BURLINGTON WANTS TRackage In Exchange for Right to Lay It Will Put Main Street to Proper Grade.

At the meeting of the city council last night an ordinance was introduced which would establish at the Mount Pleasant hospital a ward or wards to be designated as the State Hospital for Inebriates. This is in accordance with an act of the last general assembly directing such action.

The contract for replacing the bridge on North Tenth street over Indian creek was awarded to George C. Wice on his bid of $775. C. E. H. Campbell's bid of $775 was not considered, as it was said it was not in conformity with the plans and specifications of the city engineer. W. H. Knepper made a protest against the contract being awarded, on the grounds that bids had not been advertised for, but the council declined to entertain his protest.

The owners of the St. Joe barn on South Main street were given permission to temporarily repair the roof of the building with tar paper. It was stated that the building would shortly be torn down to make place for a brick warehouse. The keepers of the barn were arrested a few days ago for making these repairs contrary to the city ordinance governing repairs to buildings within the city limits.

Coroner's Jury Absolves Railway Employee from All Blame. The inquest held yesterday morning by Justice Carson, acting in the absence of Coroner Treynor, over the body of John B. Cash, killed by a Rock Island passenger train Sunday morning near the Union Pacific Transfer depot, resulted in the jury bringing in a verdict to the effect that Cash's death was purely accidental.

The appointment of William Brady as deputy poundmaster was approved. The city marshal was instructed to notify the Board of Education to repair the pavement on Bluff street and Fifth avenue, which has been undermined by the bursting of water pipe leading to the high school building. Fifty feet of the brick paving on concrete base has been undermined and will need relaying.

W. C. Utterback was granted permission to operate a saloon at 235 West Broadway and Dow Hutz one at 500 South Main street.

It was announced on the streets yesterday that the motor company was contemplating discontinuing the operation of the street car line between Council Bluffs and Omaha for $150.

The legislative committee of the Iowa Anti-Saloon league has employed Rev. H. H. Abrams of this city to solicit funds for carrying on work on behalf of a national law relating to transportation of liquors. The committee furnished Colonel W. P. Heppburn and others of the Iowa delegation with drafts of a bill proposed which would have for its object the prevention of interstate shipments of liquor where one state has a prohibitory law or would permit such shipments to come under the state laws. From this a bill was prepared which was introduced, but not urged upon congress. The Anti-Saloon league now proposes to raise a fund for employing a competent lobbyist to go to Washington and push the bill at the next session of congress. Assurance of support is said to have been received from a large number of congressmen. The league holds a meeting here in September, when further plans along this line will be laid.

Democratic Township Ticket. The democrats of Kane township placed the following tickets in nomination last night: For Justice of the Peace, Harvey O. Ouren, Samuel I. Albro; for constables, Charles Nicholson; John C. Swanson; for clerk, George Dentler; for trustee, R. I. Gallagher; for assessor outside the city, Thomas Peacock.

The convention of the Farmers' Hall in the county courthouse. Thomas E. Cassidy acted as chairman and J. J. Hughes as secretary.

Harvey O. Ouren is a member of the third class of the police academy. Charles Nicholson was formerly chief of the fire department and John C. Swanson was a member of Mayor Jennings' police force.

All Participants to Dividend. Judge Wheeler of the district court yesterday decided that the creditors of the Office & Pusey bank who had failed to file their claims within the statutory period against the Thomas Office estate were to be treated as creditors of the third class of the latter estate and ordered that J. J. Stewart, administrator of the estate, pay them the 5 per cent dividend, as paid those creditors who had filed their claims within the prescribed time. This ruling was in the case of Jens Larsen and a large number of creditors of the defunct bank brought last month against J. J. Stewart, administrator of the Office estate.

Real Estate Transfers. These transfers were filed yesterday in the abstract, title and office of J. W. TOO SMART FOR THE FARMER

New Oleo Law Works to the Advantage of Makers of Artificial Product.

PUT ON THE MARKET CHEAPER THAN EVER

Makers Get the Color of the Product of the Cow by Natural Means and Avoid Payment of the Extra Tax.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The law providing a heavy tax on oleomargarine of the colored sort has been in operation just three weeks, but enough has developed from its operation to show that the oleomargarine people have very much the better of the argument. The butter interests, which organized to secure the passage of the law, were clearly duped, and it is certain that the operation of the law will stimulate the sale of imitation butter.

Just before the passage of the bill the oleomargarine interests secured certain changes in the wording of the measure which have since permitted them to put their article on the market a cent and three-quarters a pound cheaper than under the old law. In the sparing this far for advantage under the enforcement of the act the oleomargarine men have proved themselves superior to the pure butter manufacturers and have secured several opinions from the commissioner of internal revenue which will greatly aid them in fighting their rivals.

Everything has hinged on that part of the law relating to the artificial coloring of oleomargarine. The pure butter people argued that if the color tax on oleomargarine of such products it would wipe them out of existence. Accordingly the farmers throughout the country were organized for the purpose of getting a bill through congress embodying this idea. An influential lobby was organized and the plea that the passage of the act would save the farmers higher prices for their cream. Tremendous pressure was brought to bear on congress to adopt it. A bitter fight was precipitated in congress and for two years the legislation was stayed off. The systematic campaign among the farmers oleomargarine that contains any ingredients intended to give it a color resembling pure butter. This loophole is being used by the oleomargarine people as a means of getting their wares before the public at even better rates than formerly.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that the 10-cent tax does not apply to oleomargarine, which takes its yellow color from an admixture of pure butter. Exemption is also made for oleomargarine that is colored with various kinds of vegetable oils, which are considered constituent parts of butter, such as cottonseed oil. It has been found that rich cream will impart a yellowish tint to oleo, so that it sells readily. The old law imposed a 3-cent tax on oleo, but the new act lowers this to one-fourth of a cent a pound on oleo not artificially colored. The oleo people are manufacturing their product nowadays under the head of uncolored oleo, and are required to pay only one-fourth of a cent a pound, thus saving a clear profit of 11 cents over the old rate. To this extent, therefore, the farmers of the country have lost through the enactment of the anti-oleomargarine bill.

BRUTAL HUSBAND IN CUSTODY. George Kront Maltreats Wife at Villisca, Ia., and is Captured by posse.

VILLISCA, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—George Kront is in the county jail at Red Oak where he was taken by the mayor for having beaten his wife. He was given a thirty-day sentence.

Mr. Kront has apparently kept the family by running a boarding house while her husband loafed about the streets.

It seems he has wanted her to quit the work of the family, but she has refused to do so. He has been violent and quarrelsome. He finally struck her a number of times over the head with his fist, knocking her to the floor, and then kicked her in the head and side.

Mr. Kront is said to be in a serious condition and some fears are entertained for her recovery. In case of her death the husband will be arrested on a charge of murder.

CAPTURE NEGRO MURDERERS. Two Negroes Charged with Killing Brakeman Powell Are in Custody.

DENISON, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Both the tall and the short negro said to be implicated in the murder near Arion of Fred D. Powell, brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, are in the county jail at this place. The tall negro, captured by the sheriff Sunday afternoon, has been identified as the one who did the stabbing, and not the short one, as has all the time been supposed.

W. H. Pfeiffer has seen the tall negro and says he is the one who talked to him at the Arion depot about the stabbing shortly after it occurred. The negro told Pfeiffer that he had a fight with a brakeman and had used a knife. The preliminary hearing will be held tomorrow.

May Run Short Line Into Des Moines. IOWA FALLS, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—The Des Moines, Iowa Falls & Northern road may be paralleled by an independent line from Cambridge on the Chicago, Minneapolis & St. Paul into Des Moines. This project is the outgrowth of some differences between the above road and the Whitebreast Fuel company, which owns some large coal properties in Polk county. The trouble is the outgrowth of the terms for right-of-way over the coal company's land and the charges the railroad company would make for hauling and switching the fuel company's products. The newly-proposed line, if built, will be eighteen miles long and will be operated merely as a coal road, not handling regular traffic.

Official Would Make Up Shortage. WATERLOO, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Pat Crowley, former treasurer of the local lodge of the American Federation of Labor, has remitted a draft for $100 to the local lodge. Some time ago he departed for parts unknown. The amount remitted, the officers say, does not cover the balance in his hands, but he will give time to make up the difference, which he says he will soon do. The officers are anxious to vindicate him of any wrong doing if he makes the proper accounting. No legal action had been taken, as he has always borne a good reputation.

DROWN IN A FLOODED FIELD. Iowa Farmer and Team Meet Death in Deep Water Near Clarinda.

CLARINDA, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Tip Long, a farmer living near Gravitt, Taylor county, was drowned today three and a half miles north of here. With another man he drove his team and wagon into fifteen feet of water on a flooded field. Near where he drove others had been driving through water knee deep. He was a stranger to the locality and was unable to swim. His horses were drowned. The man with him succeeded in saving himself.

Long was 24 years of age. He leaves a widow and child. He was on his way here to endeavor to secure reconciliation with his wife, who recently sued him in the Page county court for divorce.

His body was recovered after a few hours' search.

Ellsworth College Faculty. IOWA FALLS, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—The faculty for Ellsworth college in this city has just been announced and is by far the strongest in the history of that popular educational institution. The following, who are graduates of some of the leading universities and colleges in the country, will be in charge of the school at the opening of the coming year on September 1: President, A. J. Cavana, B. S., Iowa State college; Morton S. Peck, A. B., Cornell college; Caroline P. Elliott, Vassar; S. R. Fitts, Iowa State college; M. W. Hill, M. D., Bella M. Stout, M. E. Austin, Maude L. Austin, Margaret Miller, Northwestern university; Artemus E. Hulbeck, Oberlin Conservatory; Caroline W. Smith, Chicago Art institute, Lecturers, Judge S. M. Weaver of the Iowa supreme court, Dr. M. W. Hill and John H. Carleton, Maitron, Mrs. Julia B. Palmeter.

Druggists May Meet in Waterloo. WATERLOO, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Waterloo may get the next state convention of the druggists of Iowa. The convention at Sioux City closed without a meeting place being decided upon. The matter was left to the Black Hawk County Druggists' association, and those of this city are included. The local association is a strong one and will try to land the convention.

Dedicate Memorial Bell. CEDAR FALLS, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Cedar Falls is "old people's day" at the German Evangelical church, and was one of more than ordinary interest and importance to the members of that congregation. The memorial bell donated by Joseph Sartori in memory of his wife was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. Among the ministers who assisted in the service were Rev. A. Geetz, Rev. George Knoche and Rev. George Eckhard. Mrs. Sartori was one of the first members of the church, and was known all over the city for her works of charity.

Druggists May Meet in Waterloo. WATERLOO, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Waterloo may get the next state convention of the druggists of Iowa. The convention at Sioux City closed without a meeting place being decided upon. The matter was left to the Black Hawk County Druggists' association, and those of this city are included. The officers are anxious to vindicate him of any wrong doing if he makes the proper accounting. No legal action had been taken, as he has always borne a good reputation.

DROWN IN A FLOODED FIELD. Iowa Farmer and Team Meet Death in Deep Water Near Clarinda.

CLARINDA, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Tip Long, a farmer living near Gravitt, Taylor county, was drowned today three and a half miles north of here. With another man he drove his team and wagon into fifteen feet of water on a flooded field. Near where he drove others had been driving through water knee deep. He was a stranger to the locality and was unable to swim. His horses were drowned. The man with him succeeded in saving himself.

Long was 24 years of age. He leaves a widow and child. He was on his way here to endeavor to secure reconciliation with his wife, who recently sued him in the Page county court for divorce.

His body was recovered after a few hours' search.

Druggists May Meet in Waterloo. WATERLOO, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Waterloo may get the next state convention of the druggists of Iowa. The convention at Sioux City closed without a meeting place being decided upon. The matter was left to the Black Hawk County Druggists' association, and those of this city are included. The local association is a strong one and will try to land the convention.

Dedicate Memorial Bell. CEDAR FALLS, Ia., July 21.—(Special.)—Cedar Falls is "old people's day" at the German Evangelical church, and was one of more than ordinary interest and importance to the members of that congregation. The memorial bell donated by Joseph Sartori in memory of his wife was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. Among the ministers who assisted in the service were Rev. A. Ge
