WILLIAMS MAY ESCAPE YET

Man Accused of Perpetrating Holdup is Likely to Get Away.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY LAX IN HIS DUTY

Judge Estelle Hands a Few Pertinent Suggestions to One of County Attorney Shields' Assistants in Court.

Judge Lee Estelle of the district bench stroked the county attorney with an ungloved hand in open court yesterday in an effert to persuade the latter that time is valuable, other people's privileges worth considering and horseplay no longer to be countenanced. The judge announced that either the county attorney will be ready to try the case of the State against Frank | Hill, 169; Mrs. Beselin, 181; Mrs. Berger, Williams before this term of court closes or Williams will be discharged on its closing

The prisoner in question will be remembered as one who assisted Robert Limerick in interrupting a game of authors or something else over Cliff Cole's nectar shop on Douglas street one night last winter and in carrying away the strong box. Limerick was released on his own recognizance some time ago, but Williams has been in jail ever since February 15, awaiting trial. Yesterday morning his attorney appeared with a motion to discharge him for lack of prosecution and the judge demanded of Deputy Attorney Burnam the reason for the delay of the trial.

"We can't find our complaining withess," answered the blushing prosecutor. The witness in question is said to be a gambler.

Comments of the Court.

"You can't! And meantime the prisoner, assumed to be innocent until proved guilty, has to lie in jail. I don't believe in tampering with any man's natural rights, and prisoner on its closing day. I've known alleria Rusticana" and the opera "Travmen to lie over there in that jail a year lata," with melodie in F and trombone solo waiting to be tried, but it isn't right, and it shall not be done with my consent." 'We were willing to have him released on his own recognizance, but Judge Baxter wouldn't do it," pleaded Burnam. "Judge Baxter hasn't bumped up against defending fellows as often as I have or he would do this thing once in a while," reoner over here and I'll release him on his own recognizance if you are so willing." "No, I would rather-well, there are cer- it is too hazardous an undertaking. tain reasons why I should prefer to wait until Judge Shields returns to the city." stammered Burnam.

'Very well," assented the judge, wearily. "Mr. Powers, I shall have to overrule your motion as premature. Until the present one shall close there will not have passed the necessary two full terms since the prisoner's commitment."

"When will this term close?" asked Powers. And everybody grew interested. "I don't know," was the judge's unsatis-

Other Prisoners Arraigned.

Prior to the Williams incident a number of prisoners were arraigned before Judge Estelle. Peter Carroll pleaded guilty to burglary and was sentenced to three years the penitentlary. He stole thirty pocketknives, several razors and 60 cents from the shop of Theodore Sinhold the night of July 7. Those who pleaded not guilty were: Aleck Williams, grand larceny; Jesse Adams, alias John Murray, forgery; John McGown, robbery; William Searle, burglary; Frank Wilson and George Parker, larceny from the person; John Berry, robbery; Author Buckner, shooting with intent to kill: Max Rubenstein, incorrigibility: Louis Brasher, Roy D. Shamblen and Ethel Lippold, adultery; Frank Straube, Fred Johnson and Ira Johnson, burglary.

The attorney for E. Rosewater asked time to examine the information filed by the county attorney, charging Mr. Rosewater with unlawful expenditures during the late campaign.

SOLDIER'S TRIP TO EUROPE Captain McClintock Plans Pleasan Four Months' Onting on the Other Side.

Monday evening Captain John McClinteck aide on the staff of General Bates, will go on leave of absence for four months with permission to go beyond the sea. Taking advantage of the leave he will go to Europe, sailing from New York August 7, accompanied by his mother, who will spend the summer with relatives in England. From the home in Vorkshire Captain Mc-Clintock will go to Aldershot, where he will, in a semi-official capacity, attend the fall review of the British troops upon the island. He will then join a party for a month's outing in the north of Scotland and on the Shetland islands. One of the features of the Scotch trip will be the stalking of deer in the highlands. After the visit to Scotland the captain will go to Germany and France, where he will attend the fall maneuvers of the troops of those countries, and will then make trip to St. Petersburg, returning to the United States some time in November.

HEDGE ABOUT HANSCOM PARK

Some Adjacent Residents Want Present Obstruction Removed.

MATTER TO COME BEFORE THE BOARD

Commissioner Gonden Will Present Petition Asking for Change Which Commissioner Cornish Will Oppose.

Twenty freeholders, whose residence property fronts upon Hanscom park, have petitioned the Board of Pank Commissioners to remove the hedge which surrounds that breathing spot and to cut down the "underbrush." The petition will be presented by Commissioner L. N. Gonden at the next meeting of the board.

"I agree with them," said Mr. Gonden that these changes should be made, and the reason for them is two-fold. First, it would improve the moral tone of the park; and, second, it would improve the view from the homes of the petitioners. A Plumber Reed, 231; Dad Huntington, 227; hedge around a park is English, not Amer-Lehmer, 225; Inches, 235; Weber, 221. At ican. A hedge, furthermore, defeats one of the principal purposes of a park, which is to beautify the neighborhood in which it is located. I see no reason why the people Lake Courtland, holds t he week's record living on Hanscom park should be compelled to gaze at an uninteresting and monotonous hedge when, with the hedge removed, their piazzas would command view of the entire park.

"I understand it is contended by those who oppose the change that the hedge was put there originally to shut out the view of the houses from the interior of the park, but I can't see the sense of that. For these reasons I shall advocate removing the hedge."

Cornish Opposes Change.

Commissioner Cornish, however, favors the imperialistic hedge. "That hedge is a part of the design," said he, "of one of the best landscape gardeners in the United States and to remove it would be to destroy the effect of seclusion and remoteness from the maddening throng which the designer had in mind. When a person goes to a park he doesn't want to feel that he's in someone's front yard; he doesn't want to look at a row of brick store buildings on one side and a row of dwellings, however handsome, on the other. That's what he went to the park to get away rom. The people whose property fronts how it shall be laid out than someone livthese changes would be to materially damage a park paid for by the people at large to humor the whim of a few individuals." a park, not a common," said a member. The idea of the landscape gardner was to make it sequestered, sylvan, primeval, and all that. That's why the hedge and the underbrush' found a place there.'

TALKS ABOUT PATENTS.

Mr. Sherman Gives Some Views in Regard to Selling These Articles.

"If you think a medicine can be put on the market and made a paying proposition vaudeville acts, the best in the country. in three or six months you are mistaken." Come and help the cause. Monday, July so remarked Mr. Charles R. Sherman of the firm of Sherman & McConnell Drug company, when asked in regard to the business of selling patent medicines. He named a number of instances where the with constipation to fill themselves full of people who had put medicines on the mardrugs, the effects of which are often more ket and had failed and others taken them injurious than otherwise. A method which up and finally had made successes, and not only gives immediate relief, but which others that had bright prospects, but had failed in the end. "It requires patient labor, good advertising and a meritorious article that the public have grown to have confidence in to make a paying investment in our line of business. Some start quicker than others, but you will find it is a long pull generally. We have the exclusive sale in Omaha for Mull's Grape Tonic and we are convinced it is a good dyspepsis cure or we would not handle it. This preparation the public is very rapidly finding out is just what is claimed for it, and while not the largest seller is growing in public favor all the time. This remedy is new to this country, but an old and tried one in Germany, and is called Traubenker there. We hope and feel en-couraged so far that Mull's Grape Tonic will be at the top of our list of patent

BIG WEEK AT MANAWA.

Musical Program of Covalt's Concert or build grain elevators in Nebraska?

Band for Today. Lake Manawa has enjoyed the largest week's patronage this season notwithstanding the rainy weather. The number of bathing parties being unusually large, especially during the afternoon. While no very large pionic gatherings have been held, many small family picnic parties have taken to the shores of Manawa and there spent the afternoons and evenings, enjoying the many features. The new electric launches that ply between Manawa park and Manhattan beach, as well as the steamer, have been well patronized every evening. Covalt's band has attracted large audiences and everybody who has heard it speaks in the highest praise of the entire band. Mr. Covalt has selected an unusually strong musical program for this week, which includes a fantasie on "My Old Kentucky Home," by Dalbey, acknowledged the finest concert number written for years. It is being played by all the celebrated bands of the east and invariably brings storms of applause. Sousa's march, "The Invincible Eagle," selections from "The Fortune Teller" and "The Runaway Girl" and the overtures "Hungarian Lustspiel" and "Lurine" are among the selections upon the program as well as a concert solo by Mr. A. A. Covalt and a picola solo, "Through the Air," by Mr. Lee H. Davis.
