A generous tribute was paid to the work levy for street repairs to straighten out the streets now in bad condition, leaving nothing for the balance of the fiscal year. When the appropriation was made the sum of $6. year, and this sum is now already as good the order be lent to that movement.

All of the work on the streets is now done

The question was asked yesterday as to what had become of the road machine purchased by the city about three years ago. For months the city officials schemed around to find money enough to buy a machine for rounding up unpaved streets. The machine was finally purchased at a cost of $225 and was used a part of one summer under the direction of John Ross, then street foreman. The machine was doing good work and was saving money to the city. Then came a protest from the labor unions. A committee from the unions called upon the council with the request that the machine be disrded in order to give employment to men b needed work. This was done and the machine was sent to the toolhouse, where it is supposed to be now.

Graders say that with a little dry weather and the machine in good working order the streets could soon be placed in good condition at a great saving of money. However, it hardly seems probable that the machine will be placed in service this summer on acwount of the opposition of the labor unions

Appeal in Taylor Case.

Yesterday Judge Estelle of the district court, after listening to arguments, denied a new trial in the case of J. W. Tayagainst the city of South Omaha and an appeal to the supreme court will be taken. This case has already been tried twice in the district court. Taylor sued the city for $10,000, alleging that he broke one of his legs by reason of a defective At the first trial judgment was rendered against the city for $1,500. The court cut this judgment to $500, and then there was a second trial of the case. This resulted in a verdict of $1,000 against the city, which was cut to $920 by the judge. Then the application for another trial followed, which was denied.

More personal taxes have been collected within the last year and a half than ever before in the history of the city.

We are today the strongest Catholic body organized in the United States. We can go further and proudly claim we are the strongest body in the world comprised of one nationality and belonging to one religion. Our labors in the field of benevolence have carried peace and happiness to many bereaved homes. The anger of the delegates was aroused somewhat today by a statement contained in a printed circular distributed at the door of the convention hall to the effect that the order had not kept its promise to Ireland. The statement was to the effect that the rank and file had been duped and misled by its leaders on the instruction of the Clan-na-Gael. It was said freely that the circular was the production of the head officials of the Irish league, although the members admitted that they had no positive proof.

A resolution introduced by Delegate E. J. Slattery of Massachusetts indorsing the Irish league is in the bands of the executive committee.

Stephen Donlavy has been chosen to lead the fight against the association and he expressed confidence that it will be defeated overwhelmingly. The committee received reports from several committees today. The insurance committee reported, recomnending the plan of insurance now in use in the Illinois branch of the order as a safe one to adopt by any of the other states wishing to branch out in this particular.

Majority and minority reports on the question of systematic organization were presented by the committee having that matter in charge. The former recommended that four organizers, with a salary of $150 each and expenses, and an additional fee of $1 per new members be appointed, and the latter reduced the number of organizers to one, without any fee other than the monthly salary. A compromise proposition was submitted prviding for two organizers with a monthly stipend.
