PARKE WILSON GOES TO JAIL Denver Manager Arrested for Assaulting Umpire Swigert.

DISGRACEFUL EXHIBITION MARS A GAME

Enraged by a Decision Head of Grizalies Undertakes to Ent Offender

and Tries Policeman

for Dessert.

It remained for Parke Wilson, manager of the Denver base ball team, to break all records for rowdyism on the Omaha ball field. He made a most vicious assault on Umpire Swigert yesterday afternoon, and when the police interfered, changed his assault from the umpire to an officer. He was placed under arrest and sent to the city InIt

It was at the clope of Denver's man of the Beaumont, cf. eighth inning. Wilson, the last man to bat, Wagner, se... Bransfield, ib struck out. He was fairly wild with rage and rushing into the diamond, began striking wildly at the umpire. His judgment was no better there than at the bat, for he didn't hit the umpire any more than he did the ball. Swigert, with a sinister smile on his face, backed away from the enraged manager, beckoning for the police. Officer Gibbons reached the place first, and took hold of Wilson. Members of both teams rushed in to stop the trouble and several other policemen, with Captain Hayes, were on hand. Wilson, when turned by Gibbons from the umpire, struck at the officer, who morely turned him around and hustled him from the diamond. Off the grounds and to jail he went.

Offense to the Women.

Wilson's offense is all the more serious because fully half of the 4,500 people present were women. Manager Rourke has been particularly anxious this season to build up support among the women of Omaha, and his efforts have been quite successful. It is St. In nowise the fault of the home management that such an exhibition of rowdyism was New York afforded on ladies' day, but the effect can not but be bad. Wilson will, of course, be fined in police court for his assault on the umpire and for resisting an officer, but he should be expelled from the league as well. AMERICAN Here is an excellent opportunity for President Sexton to enforce the new rule laid down by the St. Joseph meeting and discipline a rowdy. President Packard will regret its necessity, but as he was one of the prime movers in the action taken at Et. Joseph, and has since publicly expressed his determination to have rowdyism stamped out of the Western league, he can not object to the disciplining of his obstreperous and ungentlemanly manager. For the matter of that, the entire Denver team should be given some cautionary advice to say the least. Its stay in Omaha has been one prolonged kick. On Sunday, for example, during the double-header, not a play was made but was the subject of a ession by the Denver team, anywhere from three to six gathering around the umpire to "chew the rag." Nothing has been too trivial to hang a klek on. This sort of work is not ball playing, and does not contribute in the least to the success of the game. Captain Delehanty, Manager Wilson, First Baseman Davis and Shortstop Radcliffe have been the chief offenders, and should all be disciplined.

Game Was a Beauty.

Aside from Wilson's rowdy conduct yesterday, the game was as fine a contest as one could wish to see. Only four hits were made by the two teams, two clean singles by Omaha, a scratch double and a scratch single by Denver. Each first baseman con-tributed an error, but neither figured in the score. The pitching was superb, Owen being an wonderful form, holding the heavy hit-ters of the Denver team at his merey at ters of the Denver team at his mercy all heated discussions. Three hours were spent discussing the question of admission of women to full membership, the subject, in the opinion of many delegates, being

DAVENPORT, Is., July 7 .- The second day of the convention of the North Amerlean

It was proposed to make it optional with the societies to admit women and to receive them on passes from other societies. The proposition was defeated by 183 4-5 to 154 4-5. A two-thirds vote is necessary to make the change.

An important place was given in the proceedings today to the resolutions urging the exemption of turner property from taxation, the proposition being favored by many eastern delegates, in whose states much turner property is exempt. The more radical element from the west offered a counter resolution, declaring for the taxation of all society and church property. The radicals carried the day, the proposition favoring the taxation of church property being adopted. It was decided not to hold the next national Turnerfest until 1905, thus defeating the hopes of St. Louis and Chicago delegates for 1904. The fest was offered to Indianapolis, which has until tomorrow to accept. Pittsburg secured the next business convention to be held in 1904. Indianapolis was continued as the business headquarters, the Indiana district to elect head officers. The bund adopted a resolution favoring free textbooks in schools. The delegates were entertained tonight by an excursion on the Misslesippi river by local Turners.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 7 .- (Special Telegram.)-Judge Wakefield of the district court rendered a decision here today. which is of the utmost importance in the interpretation of the lowa mulct law, known at the Martin law, Judge Wakefield held the term "Owner," heretofore understood as meaning the owner of the property or building in which a saloon was operated, applied to the actual owner of the saloon.

The method of the procedure in fighting alleged violation of the provisions of the Martin law, was to secure an injunc-This enjoined the owner of the tion. building and subjected him to punishment for contempt of court in case of its violation. In Sloux City, one of the most vigorous anti-saloon fights in the history of the state, is being waged by the antisaloon league. Injunction proceedings were brought against Mel Powers. The league contended for the old interpretation of the law. Under this intrepretation the saloon keeper can file a bond and by the payment of $35 can secure an abatement of the injunction. The league will carry the case to the supreme court for final intrepretation. If the decision of the lower court .....Granville is upheld, it will make procedure against Congalto saloons difficult, as by a change in name the saloon keeper can render himself free Baerwald from the operation of the law or by fake sales or by numerous other means. It vitually destroys the effectiveness of the Iowa mulct law.

Gossip About Iowa Men. The death of Judge Hubbard of Cedar Rapids has given rise to considerable spec-ulation as to what will become of the legal business of the Northwestern in this state. Attorney White of the Elkhorn division, with headquarters at Omaha, has been suggested as a probable man for the place. Judge Stevens of Boone, who has had charge of considerable of the business in past years may secure more of it. The bulk of the business may remain with the firm of Hubbard & Hawley at Cedar Rap-ids. Senator Trewin has been suggested for Iowa attorney, but if the position comes to him it will come unsought, for he is well satisfied with his present practice and would indeed be loth to give it up.

Rumors are heard of other changes in the legal department of the railroads oper-ating in Iowa. The recent formation of the partnership between Judge C. M. Waterman and ex-Congressman Joe R. Lane at Davenport has given rise to the report that they would shortly take charge of the Iowa business of the Rock Island, succeeding Carroll Wright of Des Moines, who has been Iowa attorney for several years. Mr. Wright is attorney for seve-cral other railroads and has an immense amount of other business, taking the place over Governor Cummins in the former law firm of Cummins, Hewitt & Wright. Should this change take place it would have some influence on the political situation in Iowa, without doubt.

Whiteridge, too, was on his mettie and was very effective, although wild at times. His support was the best is team could possibly give a pitcher, the work of Dundon at third being especially fine.

Omaha registered in the first, a base on balls to Carter, Graham's sacrifice, Stone's out and Dolan's single doing the work. In the third Frisk arched a high one over to left center, which fell safe because Graham was out of his position, giving Frisk two bases. Thomas muffed Dundon's blazing hot grounder and Denver had a man on third ball and a man on first, with no one out. Davis landed a vicious swipe on the ball, which soared out toward "Nick" Carter. Dundon thought it was safe and started for second. Carter caught the fly and nabbed Dundon at first. The next man was easy and Donver never had another chance to score. Neither did Omaha. "Yes, I saw the president," said Mr.

Patterson this morning, "and after I presented my story he assured me that I would be taken care of. Mr. Roosevelt treated me very courteously and I feel that he is my friend."

Mr. Patterson does not censure the members of the Iowa delegation for their action. He says that it was their judgment and that he is willing to abide by it.

Assailant.

FORT DODGE, Ia., July 7 .- (Special Telegram.)-William Pike, a prominent farmer living three miles west of Fonds, was shot in the head by an unidentified miscreant while asleep in bed on Sunday night. The bullet entered the right cheek and came out of the roof of the mouth. Pike will prohably recover. Pike's wife was found lying beside him with her head bruised, apparently by a blow from a blunt instrument. She says she was unconscious and did not hear a pistol shot. The only other person in the house was a son asleep upstairs. The whole affair is shrouded in mystery.

Probably one of the most disgusted men in the state is W. D. Blakemore of Tay-ior county. Mr. Blakemore held 150,000 bushels of July corn fer several months in the hope of making a big thing of it. He had bought it at 65 cents and the other day he sold it for 67 thus making $1,500 on the transaction. Since that time corn has reached a figure that would have easily made his profit as many thousands as it was hundreds, had he held on. How-ever, Mr. Blakemore may be well satisfied that he is out of the deal. At one time he was almost $15,000 in the hole on the transaction and he is probably congratu-lating himself that he finally came out $1,600 ahead. si,500 ahead.

years old and leaves a family of seven. Little Charles Weiting, a 2½-year-old child, died at the home of his grand-mother, Mrs. Huber, in Davenport, as the result of strangulation caused by getting a kernel of corn lodged in the windpipe. The kernel lodged in the windpipe last Sunday, but the child seemed to recover from its fit of strangulation and it was thought the kernel had gone down into the stomach. But another choking spell came on and resulted in the death of the child, indicating that the kernal had not gone down as was thought.
