

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Money to Aid in Illuminating During the Ak-Sar-Ben Festivities.

ANOTHER "CURFEW" ORDINANCE PASSED

Designed to Keep Children Off Streets at Night, the Document Awaits Mayor's Signature Only to Become Effective.

It was Ak-Sar-Ben night in the city council chambers, and at the close of the session the knights had in their pockets what they came for, namely, an order for $2,500 worth of electric light for street illumination during the festivities.

The following members of the board of governors of Ak-Sar-Ben were present: M. A. Hall, Luther Kountze, Walter S. Jardine, Thomas A. Fry, Mel Tibi, Ed Allen, Fred Metz, J. M. Hendry and C. M. Wilhelm.

The debate on the resolution, which was introduced by Trostler, was unusually animated, and a quarrel ensued between him and Hoye, in which the word "lie" bristled at frequent intervals.

The $2,500 bond ordinance, which has been before the council at various times since early in June, was returned by Acting Mayor Karr with his veto, the reason being that there were several errors in the items. The veto was sustained and the comptroller was instructed to draw up a new ordinance.

New Curfew Ordinance.

The curfew ordinance, introduced a week ago, was passed, receiving a unanimous vote. It provides that children under 15 years of age must not be upon the streets or in public places after 8 o'clock at night unless accompanied by a parent or legal guardian, unless on an errand for parent or guardian, or unless their occupations require them to be abroad after that hour.

The punishment for breaking the ordinance is not to exceed $5 to be imposed upon the offender and $10 to be imposed upon the parent or guardian. The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners is directed to arrange with some factory to blow a whistle at 8 o'clock, each evening. The ordinance will become effective after it receives the mayor's signature.

The judiciary committee, having under consideration the question of increasing Police Judge Berk's salary from $1,500 to $2,500 reported adversely. The report was accepted and approved by a vote of 3 to 5, President Karr casting the decisive vote.

An ordinance was introduced requiring bakers to take out an annual permit to be issued by the commissioner of health, each permit to cost $5.

An invitation from the Sons and Daughters of Labor to attend their "gala day celebration" at Hibbler's park, Friday, July 11, was accepted.

DEMAND FOR STUMP SPEAKERS

Republican Congressional Committee is Called Upon to Furnish Many Orators.

Oratory rather than literature is to be depended on to carry the close congressional districts for the republicans this fall, according to the Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. It is said that more republican speakers have been solicited to take the stump this year than ever before. This is because the issues which the democrats are expected to raise—trusts and tariff—have not been before congress in the form of any proposed legislation and the republicans will not be able to meet the democratic attacks until they are made on the stump.

The demands made upon Chairman Babcock and Secretary Overstreet of the congressional committee from different parts of the country indicate that the people want to hear the issues discussed from the stump and the list of speakers already secured is a large one. Speaker Henderson will make a few addresses in Iowa and will then make a tour of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and probably Nebraska. The republican old soldiers of Nebraska, where there is a good prospect of refuting four fusion members of congress, are very anxious to have Colonel Henderson address them and he may extend his trip to accommodate his former comrades. Congressman Cousins of Iowa will make a number of speeches in Missouri and Illinois and will then go to New York and Pennsylvania to finish the campaign. Congressman Walter I. Smith of Council Bluffs will devote his time to Missouri, as will also Congressman Leason of New York. Congressman Hopkins of Illinois will make a thorough stumping tour of his own state. Congressman Littlefield of Maine will make a trip through the Pacific coast states.

WEDGE CASE IS DISMISSED

Judge Vinsonhaker Finds Evidence to Substantiate Embellishment Charge.

The case of the State against William S. Wedge, charged with embellishment, advanced no further than the preliminary hearing in county court yesterday, when Judge Vinsonhaker dismissed it for lack of evidence to show that Wedge was guilty. The defendant, an old man, served as secretary of the Builders' and Traders' exchange and performed some of the duties of the treasurer. After he left the exchange to engage in similar business the exchange had his books checked up and found some discrepancies, but the judge, from the evidence introduced, could not conclude that they were more than technical errors and not deliberate attempts at embellishment.

Peter Lenagh Objects.

Peter Lenagh, former garbage man, complained to the police yesterday evening that a party of surveyors had been going over his property at Thirty-sixth and L streets yesterday morning, and that these surveyors had destroyed a portion of his field of oats and had tramped over his farm without admitting who they were working for. Lenagh wanted the police to break it up and interfere, but Chief Briggs referred the matter to Mayor Koutsky.

Magie City Gossip.

Harry Kelly has about recovered from his recent severe illness. He returned yesterday from a ten days' stay at Salt Lake City, Utah. A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers, Twenty-sixth and L streets.

Farmers coming into the city report that the roads were bad on account of the recent heavy rains. At the present time the city prisoners are employed in cutting weeds under the direction of Officer Alstead.

W. H. McCrea has taken out a permit for a building to be erected on Twenty-fourth street near D street, to cost about $1,500. Stocketers were found selling decayed fruit on the streets yesterday and were promptly called to time by the sanitary inspector.

A gasoline stove explosion last night at Twenty-sixth and L streets called out the fire department. The explosion caused some damage to the building. Loss estimated to amount to speaking of.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Library Bonds Not Yet Accepted by the Successful Bidder.

COUNCIL PROVIDES FUNDS FOR SITE As Soon as Lot is Purchased Andrew Carnegie Will Be Expected to Forward Fifty Thousand Dollar Donation.

A meeting of the South Omaha library board is to be held today and matters pertaining to the construction of the proposed library will be discussed. Some months ago the board purchased a site for the library at the northwest corner of Twenty-third and M streets for $2,500. It was the intention at that time to issue bonds for the amount. These bonds were put up at auction in the county chamber and were sold to John Dale of Omaha, who represented the State Bank of Toledo. The bonds were to bear 5 per cent interest and run for ten years. The purchase was made subject to the legality of the issue. Since the purchase the board has had several attorneys in the east several inquiries for additional information have been received by the city clerk. Up to the present time the bonds have not been sold and it is reported that the issue is not considered legal by bond buyers.

In order to carry out as far as possible the object in view the council has appropriated $4,000 out of the 1902 tax levy for library purposes. One member of the library board said last night that the money would be used in paying for the site and the balance amounting to $500 would be spent in laying permanent sidewalks about the proposed building. As soon as the site is paid for and the proper notice is sent to Mr. Buchanan, private secretary to Andrew Carnegie it is expected that the $4,000 donation will be forwarded and deposited in a bank to the credit of the board. As it will take at least a year to complete the structure, the council will not need to make a levy for maintenance until this time next year.

After Mayor Koutsky.

Those of the Anti-Saloon league who are interested in the enforcement of certain laws pertaining to the selling of liquor were disappointed at the action of the council Monday night in not taking any decided steps to carry out the ideas of the association. Last night Mayor Koutsky said that he had been busy all day with financial matters pertaining to the city and had no time to devote to the matter at all. Members of the league are urging the mayor to decide one way or the other at once.

In connection with the desire of the league for the enforcement of the Bloomington law it is understood a demand will be made to stop the playing of slot machines. The mayor will be requested to issue an order to the police placing all money-paying slot machines under the ban. Whether he will do this remains to be seen. The assertion is that the police have been young men spend more money than they can afford on slot machines and the league desires that the temptation be removed, if it is possible to do so.

Interest Increases Taxes.

This year it has been found necessary to make an appropriation of $41,000 to pay interest on the general bonded debt of the city and to pay interest on district indebtedness. Interest on the latter was only $19,000 and money had to be borrowed to keep the credit of the city good to the state fiscal agency and with bond buyers. With the interest fund amounting to $41,000 this year the city can make out all right and will not be forced to raise taxes on the banks. The overlap in interest has, like other overlaps, been carried forward from year to year. Now it has been decided to take radical measures to wipe out this overlap in the interest fund. With a levy amounting to $25,000 per month, and then if it is necessary next year bonds might possibly be voted to take up some of the general indebtedness warrants which will fall due and to pay the interest on future maturities.

Insuring Fire Risks.

Insurance policies have been delivered to the city clerk by direction of the mayor and council for the insuring of the contents of the three fire alarm towers. The amount of insurance carried on these policies amounts to $2,000. This sum will not of course replace the equipment and it is understood that the council will consider the matter of increasing the insurance. As more hose is to be purchased soon the loss in case of fire will be greater and so some of the officials think that the amount of the policies issued should be doubled.

Still Investigating.

Inspector Waters of the postal service is still here looking into the request of the Live Stock exchange for a sub-station at the Exchange building. While the inspector declines to make any statement it is inferred that he has not yet been able to recommend the establishment of a station at the Exchange for the reason that it would necessarily take help from the main office. It is thought that arrangements will be made for a collector to call for mail in the main building every day or at least make enough calls to provide for the wants of the packers and live stock men, while the market is open. It is possible, however, that a sub-station may be established later providing that the department will allow the main office additional help.

Levy Ordinance Introduced.

An adjourned session of the city council was held last night at the levy and appropriation ordinances were introduced and read for the first time. The mayor referred the ordinances to the judiciary committee. A report will be turned in next Monday night, when the council meets again, and the ordinance will doubtless be passed. The ordinance provides for a levy in the figures as reported in yesterday's Bee, but the levy will remain as reported, with the valuation practically the same as previously reported.

Peter Lenagh Objects.

Peter Lenagh, former garbage man, complained to the police yesterday evening that a party of surveyors had been going over his property at Thirty-sixth and L streets yesterday morning, and that these surveyors had destroyed a portion of his field of oats and had tramped over his farm without admitting who they were working for. Lenagh wanted the police to break it up and interfere, but Chief Briggs referred the matter to Mayor Koutsky.

TWO WIDOWS OF ONE SOLDIER

They Both Want to Collect Pension Money from United States.

Lydia J. Anderson claims that she is the widow of Robert W. Anderson and she wishes to draw his $12 pension from his Uncle Sam. But another woman, who used to be Mary Fouts, makes the same claim and has the same desire. The pension commissioner declines to act until one or the other of the two controversies, so Lydia has petitioned the district court to declare her the real article and enjoin Mary, as a counterfeiter, from even attempting to get the pension.

Lydia lays most of the blame on a Kansas sheriff. She brands him as a man of little honesty and less discretion. Her petition begins with the statement that she was duly and properly married to Robert W. Anderson in Cuba, O., January 2, 1865, and that their relation as man and wife really existed until his death in March, 1902, intervening events to the contrary notwithstanding.

The first of these intervening events happened November 16, 1893, when her husband commenced suit for divorce in the district court of Anderson county, Kansas. There was nothing wrong about that, but the sheriff made a return of personal service on her, she alleges, whereas there had been no such service and she did not learn until February 2, 1901, that the court, relying upon the sheriff's statement and assuming that the case was going by default, had granted a decree of absolute divorce seven years previous, or on March 7, 1894.

In 1895 he and Mary Fouts were married and they lived together until his death, but Lydia insists that this marriage was null because the first one was still binding. She has since contemplated suicide. The reasons the decree was void, were, she alleges, that no service of summons was made on her, the sheriff's return being false; that no notice of the pendency of the suit was ever published or otherwise given her; that she was and ever has been a non-resident of Kansas and has at no time been within the boundaries of the state, but has been resident at Denton, Lancaster county, Neb.

FOUR SUITS FOR DIVORCE

Cruelty the Ground and the Wife the Plaintiff in Every Case.

Judge Dickinson has granted Mary Maher divorce from John J. Maher and has stipulated that the defendant is to pay the plaintiff $100 for attorney's fees and alimony of $50 per month, beginning July 1, until further order of the court.

Laura E. McGovern alleges that Charles Phillip is too cruel to live with and she asks divorce with alimony, as he has $10,000 worth of property in Council Bluffs. The assertion is, her maiden name of Eaton restored. They were married in Omaha in March, 1901.

Myrtle has been the wife of William Wilson since September 26, 1902. Her petition states, and though that date is some months ahead, she has discovered that he is extremely cruel and asks divorce.

Matilda sues for divorce from John F. Sullivan on the grounds of cruelty and abandonment. They were married May 21, 1894, and have two children.

SCHOOL CENSUS IS COMPLETE

Four Hundred and Eleven More Children Than Were Enumerated Last Year.

The school census for 1902 is complete and the returns show a gain of 411 over the count of a year ago. The enumerators counted 30,561 children of school age in Omaha this year, as against 30,150 in 1901. "All of the gain over the last year is on the south side," said Secretary Burgess of the board of education. "There was a falling off on the north side, but the gain on the south side overcame this loss and resulted in an increase of 411. So far as the enumerators were able to ascertain there has been no increase in adult population on the south side, but births there during the last ten years have been more frequent."

The Christian Endeavor musical and literary entertainment at the Southwestern Presbyterian church last night was a particularly given because of the heavy rain. The program was well attended. The full program will be rendered next Monday night. Misses Hesse and Grace Hesse contributed piano solos last night and Misses Anse and Eiva Hesse sang a duet. Miss Hesse sang a contralto solo and Miss Gwendolin Dulaney recited the "Polish Hero."

THREATENS MORE TROUBLE

Old Artesian Well Under Union Pacific Roadbed Seems Active.

CHICAGO STRIKE HAS EFFECT IN OMAHA

Falling Off of Freight Shipments from Windy City Considered Inevitable—High Water Interferes with Traffic.

More serious trouble is threatened to the tracks at the west entrance of the Union Pacific river bridge, where the embankment collapsed Monday. The ground is thoroughly honeycombed with water, which is oozing out for about fifty yards along the top embankment and the workmen are puzzled to know just what is the best way in which to meet this difficulty.

The water is supposed to come from the old artesian well, which was directly under the worst of the caving. It seems to have thoroughly penetrated the entire embankment so as to make that part which was not torn away insecure. It is feared that the collapse may extend further to the south of the filling and sweep away the Burlington tracks unless something can be done to stop the flow of water and substitute the roadbed. One of the foremen at work on the repair said that he thought the only course to pursue would be to locate the main stream of water and lay pipes so as to carry off the water and prevent it from undermining the entire roadbed. If this is done it will require a long time to complete the work of repairing and get the tracks back into working shape.

A large force of men is still working away, but no dirt had been hauled in up to Tuesday forenoon and little progress was then made. It was intended to put the steam shovel into operation Tuesday afternoon and bring filling from Summit. The Union Pacific has completed a spur track leading from the main entrance tracks to those going into Union station which will afford a cut-off and obviate the necessity of using the Burlington and freight tracks, as had to be done Monday and Tuesday.

Freight Handlers' Strike.

Local freight men apprehend a serious decline in the freight traffic in Omaha as a result of the extensive strike of freight handlers in Chicago. As a vast amount of freight into this city comes from and through Chicago, it is said that a decided fall off here will be inevitable at a time when some inquiry was made yesterday among the freight handlers in this city as to the probability of their striking in union with the men in Chicago. The local men, while not receiving the wages they have not as yet contemplated striking, owing chiefly to the lack of a thorough local organization. They are now proceeding with the perfecting of their union. There has been some discontent over wages and it is hinted that when completely organized an effort may be made to improve upon present conditions.

Some Tracks Submerged.

High water is still seriously interfering with the passage of trains entering Omaha. Several of the lines have found it impossible during the last few days to observe their schedules. The Rock Island seems to be as badly affected as any. Its morning trains were unable to go out at all owing to submerged tracks at Fairbury, Neb. East on the Rock Island there is no trouble and trains are running regularly.

The Union Pacific is still at the mercy of the high water in places, as is also the Illinois Central. The Chicago-Omaha train, No. 1, due here a little after 8 in the morning, was over two hours behind time Tuesday. No accidents have as yet been reported, however, as a result of any delays. The Missouri Pacific, whose line was tied up at Nebraska City by overflow, reported yesterday that everything is in good shape and trains are running freely.

OFFICER WANTS TO BE SHOWN

He is from Missouri and Wants to See Color of Certain Horse.

Several constables and an officer from Maryville, Mo., are trying to locate a horse which was stolen at Maryville last February and which is supposed to be in the possession of Isaac Abrahamson, a grocer at 513 North Sixteenth street. Several days ago the Missouri sleuth thought he had located the horse in Abrahamson's back yard. He immediately sent Constable Marrow after the animal with the necessary papers to take possession of it.

The constable was informed that the horse was at 440 was forth coming it might be produced. Several more attempts were made to have Abrahamson produce, but all have been in vain. Yesterday afternoon Abrahamson was arrested charged with buying and concealing stolen property. He was later released under $500 bond.

The horse is alleged to have been stolen from Fred Lysle of Maryville and the Missouri officer, who has been on the track of the horse since February, said that he had been informed by the man who stole it, who is now serving a term in the penitentiary, that he had sold the horse to Abrahamson.
