

TRouble Over Sunday Ball

Nebraska City Players Again Arrested at Instance of Local Ministers.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT FAVORS THE GAME

Plebeian Shows Overwhelming Vote for, but Law and Order League Keeps Up Its Activity Against the Sport.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—Eight hundred and forty-four votes were cast at the plebeian held yesterday to get a line on the sentiment of the community in regard to Sunday base ball. It resulted, 526 for and sixteen against, with two votes thrown out. The registration is something over 1,400, so that the vote shows a substantial majority of all voters.

The Omaha team that had agreed to come down today for a game did not show up and it was necessary to substitute a local aggregation that has been in reserve for just such an emergency. Twelve hundred to 1,500 people were at the game. The officers of the Sunday Observance League secured a warrant from Judge Leigh and the paper was put into the hands of the sheriff. The game had proceeded to the end of the fourth inning, when the officers appeared and arrested the players. They were taken to the justice's office, where they gave a bond for $25 each for appearance Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The scene on the ball grounds when the sheriff appeared was one of wild disorder. The crowd cried loudly for the reading of the warrant, which the sheriff refused to do. An agreement was finally reached and the men finally went with the officers. The score at the end of the fourth inning was 4 to 0 in favor of the Argos.

GRAFTERS COME WITH CIRCUS

Hooper People Become So Enraged that Evening Performance is Abandoned.

HOOPER, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—Hooper does not have a circus very often, but yesterday was circus day here. How's Great London shows arrived in town early yesterday morning, but they were preceded by a gang of eighteen grafters who came in the evening before. It was undoubtedly the toughest aggregation that ever struck this town, and the circus, instead of giving its usual evening exhibition, started to pull stakes early in the evening and loaded its train at the time its show should have taken place. The mob had grown quite large around the tracks and several negroes were stationed around the cars with rifles to see that no violence was done.

The grafters had made application to ply their games on the streets, but were refused by the city clerk, so they did their work on the show grounds and inside the tents, and no less than twenty-five victims are mourning the loss of some spare change. One young man lost $100 at the shell game, another prominent farmer lost $50 and a score of others dropped from $5 to $25 each. One man short changed a dozen peaches for 14 to 15 each, and a number of women and men had their pocket-books snatched from their hands and their pockets picked in the crowd that was leaving the tent when the storm came up. Several men selling tickets out on the grounds were kept at bay by a mob of men who then appropriated the contents of his satchel. The work was all done so quickly that before the people realized what was being done the gamblers and their henchmen had boarded trains and got out of town, while several of their betted teams and drove out.

OVER ACRES OF CORN

is mostly washed away. The chief crop here, however, is corn, and there is the same ruin as at other places. In the vicinity of Quincy and Hannibal there is much unnecessary loss on account of the peculiar conditions of the flood. A smaller flood began to subside, when warnings from the Keokuk weather bureau observer was received and unheeded as being after the fact, which actually was before a new and extraordinary fact.

The levees protecting the Missouri bottoms between Keokuk and Quincy stood the strain of today's flood. The Egyptian levee is still several inches above the Des Moines river, which is now stationary here, at its mouth. Reports from Ottumwa show a fall of two feet. Points between show a fall also. The only threatening indications tonight are heavy clouds at Oskaloosa. Unless heavy rains occur the Des Moines will begin to fall here tomorrow.

Three Cloudbursts in New York

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 20.—The heavy rains prevailing in this section for the past few days reached a climax last night when three separate cloudbursts occurred within the limits of Broome county and several in surrounding territory to the northward, breaking mill dams, washing out railroad tracks and highway bridges, and doing much other damage, besides delaying trains. Four persons are dead and two are seriously injured. The loss to property will reach $200,000.

ADDITION TO REDUCTION PLANT

The Horseshoe Mining company Thursday last awarded a contract to Deadwood people to build a 100-ton addition to its present cyanide mill. This work will be carried on without interfering with the operation of the present plant, which has a capacity of 100 tons a day and which has been in successful operation for the last four months. The company has started work on a cyanide plant which will be entirely separate from the one which it is now operating and which it is adding to. This plant will have a daily capacity of 100 tons and is intended to try and have it in operation before real cold weather sets in.

NEW COMPANY ORGANIZED TO WORK THE GUSTIN GROUP, RECENTLY SOLD.

The owners are now sinking on the main vein, which is at the surface thirty feet wide. The ore at present is free-milling, but like all of the ore in this district will become rebellious as depth is attained, and with the change the ore will probably get richer. The shaft which has been started will be sunk as far as it can be without the aid of machinery, and should the results prove to be as good as indications now show hoisting machinery will be placed on the shaft and the work of sinking continued.

RENEW WORK ON NELSON CLAIM.

Sinking has been resumed on the Nelson ground, on the divide between Bare Butte and Elk creek and the shaft will be sunk until it has reached a depth of 300 feet. The ore at present is free-milling, but like all of the ore in this district will become rebellious as depth is attained, and with the change the ore will probably get richer. The shaft which has been started will be sunk as far as it can be without the aid of machinery, and should the results prove to be as good as indications now show hoisting machinery will be placed on the shaft and the work of sinking continued.
