BRIGGS ANSWERS DUNN'S PLEA

South Omaha Chief of Police Denies Several of the Deputy County Attorney's Assertions.

How Much Disadvantage Attaches to a Carbine in Target Practice is Likely to Be Officially Settled at Last.

The delay in arranging the programs for the infantry rifle competition at Fort Leavenworth which will be held next week is due to the efforts of the members of the engineer corps to enter members in the event. There are four companies of engineers, and no provision is made for them in the way of rifle competition. They are armed with Krag-Jorgenson carbines, a gun similar in every respect to the rifles of the infantry. They could possibly be accommodated in the competition, but they are asking that the length of the gun be considered and that the four men which they desire to enter be given an advantage of a certain percentage on account of the difference in the length of the piece. The managers of the competition are not inclined to do at this time, and the engineers are standing out. It may be that the handicap will be permitted, or they may enter regardless of the difference in the length of the gun. Until this question is settled the programs will not be issued. Captain Wright, inspector of small arms practice, may not be present at the competition. Mrs. Wright is ill and he may remain in the city, some member of the force under General Smith. The Seventeenth Infantry is now stationed in Oregon and the lieutenant will probably be ordered to take his place.

Was General Smith's Aide.

First Lieutenant Walter T. Bates of the Seventeenth Infantry is in the city, on his way to San Francisco, after a brief absence spent at St. Paul. Miss Minnie Linnemann Bates was on the staff of General Jacob H. Smith at the time that officer was alleged to have issued his "kill and burn" orders. The lieutenant will not discuss the questions involved in the court-martial proceedings, nor in the operation of the force under General Smith. The Seventeenth Infantry is now stationed in Oregon and the lieutenant will probably be ordered to take his command.

Captain D. E. McCarthy of the quartermaster's department, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, will arrive in Omaha Tuesday to be examined for promotion. The examining board will consist of Colonel McClelland, Colonel Fullman, Colonel Miller of the Twenty-second infantry, Captain Straub, surgeon, and Contract Surgeon Trobert, with Captain Newell of the Twenty-second as recorder.

Captain W. R. Grove, commissary officer at headquarters, left for Kansas City last evening on business connected with his office.

Work of Recruiting Office.

Captain H. N. Royden, recruiting officer of the army at Omaha, has established two branches in addition to the one at Lincoln. The first is at Fairbury, where Corporal Richards is in charge, and the second at Atlantic, Ia., with Fately in charge. At Atlantic there is an encampment of one of the Iowa regiments and the office at that place will be maintained only until the militia returns home. It is not expected that many recruits will be secured directly, but the Omaha office will be advertised by the branch and recruits will come in later from the militia and the towns in which the companies are stationed.

Recruiting is not very active at the Omaha branch.

Charles Grollemunt died some time yesterday morning and his body was found in a closet at his rooming house, 802½ South Thirteenth street, about 7 o'clock by J. C. Henry, another roomer at the place, who notified the coroner and the latter took charge of the remains. The coroner is satisfied that death was the result of heart disease and will likely hold no inquest.

Underneath Grollemunt's bed was found an old, battered tomato can, in which was $50 in gold and paper money. This was turned over to the county court by the coroner. The court later appointed Jacob Grollemunt of South Omaha, brother of the dead man, special administrator, and the same was turned over to him. Albert Bruch went to Grollemunt's home.

The dead man was 46 years of age, unmarried and a native of Switzerland. He came to Omaha several years ago and at the time of his death was employed at the flour warehouse. When found his body was still warm, as though death had occurred only a short time before.
