Omaha's work was plainly outlined. Three runs were needed and the boys did not hesitate about getting them. They began right away in the third inning and by taking advantage of a base on half-and Fleming's area of a base of a b and Fleming's error in left scored two men on Stewart's beautiful single, which Tom let Ace have two bases on. That left Dolan still on third and Thomas did what served the purpose just as well as a threebagger. He hit a long fly to right and Joe scored the winning run on it after the

There was no more scoring by either team. Graham pitched creditable ball, allowing two hits in eight innings, giving two bases and making an error. Jones was fairly hard to find, but he gave six bases in his good-natured way. The faus are plainly sick of so much "beefing" by players. Whenever anyone from either team started to register a yell there were 2,000 people giving him "Sit down" and "Shut up" in no dulcet tones. Score:
