MAUS PROVES A POOR SHOT

Fires Several Times at Burglar, but Cannot Score a Hit.

EDWARD COGLEY HAS NO BETTER SUCCESS

Whole Neighborhood Joins in Chase and Captures Young Fellow Who Has Just Left the Side of His Best Girl.

Burglars attempted to break into the residence of William P. Maus at 215 Lincoln avenue Tuesday night. Mr. Maus, who is a member of the firm of Smith & Maus, 317 Broadway, is of the opinion that the burglars followed him home from his place of business, thinking that he would probably take home a considerable sum of money with him rather than leave it in the store over night.

Mr. Maus retired early and shortly before midnight was aroused by his wife, who had been awakened by hearing someone walking around in the kitchen. Grasping his revolver, Mr. Maus made for the kitchen, and as he reached there a man opened the screen door and fled into the backyard. He fired two shots through the screen door after the fellow and then followed him into the yard. The fellow climbed over the fence into the alley and as he did so Mr. Maus noticed another man jump over the fence into the adjoining yard. He also took a shot at the second fellow, but his aim was poor.

Edward Cogley, who lives next door to Mr. Maus, was aroused by the shooting and arming himself with a rifle hastened to the scene. He saw the fellow climbing over the fence and took three shots at him, but like Mr. Maus his aim was uncertain and the bullets went wide of the mark.

By this time the entire neighborhood was aroused and a systematic search for the burglars was begun, but without success. A young well-known society man who is employed in the office of a large corporation had a narrow escape from being mistaken for one of the burglars. He had been visiting a young woman in the neighborhood at the hours had passed so rapidly while sitting in a hammock that he was unaware the midnight bell had tolled when the shooting commenced. While making his hasty departure he was corralled by some of the neighbors who had been aroused and was forced to explain before they would allow him to go his way.

The burglars who broke into Mr. Maus' house had opened the kitchen door with a skeleton key, which in their hurry they left behind them.

FORTY-NINTH PITCHES TENTS

CDAR FALLS, Ia., July 16.—(Special.)—Camp Rudisill is the name given the camp established today for the Forty-ninth regiment, Iowa National Guard, which will remain in camp for one week. It is established on a bluff on the bank of the Cedar, west of the city and an ideal spot. The camp is well provided with shade and the best spring water in the state. The drill grounds are smooth and but a few steps from the tenting grounds. The band will entertain the citizens one evening this week with a concert in the park and they will issue invitations for a military dance one evening. A platform has been arranged for this purpose.

The officers of the regiment are: M. H. Byers, adjutant general; General M. G. Dows, colonel; Samuel E. Clapp, lieutenant colonel; Frank R. Fischer, Louis J. Rowell, Herbert A. DROPS RAILROADS A HINT

Governor Cummins Suggests Physical Value of Bonds is Not All of Property.

ARE WORTH WHAT THEY CAN BE SOLD FOR

Iowa Executive Council and Railroad Attorneys Having a Session Over Assessment—Governor Appoints Judge.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, July 16.—(Special.)—In the hearing of the State Executive council today on the assessment of railroad property there was an interesting passage between Lloyd W. Bowers, general solicitor for the Chicago & Northwestern, and Governor Cummins of the council, in the course of which the governor made a clear and pointed statement of what he is running through his mind as to the course of reasoning the members of the council must pursue in arriving at the essential thing of the taxable value of the railroad property lying in Iowa.

"My idea of the way we should arrive at the value of railroad property," said the governor, "and I say this because I would like the discussion to be on this point, is that we should consider not the physical property but the commercial value of the whole property. We should arrive at the business value of the railroads—that they are actually worth to men who own and operate railroads, what purchasers of railroads would be willing to pay for railroad property if it is arriving at the conclusion it becomes necessary to not only include physical property, earnings, profits, location and business opportunities, the future and the prospect or fear of dangerous competition, and also that we should capitalize the results of the results of the ordinary labor of those persons who are necessarily employed in the operation of the company, then all these elements should be considered; but we dare not say that cost of business or reproduction must be the limit of value on property of this kind. A railroad may be worth a great deal more than its cost or a great deal less. Inasmuch as there is no market proper for railroads, we can only place ourselves in the light of possible purchasers and consider what they would be willing to pay for the property. In short, we must find out the value of the property as it would appear to a business man for business purposes."

Railroad Attorney Objects.

The announcement came from the governor in a way to give a new turn to the discussion, and Mr. Bowers, attorney for the Northwestern, devoted some time to discussing this phase of the case. He contended that the danger of having a road revalued at a value that makes it essential that the value be not placed very high above cost of reproduction of the same property. He contended also that you dare not capitalize the business, for that would include much that is not a part of the property.

In answering the question why the ratio of operating expenses to gross earnings is greater in Iowa than elsewhere, Mr. Bowers presented statistics to show that this is not true, but on the contrary, whereas the ratio for the entire Northwestern system is 61.2 per cent, it is only 61 per cent in Iowa. The figures usually given are deceptive. But rates in Iowa are lower than in any of the states where the Northwestern operates, and the transportation rates affecting Iowa are lower than in other states.

Colombia is Also Making Demand of Nicaragua for Twenty Million Pounds for Damages Caused by Revolutionists.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, June 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Ralph Paget, charge d'affaires of the British legation to Central America, with headquarters at Guatemala City, arrived here May 20. His visit, as rumored among the British residents of the city, is to present a claim of $20,000 against the government of Nicaragua for putting into liquidation in 1901 the London Bank of Central America, limited, formerly known as the Bank of Nicaragua. Some reports say that the sum in question is only $20,000.

Rumors are also current here that the government of Colombia is demanding from Nicaragua $20,000,000 pesos in silver for damages caused by armed expeditions sent to Nicaragua, on the warship Momotombo, to assist the rebels in Colombia who had risen against the government of that country.

It is also said that Colombia demands that President Zelaya and the other government officials deposit their official power with certain prominent Nicaraguans. Judge Zelaya, a resident of Leon and Jose Antonio Roman of Jinotega are mentioned as the governors who will probably hold national power until a bona fide election occurs for national officials.

Commerce is about at a standstill in Nicaragua and foreign exchange is quoted on the streets (none being offered at the usual banking hours) at from 450 to 500 per cent premium.

Safe From Summer Complaints

All mammas, and papas too for that matter, dread the heat of summer with its danger for the little folks, especially the babies. It is simply heart-breaking to read year after year about the great death rate among children caused by the summer's heat. Yet it is easy to protect the infants against all summer complaints, because we know that all these fearful perils have their beginning in stomach and bowel troubles, and we have a perfect family medicine that will keep the delicate machinery in a child's body clean, regular and in healthy working order in the hottest weather—CASCARETS Candy Cathartic. The plump, bouncing, crowing baby shown here is a CASCARET baby. He feels that way winter and summer. Nursing mammas take a CASCARET at bedtime, and it makes their mother's milk mildly purgative and keeps
