

REFUSE TO RETURN

Striker's Ignore Company's Order to Report for Duty Again.

PREFER TO TAKE CHANCES ON FUTURE

Determined Not to Go to Work Until Demands Are Granted.

EACH SIDE IS CLAIMING NEW STRENGTH

Alleged Proposition to Adjust the Strike Merely a Suggestion.

AUDITORIUM COMPANY NOT CONCERNED

Murphy Denies that He Represented the Auditorium Directors in Making Suggestion to Central Labor Union.

Vice President Wilson of the International Association of Machinists, who has had direction of the strike, with headquarters in Omaha, left last night for the west. He will put in some time with the strikers in the towns and cities along the Union Pacific... He will be in charge of affairs here for the machinists during Wilson's absence.

Mr. Wilson expressed himself last night as well satisfied with the progress of all affairs and confident that the strikers would eventually win their fight. From now on a great effort will be made to prevent the introduction of nonunion men into the various shops. The strikers are organizing everywhere over the system with a determination of accomplishing this end, for in that they believe the possibilities of success. It will require some diligent work of this kind, however, the officials intimate, to intercept their plans and prevent them from filing the shops with the non-union men if they see fit.

The strikers construe the order issued Thursday by the company, purporting to be an ultimatum to them to return to work or take the consequences, as the gauntlet thrown down, but they declare that this order has now will have no effect upon their men. Last night they were claiming that two more machinists had left the Omaha shops and joined the strikers.

Not One Man Returns.

They assert that various places over the system have been heard of and all reports that not one of the men has availed himself of this opportunity to return to work. The strikers are confident their ranks will be kept intact and that none will go back to work until all are taken back under the conditions demanded.

On the other hand, the statement was given out from the highest officials of the railroad company yesterday morning that the company is gaining ground and has more men in its shops than it had at any time since the strike began.

Asked what the company would do if it became evident the strikers would not return to work until their demands were granted, an executive official yesterday declared to state.

One of the strikers said yesterday morning several of the men had received personal letters from the company making inducements to them to return to work. In view of events of the last few days an early termination of the strike is looked for. Officials, however, decline to give out any information concerning any plans they may have for bringing about a settlement of difficulties.

Feeling Against Nonunion Men.

Feeling among the strikers against the company and its imported nonunion men becomes more animated each day. The strikers feel that these men should not be allowed to come in and fill their places and some assert their determination to stop them as soon as the company is taking every precaution against trouble of this kind.

Investigation shows that the alleged proposal received by the union men for a settlement of the strike, which Vice President Wilson disclosed Thursday night, and which was said to have been made by Robert E. Murphy, purporting to be a representative of the Auditorium company, pledging the offices of that company as a mediator for a consideration of half a day's pay from each organized laboring man in the city as a bonus to the auditorium fund, was not made as an actual proposition, but in the form merely of a suggestion and came from Rod E. Murphy, bookkeeper of the Floy J. Campbell company, members of the Chicago Board of Trade.

The wrong interpretation was placed upon the letter sent by Mr. Murphy and the wrong name given by some of the strikers, according to Mr. Murphy.

Murphy Makes Statement.

Mr. Murphy said this statement to a reporter for the Bee: "I sent the letter to the secretary of Central Labor union, J. A. Bradford, and merely suggested that the union men of the city take out auditorium stock to the extent of a half day's pay for each, and that perhaps, as the majority of business men of the city were interested in the auditorium proposition, it would enlist their sympathy and co-operation for the strikers and their cause, and possibly be the means of bringing about a settlement of the strike. As to pledging the support of the Auditorium company to any such proposition, I never thought of such a thing. In fact, I made no proposition, simply a suggestion. I also suggested that this fund be diverted to the strike benefits in case the proposition fell through after the money was raised."

Alfred Millard of the Auditorium company says concerning the matter: "The idea that this company would make any offer is too absurd to think of. We have never thought of taking our hand in this strike and the matter has never been broached at any of our board meetings and would not be tolerated if it were brought up. It is a foolhardy idea."

Mr. Murphy is not a member of the Auditorium company and denied all claim of seeking to represent that company.

The Central Labor union had scheduled a meeting for last night to consider this "proposition," but the matter was dropped when it was learned through the Bee yesterday afternoon that the "proposition" did not come from the Auditorium company nor any member of it.

Denver Paying University Debt. DENVER, July 11.—It was announced today that $100,000 of the $200,000 debt standing against the University of Denver had been subscribed by Denver men and that the remaining $100,000 would be pledged by September 1. Some time during the first week of September a celebration of the lifting of the debt will be held at the university when all the bonds and other evidences of indebtedness will be burned.

GOVERNMENT SUES FOR PEACE

Columbia is Quite Anxious to Settle with Revolutionists.

PANAMA, Colombia, July 11.—General Salazar in an interview with the representative of the Associated Press said: "The government is making every effort to pacify the republic by what congress may meet and reach a decision on the matter of the canal bill, which is the most important question in Colombia today. The national government has issued a generous decree offering degrees to the revolutionists, providing they surrender in the departments of Boyaca, Cundinamarca, Santander and Tolima, by the end of July. Those in the other departments will, on account of the lack of rapid telegraphic communication, have the time of their surrender extended to August 7. Hundreds of revolutionists have surrendered already and more are coming in every day."

General Salazar continued: "The revolutionary army only exists on the isthmus because of the help given it by President Zelaya of Nicaragua, who has violated all the rules of international law."

General Sergio Camargo, Carlos Arturo Torres, Manuel Jose Angarita and other prominent liberal or revolutionary leaders have issued a manifesto addressed to their followers urging them to lay down their arms in order that the nation may reach a decision on the canal bill. This manifesto sets forth that the commercial interests of the world demand the prompt construction of the Panama canal. This declaration shows that both political parties in Colombia are in favor of the project. The terms of the decree of the government granting pardon to revolutionists are more generous than any of those which have been previously offered. The organizers of foreign expeditions against Colombia, however, are excluded from the terms of the decree.

KING HAS REFRESHING SLEEP

Doctors Say that the Royal Patient Continues to Improve in Every Respect.

LONDON, July 11.—At Buckingham palace the following bulletin was posted at 10 o'clock this morning: "THE KING is now sleeping well and to improve in every respect."

The following authorized statement was issued this evening: "The king has made such excellent progress that his medical advisers believe his Majesty is now strong enough to be removed from London. They feel that a change of air is very necessary at this stage of the healing process. It is hoped that his Majesty will be able to leave Buckingham palace Tuesday for the royal yacht, which is at present at Portsmouth."

Tonight's report of King Edward's condition says his Majesty continues to make good headway.

ENGLISHMEN ARE TOO SLOW

American Steel Firms Secure All the Business in South Africa.

JOHANNESBURG, Transvaal, July 11.—The British trade commissioners, who recently arrived here from England, admit that they are amazed at the amount of business in steel building material which is offering an comment on the indolence of the British firms.

They say that so far as they are able to discover only one firm, and that an American concern, has a capable representative in South Africa, and he has been securing immense orders in Capetown and at Johannesburg at his own price for huge buildings up to fourteen stories by being able to quote prices promptly and promise construction with American speed.

HEAT INTENSE IN FRANCE

Marseilles is Experiencing a Genuine African Sirocco and Storms are General.

PARIS, July 11.—Exceptional heat, accompanied by severe storms, prevails throughout the southern and southwestern departments of France. Marseilles is experiencing a genuine African sirocco, with a temperature of 104 degrees, the highest in twenty years.

MORGAN IS NOT IN SCHEME

Report that He is Planning for Unification of Turkish Debt is Denied by Pierpont.

LONDON, July 11.—There is no truth in the report published in the United States that J. Pierpont Morgan is planning a scheme for the unification of the Turkish debt.

Plans for the unification of the Turkish debt are being made by the government of the late Free State government refuse to sign the oath, though few of them object to signing the document called "The Declaration," acknowledging King Edward the sovereign. The oath of allegiance, however, is much more binding.

BOERS OBJECT TO THE OATH

Considered Too Binding, Though Willing to Acknowledge King as Sovereign.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Orange River Colony, July 11.—Difficulties has arisen regarding the oath of allegiance. Many of the Boer commanders, field cornets and officials of the late Free State government refuse to sign the oath, though few of them object to signing the document called "The Declaration," acknowledging King Edward the sovereign. The oath of allegiance, however, is much more binding.

CHOLERA NOW DECREASING

Rain in Philippines Has Telling Effect on the Much-Dreaded Disease.

MANILA, July 11.—The spread of cholera has slightly decreased, possibly on account of the rain. The totals since the outbreak are: Manila, 2,189 cases and 1,718 deaths; prevalence, 12,476 cases and 4,537 deaths.

RUMORED TRACY KILLS SEVEN

Report on Streets of Seattle of Battle with Escaped Convict.

When Deputy Sheriffs Are Sure Once More They Have Their Man He Again Slips Away from Them.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 11.—Bloodhounds and scores of deputy sheriffs were unable to find out where Harry Tracy had taken refuge in the brush near Covington today.

Because of the midnight battle last night the posse were sure of the convict's whereabouts. A cordon of experienced marksmen encircled that place earlier in the evening and there was no possible avenue of escape for the fugitive without a fight. Hounds were started on the trail early this morning and worked in every crevice today, but without success. Darkness fell with less encouragement for the hunters than on Wednesday evening.

Every kind of rumor was received from the scene of the hunt. Deputy Sheriff search today. At one time a report was started that a battle had been fought, resulting in the death of seven deputies and the wounding of the convict. Diligent search for the source of this report met with failure. It is believed to be absolutely groundless, yet it can not be branded so until every part of the pursuing crowd has been heard from. The nature of the country through which the chase led would make it possible for a battle to be fought in one of the ravines and little be heard of in the neighboring towns for many hours.

Fight at Close Range.

At 11:45 last night Tracy arrived at the sawmill plant of the Covington Lumber company, a mile from this place. Deputy Sheriff J. A. Bunce, Fred C. Bunce, Galvin and Crowe had been sent to guard this point. Deputy Crowe and the Bunces, father and son, had posted themselves on the railroad near the sawmill at the entrance of a big cut near a rise of ground, the Bunces being on the outer guard line. They were hardly aware of the trail until footstep approaching from the Auburn side, but remained on the quiet until the unknown had almost come abreast of them, when the challenge to halt was given.

"Hello," responded the stranger.

"What's your name?" demanded J. A. Bunce.

"My name is Anderson."

"As he gave this reply Tracy, for it was he, started to run. The deputies again called upon him to halt, but he kept going and they opened fire, shooting four times each. Tracy ran up the track and a few yards further encountered Deputy Sheriff Crowe.

"Who goes there?" challenged the officer.

"A deputy," coolly responded the outlaw.

Taken for a Deputy.

Crowe, thinking it was the elder Bunce, started to approach when Tracy commenced shooting at close range, firing two shots. The bullets whistled harmlessly by and Crowe suffered slightly from the burning powder as it sped from the muzzle of the rifle.

After the shooting Tracy turned and entered the brush along the side of the track, where he was lost in the blackness of the night.

The deputies made a hurried circle through the woods to Covington, but Tracy, after an arrival found that he had not passed the station.

A dispatch dated 3 a. m. adds that since his escape from the north side of Sluice creek Tracy attempted to board one of the eastbound freights. The grade is heavy on this point, but the train was running light and at such speed that Tracy was unable to board it. Another train passed and the conductor reports that while running near the sawmill someone called for him to stop. There were no deputies present and it is thought Tracy is the man who called and the opinion is advanced that he may have been wounded in the battle just before midnight.

A man thought to be Merrill appeared yesterday at the home of a farmer a few miles east of Ravendale, near here, and wanted food. He remained in the vicinity all day.

TACOMA, Wash., July 11.—At 8 o'clock this morning Sheriff Cuddehe and numerous posse arrived at Covington, about twelve miles from Tacoma, where Tracy eluded the posse at midnight.

Every train coming toward the Northern Pacific tunnel through the Cascades is stopped and searched. The location of the country is such that Tracy may be said to be naturally cornered in the point of a triangle and therefore developments are momentarily expected.

All indications are that Tracy is following the Palmer cut-off up the mountains, keeping in the timber as much as possible. He has about five miles start of the posse.

A final effort is being made to locate Tracy at his own place at Covington, Wash., says a man answering the description of David Merrill, Tracy's partner, appeared at Ravendale yesterday afternoon. He forced a family two miles east of that place to give him dinner and later returned to his house and procured a supply of provisions.

Sheriff Cuddehe and Guard Carson, with bloodhounds and a small posse, left Auburn at 6 o'clock this morning for the point where Tracy was last seen.

GUARDING THE COUNTY JAIL

Fearing that Second Attempt May Be Made to Dynamite Battle at St. Joseph.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 11.—Sheriff Spencer summoned a large force of guards tonight and armed them heavily in expectation that a second attempt would be made to blow up the county jail and liberate many desperate criminals awaiting transfer to the penitentiary. Enough dynamite was stolen from a rock quarry today to blow up half the town, a considerable part of which was discovered to have been smuggled into the jail. Sheriff Spencer sent his family away. No stranger is permitted to approach within fifty feet of the building.

CHANGES MIND AT THE ALTAR

Miss "Happy" Van Wyck Causes a Stir in Washington Social Circles.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(Special Telegram)—Miss Theodora H. Van Wyck, familiarly known as "Happy," daughter of late Senator Charles H. Van Wyck of Nebraska, who was to have married Frank Mitchell of this city on July 5, renounced her promise and the wedding did not take place according to program, and thereby hangs a story which is just becoming public. A license to marry was issued July 5 from the office of the district supreme court to Mr. Frank Mitchell, aged 29, and Miss Theodora H. Van Wyck, aged 29, and on the following day the couple registered themselves at the residence of Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, to have the ceremony performed. For some reason the couple were not present and the ceremony was declared off. It is said, however, that the young woman changed her mind in the middle of the ceremony and that she regarded the whole matter in the light of a joke.

Shortly after the interrupted ceremony Miss Van Wyck left for Milford, Pa., the family home of the Van Wycks, where she has friends, leaving no explanation of her strange proceeding to console her friends.

Miss Van Wyck, since her mother's death, spent a great deal of her time in Washington, appearing at social functions under the chaperonage of a leading society's wife, having apartments at the Normandy. The young woman was known as "Happy" Van Wyck, and in fact so registers herself.

Rev. Radcliffe, while refusing to discuss the strange ending of what promised to be a most happy culmination of a genuine love match, stated that the couple, accompanied by one person, whose name was unknown to him, appeared at his home and presented a proper marriage license. That was all he would say, excepting that the young couple left his residence unmarried. He preferred that the facts should come from the parties themselves.

Friends of the principals of the affair say the would-be groom took the affair very much to heart and was much surprised at the young woman's change of mind at the critical moment. It is understood that while she has social admirers, she has shown a decided preference for Mr. Mitchell, and at the theater and in nearly all her rides and drives about the city he was her escort.

Miss Van Wyck is well known in Omaha, where she has frequently visited, and at Nebraska City, where the family made its home for many years. Her last visit to Omaha was in the spring of 1900, when she was accompanied by her mother, who died last November.

PRESIDENT RATHER WORRIED

Negotiations with the Vatican Are Giving Him No Little Concern.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 11.—After a breezy outing in the early morning President Roosevelt and Secretary Cortelyou took up the business which had reached them by wire and in the morning mail. A question which is engaging the president's attention, and which is giving him no little concern, is that respecting the negotiations with the Vatican for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippines archipelago. Mr. Roosevelt has been discussing the subject in a reply to Governor Taft's proposition, which was brought to him by Secretary Root, and which was discussed by the president in Washington. Nothing will be made public here.

Senator McLaughlin of South Carolina, accompanied by D. D. Colcock, secretary of the Louisiana Cane Growers' association, arrived here today. Mr. McLaughlin took luncheon with the president. Mr. Colcock saw Secretary Cortelyou, but did not see the president early in the day. He was speaking in regard to the focus required to certify to the business committee and Indian agent, on such facts as the land to be sold, and which must be verified by the affidavits of at least two credible persons of known character and respectability of these facts, whose veracity must be certified by such officer.

Whichever party of conveyance properly executed shall be presented for approval to the department of the Indian agent, superintendent of school, or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, who has been notified by the other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, or any employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or in the valuation of inherited land, if it be in the possession of the consideration named in the deed, if the official in charge of the Indian tribe, or other competent employe (if he has such in his employ) will view and value the land conveyed. If, nevertheless, an employe attached to such agency, is competent, as the Indian agent, superintendent or other officer in charge of the Indian tribe, may see fit, to require the value of the land, and shall visit, view and report in his best judgment the value of the land, and shall require the parties in interest to furnish an additional certificate of value, or