charles Hinkle, a Trusty, Departs with a Suit of Clothes Belonging to Deputy Warden and is Still at Large.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—A special order on the death of former department Commander H. C. Russell was issued today from the state headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Russell is buried as a private in Company H, Second Iowa Infantry, April 1, 1861, for the term of three years; was wounded at Shiloh, April 4, 1862, and again in northern Alabama in March, 1864. He was also prominent in the political life of his state, having served as commissioner of public lands and buildings as a member of the house of representatives, and at the time of his death was a member of the visiting and examining board of the Soldiers and Sailors' homes and postmaster at Schuyler, Neb.

Pardon for Barney McGinn.

Before leaving for Seattle last Monday Governor Savage ordered the pardon of three convicts at the penitentiary, all to be liberated on the morning of July 4. The fortunate prisoners are Barney McGinn, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder committed in Omaha eleven years ago, and Charles H. Park and Giltner Wright, sentenced to three years' imprisonment for an assault upon a woman in Madison county. McGinn's sentence is commuted to six years and three months, the time being reckoned from the day of his incarceration in the penitentiary. The sentences of Park and Wright are commuted to one year, three months and nineteen days.

Although ordered to take place on July 4, these pardons are no different from those given at any other time. The statutes make special provision for Fourth of July pardons, but the conditions are different from those existing in the case of either of the men to whom executive clemency has in this instance been extended, the law providing:

That on the 4th day of July in each year the governor of this state may, in his own discretion, grant and issue an unconditional pardon to two convicts in the penitentiary who have been confined therein for ten years or more and whose conduct while incarcerated in the penitentiary has been such as to entitle him or her to the benefit of the good laws of the state.

Omaha Convict Escapes.

Convict Charles Hinkle, colored, from Omaha, escaped from the penitentiary Tuesday afternoon and thus far the prison authorities have been unable to find any trace of him. Hinkle was one of the officers of the colored Episcopal church in Omaha. At the penitentiary he was a "trusty." Tuesday morning he donned a suit of clothes belonging to the deputy warden and put his convict uniform over it. While at work in an unguarded part of the farm in the afternoon he slipped on, uniform and made his escape without difficulty.

The will of the late Geno M. Lambertson, executed in 1898, was filed for probate in the county court today. The petition accompanying the will schedules property of an aggregate value of $50,000. One-fifth of this is in Lancaster county real estate, $15,000 is in real estate in other counties and $25,000 is personal property. He gives $300 to each of his three sisters, Mrs. G. H. Elgin and Mrs. U. M. Challis of Indianapolis, and Mrs. I. B. Laville of Washington, D. C., and $50 to each of his nephews and nieces. One-third of his entire estate is given to his wife, Mary Sherwood Lambertson, aged 19, and Elizabeth Sherwood Lambertson, an infant. His little daughter, deceased last January, is mentioned in the will, and provision is made that any child born after his execution shall share equally with the others.

Plans for New Paving.

With the prospect of an increase in the revenue from taxation, the local city authorities are planning for considerable repaving during the next few months. Deputy Attorney Fleharty started out this morning with petitions for four different districts and secured the signature of nearly every property owner approached. They are for the repaving of O street from Sixteenth to Twenty-first, M street from Tenth to Eleventh, Ninth street from P to R and Seventh street from Q to R.

The Lancaster County Board of Commissioners this afternoon issued an order to the Nebraska Telephone company to produce its annual statement of income and profits during the year 1901. Yesterday the board visited the company's office in Omaha and was denied permission to examine this statement. The board is sitting as a board of equalization.

Dr. J. T. Hay of this city has been appointed first assistant physician at the Hospital for the Insane, near Lincoln, to succeed Dr. W. D. Shields, who has resigned to resume his practice in Holdrege. The appointment takes effect July 15. Dr. Hay was formerly superintendent of the institution, serving under the administration of Governor Crouse.

Mayor Winnick has issued a proclamation prohibiting the discharge of dynamite and cannon crackers tomorrow. He grants special temporary privileges for other forms of celebration, but insists that the dangerous cannon crackers will not be tolerated.

Beatrice Man Prostrated by Heat.

BEATRICE, Neb., July 3.—(Special Telegram.)—The thermometer showed a temperature of 92 in the shade today and the humidity was excessive. Lars Hanson of this city was overcome by heat and is in a critical condition.

PLATTSBROUGH, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—The Cass county mortgage record for June is: Farm mortgages filed, $42,283; released, $28,299. City mortgages filed, $1,945; released, $4,610.

Geneva May Place Water Meters.

GENEVA, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—Last night a mass meeting was held for the discussion of the advisability of putting in water meters. The majority seems to be in favor of the city rather than the individuals, placing the meters.

MELLOR EXHIBITS INTEGRITY

Ex-Treasurer of School District Reimburses Treasury with Outlawed Sum Lost in Bank Failure.

LOUIE CITY, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—A notable act of honesty was displayed here Monday at the annual school meeting, when W. R. Mellor replenished the treasury with $1,335.29, which amount was deposited by him as treasurer of the district in the Sherman County bank and was lost with the breaking of the bank in 1898. The district took no judgment for the amount and the liability has long since been outlawed.

During the meeting Monday Mr. Mellor walked up to the treasurer and handed him the full sum in cash. The move was wholly unexpected by all and has brought forth many expressions of praise.

Railway Change Booms Sutton.

SUTTON, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—The B. & M. has purchased the Kansas City & Omaha railroad. A connecting switch has been put in west of town and now all trains running on the Kansas City & Omaha arrive and leave from the B. & M. station. The roundhouse, turntables and other outfits of the division station at Fairfield have been moved to Sutton, making this the division point. Twenty-five families will remove from Fairfield to Sutton. The payroll of the crews will amount to $30,000 a year.

Houses to rent are in demand and impossible to get. The B. & M. contemplates other extensive improvements, including among other things a railroad eating house.

Delinquent with Premium Funds.

BEATRICE, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—From present prospects Gage county will have no fair this year, as the money to pay off last year's premiums has not yet been raised. The amount required was estimated by the board in 1901 and afterward placed on the tax list and collected from the taxpayers. The bill for the amount, $994, was filed shortly after the last fair last year, but was rejected by the board. Their action was reconsidered at a later meeting and the claim was favorably reported on, but has been dragged along ever since without being allowed.

Deluge Strikes Howard County.

ST. PAUL, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—Another heavy downpour extended over Howard county Tuesday night. At this point the precipitation was 1.64 inches, but both at Elba and Farwell it reached the high mark of four inches. Cotesdale also reported 4 inches, Dannebrog 2.50 inches and Ouchung 1.60. All the streams are carrying a large volume of water. While no serious damage has been inflicted upon small grain, the work of harvesting is being badly hindered.

Recreants Are Reconciled.

FREMONT, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—It is reported that the recreation law has been effected at Hooper between Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan is the woman who came from Denver several weeks ago and left her infant on the counter at her brother-in-law's place of business in Hooper, because he did not tell her where her husband was.

To Rush New Bridge Construction.

PLATTSBROUGH, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—C. H. Carlidge of Chicago chief bridge engineer for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway, and I. S. Weeks of Lincoln, chief engineer for the B. & M., were in the city yesterday to make final arrangements for the beginning of the work on the new Burlington steel bridge at this point.

To Defeat Threshers' Trust.

FREMONT, Neb., June 3.—(Special.)—Farmers who have much grain to cut are becoming considerably stirred up over the threshing machine trust. A few owners have not gone into the combine, but they will be able to handle only a small part of the grain. The men who own their farms

Woman's Work in Club and Charity

Now that the biennial is over and the responsibility of its entertainment passed, the club women of California are giving attention to an effort to secure for their state courts for juvenile offenders, and are going about it with a zeal and earnestness that promises to result successfully. The work was commenced over two years ago at the civic department of the California club of San Francisco, the primary work having been conducted by Dr. Dorothy Moore, chairman of the department. She has recently issued an appeal for the united effort of the women of the state in behalf of a bill providing for juvenile courts, which is to be presented to the next session of the legislature. Inspired by the reports of the success of juvenile courts in other states, as given at one of the sessions of the biennial, the women have gone about the task with a will which will be increased when the clubs resume their meetings in the fall.

A carefully prepared program of the executive meeting of the international council, which is to be held in Copenhagen, Denmark, July 10 and 11, has just been issued by the National Council of Women of Denmark, which organization is to act as hostess of the executive meeting. The program has been issued through its president, Frau Charlotte Norris, and includes among the social features a visit to the Castle of Kronberg.

The Rhode Island Federation of Women's Clubs has just concluded a midsummer meeting to hear the reports of its biennial delegates, and among the announcements of more than local interest is that giving its reason for not standing by Massachusetts in its plan of reorganization. It will be remembered that the Rhode Island federation was the only one of the New England federations that did not support the Massachusetts plan, and the delegates from that state say that they reached their decision because convinced that the Georgia compromise amendment offered a working plan which need not disrupt the General Federation as the Massachusetts plan threatened to do. Rhode Island's interpretation of the Georgia amendment admitted the eligibility of colored clubs, and the women felt that in accepting it they in no way sacrificed their principles, for the color question promised to adjust itself in time if only the federation could be kept together.

Monday evening's gospel meeting at the Young Women's Christian association will be led by Mrs. Arthur Chase. The membership committee has announced an ice cream social to be held at the association rooms on next Thursday evening for the benefit of the committee's work. The regular monthly board meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

It is probable that no department of the Omaha Women's club will feel the loss of Mrs. W. W. Keyser, as will the art department, of which she has been leader for so many years. Upon her election to the presidency of the club last spring Mrs. Keyser withdrew from the leadership of the department, and Mrs. M. B. Lewis was elected her successor.

Recently Mrs. Lewis felt it necessary to resign the leadership and no little concern was felt for the coming season's work, especially as the department was to be deprived of the assistance of its former leader. A meeting of the executive committee was called recently, at which it was decided to adopt a new plan for the management of the work this winter. Six women will be appointed to conduct the general work, each to be responsible for two meetings. In this way different women will be

TRACY IS HARD TO CATCH

Escaped Oregonian Still Eludes the Officers Who Are After Him.

KILLS ONE MAN AND WOUNDS THREE

Has Battle with Sheriff's Posse After Leaving Larch, but Comes Out Unhurt and Manages to Get Away.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 3.—Tracy, the escaped Oregon convict, in a battle with a Seattle posse near Bothell this evening shot and instantly killed Charles Raymond, a deputy sheriff from Everett, who joined the pursuers, and dangerously wounded Deputy John Williams of this city. Carl Anderson, a newspaper man, was slightly grazed on the arm. Louis Zeeff, another reporter, was wounded in the face. So intense is the excitement over the killing of Raymond and the wounding of Williams that an effort is being made to have Governor McBride call out the state militia. Tracy was last seen below Bothell and was headed for Seattle in a wagon. A special train, carrying more than twenty-five men armed with Winchester, has left for the scene. The first posse was composed of Deputy Sheriffs Williams, Nelson, McGee, Detmice and Snyder.

Tracy was seen walking the track of the Seattle & International railroad about 7:30 this morning by Jack Freeman, night watchman at the State university. He at once notified the sheriff's office and the posse of fugitives was sent to search for him. Tracy was soon joined by a number of citizens.

According to the late reports, Tracy was concealed in a cabin on the banks of Squak slough, two miles from Bothell. When the posse came in sight Tracy commenced firing. Williams and Raymond were both hit. Tracy then receded and concealed himself in the cabin. Anderson claims to have fired three times at Tracy, but does not know whether he hit him.

Colonel Gullberg was at Issaquah when word of the battle was first received and immediately left for Bothell. Winchesters have been provided by a local hardware store and the hunt for Tracy is now in its earnest.

NEWS OF ENGLISH EXPLORER

Harry De Windt and Party Picked Up by Thetis on Siberian Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—News brought by the steamer St. Paul from the Arctic says the English explorer, Harry De Windt, and his party, were picked up on the Siberian coast, probably at Indian Point, by the United States revenue cutter Thetis, under the command of Captain Healy, about the middle of June.

De Windt is attempting to go from Paris to New York, and if he reaches Nome he will be sure to succeed.

LONDON, July 3.—Considerable relief was expressed by Harry De Windt's friend on the receipt of the news from San Francisco that he and his party, which started December 19 last from Paris in an attempt to travel overland from the French capital to New York, had been picked up on the Siberian coast by the United States revenue cutter Thetis. On the day of his departure from London, De Windt correctly forecasted the future, saying to a representative of the Associated Press: "If the ice conditions in Bering strait do not permit walking a United States revenue cutter will pick us up and the expedition may be expected in July, via America."

May Discard Power Engines.

YORK, Neb., July 3.—(Special.)—A number of manufacturers of York are contemplating running their plants by electricity. It is said that the York Electric Light company can furnish the different manufacturers of this city their power at a less price than they can buy coal and pay an engineer's salary. Already two or three manufacturers have agreed to discard their gasoline engine and steam plants.

Young Aeronaut Killed in Kentucky Said to Be Leo Stevens, the Inventor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 3.—The Post today says: The young aeronaut, who died this afternoon as the result of injuries sustained in an attempt to descend in a parachute from a bomb fired in the air at a performance of "Last Days of Pompeii," on the common opposite Churchill Downs, last night, is said to be Leo Stevens of New York, an inventor who was entered in the St. Louis exposition airship tests in competition with Santos-Dumont.

He is said to have a shop on Long Island, where he has been experimenting with aerial navigation and has so far succeeded that he had secured a patent on his airship and was going to do battle with Santos-Dumont in the coming contest at St. Louis.

When he was carried to the city hospital he gave his name as Dull, though his employers stated they did not know his real name.

SHIP COMBINE NOT HARMFUL

Englishman Who Says Morgan Syndicate Need Not Be Feared.

HEAD OF GREAT SHIPBUILDING CONCERN

Combination Will Be a Good Thing by Stimulating Other Ship Owners to Keep More Abreast of the Times.

LONDON, July 3.—The committee of the House of Commons appointed to inquire into the question of subsidies today heard William J. Pirrie, chairman of the Harland & Wolff Shipbuilding company.

This witness, who figured so prominently in the recent J. P. Morgan shipping combination, expressed the opinion that subsidies were given inefficiently and served to encourage inefficiency and that even where they could be legitimately bestowed the tendency of subsidies would be to foster individual as against general interests.

Mr. Pirrie regarded foreign subsidies as a blessing in disguise, as they stimulated other shipowners to keep more abreast of the times.

Replying to a question of the chairman, Mr. Pirrie said the Morgan combine, which he proceeded to call a "community of interests," was established purely for commercial purposes and on entirely business principles. He was convinced that a dangerous international system was rapidly approaching at the time the deal was effected, but by the creation of this community of interests, the future of British shipping, as well as of British shipbuilding, was assured.

In short, Mr. Pirrie considered the deal to be in every way satisfactory to the British. Giving subsidies would only invite retaliation in the most important markets of the world. The extent of state assistance to German shipping was greatly exaggerated.

Mr. Pirrie also said that the feeling against the combination was due to misunderstanding. All they had been doing was to get on the advice of the prince of Wales, when he said "England must wake up." Mr. Pirrie thought the best way for the government to help British shipping was to deepen the approaches to and otherwise improve the chief ports.
