

QUIET AGAIN AT SHENANDOAH

Down Where Strikers and Policemen Fought There is Now Sweet Peace.

ARRIVAL OF SOLDIERS STOPS RIOTING

Beyond the Appearance of Men in Blue the Pennsylvania City Shows No Sign of Having Passed Through Trying Ordeal.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., July 31.—Twelve hundred state troops are camped today on a hill overlooking Shenandoah. Down in the town, where rioters and policemen fought the bloody battle last night, all is quiet, and the indications are that so long as the militia remains in the town the community will not again be broken.

The riot, which caused the soldiers to be sent here like a flash and was over almost as quickly as it had started and there has not been a single case of violence reported. The tens of thousands of idle men and boys in this vicinity who had been gathering in large numbers and marching from place to place did not repeat their demonstrations today and the authorities consequently had little or nothing to do.

The arrival of the soldiers proved to be a great attraction for the large army of unemployed and hundreds of men and boys came to town to see the troops.

The first companies to arrive came from St. Clair at 4 a. m. and from that hour until 5:30, when the governor's troops disembarked and halted on the main street, Shenandoah presented a live appearance. Most of the companies were on the ground by 10:30. The companies that did not arrive until afternoon were delayed on the railroad, while the troop of cavalry was held back because of the shipping of their mounts.

General Gobin on Scene Early. Brigadier General Gobin of the Third brigade, in command of the troops here, and his staff were on the scene early. The camp is located on a high hill just outside the town and commands a full view of the town. Within the camp lines are quartered two companies of infantry, two of cavalry, and four companies of the Thirtieth regiment and a troop of cavalry. General Gobin expressed himself as highly pleased with the rapidity with which the camp was established. The commander and his staff are quartered in the Pennsylvania Hotel, and the general's intention to get under canvas with his staff as soon as circumstances will permit.

Beyond the presence of a group of soldiers here and there Shenandoah does not show any evidence of having passed through a trying ordeal. The large number of persons who had been attracted to the place by the presence of the militia left town tonight and the town presented its normal appearance. The major portion of the population is made up of foreigners and a rule they kept close to their homes during the day. It is claimed by the citizens of the town that the foreign element was solely responsible for the trouble. Most of the curious persons gathered in the vicinity of the Philadelphia & Reading depot, where the riot occurred. The station shows many bullet marks of the battle. A strong guard was placed around the station so that the crowd would not delay the soldiers as they left the train and marched to the camping grounds.

Not Under Martial Law. Contrary to popular belief, Shenandoah is not under martial law. The local authorities and the sheriff of the county have not relinquished control of the town and they remain in a complete control of their respective affairs as they did before the troops reached here. The soldiers are merely in camp on the outside of the town. It was deemed advisable, however, by the brigadier general to establish a provost guard in certain parts of the town. Major Norman S. Farquhar of Pottsville is the provost marshal. So long as the situation remains as it is at present there is no likelihood that the regimental companies will be scattered through the mining towns of Schuylkill county, as the intention of General Gobin was to keep the troops occupy their time by going through drills, target practice and general camp routine.

General Gobin sent a busy day informing himself of the situation throughout the country. He had a personal interview with Sheriff S. Rowland Bedall in the forenoon and a telephone conference with him in the afternoon. The general also received messages from various parts of the territory. In an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press tonight General Gobin said:

The general situation is very quiet. There were no incidents during the day worthy of note, except the arrival of the Pennsylvania freight trains. It seems that a lot of the idle men, for want of something better to do, are coming to the depot from one town to another. They call such rides "Johnny Mitchell excursions." I have received reports from different parts of the country which tell of meetings, marches, attacks on individuals, and the like. I am confident, however, that the authorities to enforce the law. Upon these dispatches I am depending largely upon what the sheriff is going to do. We are here to give him support in his efforts to enforce the civil law. We were ordered here because of his inability to do so. The national government has no opinion to express on the merits of the question, expressed by either side of the controversy, as that is not within its province.

Mine Workers Increased. The mine workers are greatly increased over the calling out of the troops. They assert that this action was entirely unwarranted and is an unjustifiable expense on the state. The strikers, through their officials, are making an effort to have the troops withdrawn. The first step in this direction was taken this afternoon, when the following telegram was sent from here to Governor Stone:

We, the undersigned officials of the Ninth district of the miners' union, and the representatives of the Pennsylvania troops to Shenandoah, are making an effort to have the troops withdrawn. COURT ENJOINS MITCHELL

President of Mine Workers' Union Must Not Interfere with Employers.

MUST STAY AWAY FROM THE MINES

Strikers Are Also Prohibited from Parading in a Body Near the Properties of the Coal Companies.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 31.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, has been enjoined. A bill in equity was filed in the federal court here today by the Chesapeake and Ohio Coal Agency company, a New Jersey corporation, which is the principal employer of the city of New York, in which fifty coal companies operating in the new river field of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, G. W. Purcell, W. B. Purcell, John Mitchell, J. W. Carroll, J. A. Richards and about 150 members of the United Mine Workers of America, are named as defendants.

The bill set up that the complainant is engaged in selling coal and coke and has a contract for the output of the pollerries made a party defendant and a contract with the defendant railroad company for the shipment of the coal so purchased; that the coal is transported by the defendant under contract to manufacturing concerns, etc., and to the United States government for fuel on naval vessels; that because of a strike in the field embraced by the various companies mentioned, which has existed since June 1 last, the coal companies have failed to occupy the contract for delivery of coal; that there exists a secret organization known as the United Mine Workers of America, of which John Mitchell is president and W. B. Wilson is secretary, under the orders of which the men employed in the mines who are members of this organization have quit work and refuse to do their duty, and in addition thereto assemble in marches and meetings and so conduct themselves as to intimidate employees of the various companies, thus preventing them from going to work, which they desire to perform; that the said defendants have quit their houses of the various companies and fail and refuse to vacate them at the request of the coal companies owning them.

Bill is Lengthy One. The bill, which is a very lengthy one, was presented to Judge Keller today and he made an order that a temporary restraining order is allowed, restraining and prohibiting the defendants, G. W. Purcell, W. B. Purcell, John Mitchell, J. W. Carroll, J. A. Richards and others (all of whom are named in the order), and all others associating or acting with them from in any way interfering with the management, operation or conducting of the mines by the owners or those operating them, either by strike, threats or any character of intimidation used to prevent the employees of the mines from going to or from the mines and coke plants, or from engaging in the business of mining in the mines or laboring upon the coke plants.

The defendants and all others associated with them are restrained from entering upon the property of the owners of the mines and coke plants, or in any way molesting, interfering or intimidating the employees of the coal companies mentioned, so as to induce employees to abandon their work in the mines or to prevent any person who may desire to enter the employment of coal companies or to work in the mines or upon said coke yards.

The defendants are further restrained from marching and parading in a body armed, or so near to the property of the coal companies as to be a menace to the "starvation" of the property of the coal companies as to intimidate any person or persons at work or desiring to work.

The motion for a permanent injunction to set down for hearing at Charleston November 15, 1902. The court, however, has taken no cognizance of the request to have the defendant coal companies force the defendant individuals to vacate the tenement houses.

NO STARVATION INJUNCTION

Judge Denies Having Enjoined Giving Food to the Strikers.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 31.—Federal Judge Keller gave out the following statement tonight:

"I would like to have a correction of a statement circulated that I had issued an injunction such as has been denominated the 'starvation' of the property of the coal companies, not from personal reasons, but on account of the effect such a statement might have upon the struggle now going on between labor and capital. I have issued no order restricting the furnishing of supplies to the striking miners."

BOILERMAKERS TO WALK OUT

Shipbuilders Also Involved in Differences in Chicago Shops.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Refusal of employers to sign a scale of wages presented today by the Boilermakers and Shipbuilders union is expected to result in a strike of 3,500 men tomorrow. Thirty-five shops are affected by the strike order and before the struggle is over other trades may become involved.

KELLER REPLIES TO LOUD

President of Letter Carriers Stirred Up by the Californian.

ACCUSES HIM OF MISREPRESENTATION

Denies that the Postal Employees Have Raised a Corruption Fund to Influence Legislation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, July 31.—(Special.)—President J. C. Keller of the National Association of Letter Carriers, who has just returned from a trip through the west, has written a letter to the official organ of his association, the Postal Record, which will appear in the next issue of that journal, refuting the charges made by the Californian, chairman of the committee on postoffice and post roads, for that gentleman's opposition to the bill reclassifying letter carriers. In analyzing the last speech Mr. Loud made in the house on this subject, Mr. Keller characterizes it as a most remarkable effort. "Remarkable," he says, "for its inaccuracies as well as its misrepresentations." Mr. Keller, in the most emphatic language, brands as a lie Mr. Loud's charge that the carriers are trying to lobby their bill through congress by the use of money.

TECUMSEH, Neb., July 31.—(Special Telegram.)—The first thing on the program at the Tecumseh chautauqua this morning was a chorus drill under the direction of Prof. Lee Kratz of Omaha. This was followed by a suffrage conference, which was led by Mrs. M. H. Marble of Table Rock.

This afternoon Hon. Thomas Darnell of Lincoln lectured on "Remedy for Intemperance," and Superintendent A. B. Whitmer on "What is a Great Man and How Can You Tell Him?"

ARGO STARCH PLANT CLOSED

Nebraska City Factory Receives What Citizens Consider Final Blow to Industry.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 31.—(Special.)—Duncan A. McHugh, who has been manager of the Argo Starch factory since the retirement of Carl Morton some two years ago, has been relieved, the plant shut down and left in charge of John Darley, who has been foreman of the shipping department for some time.

The letter bearing the tidings was short, practically no explanation accompanying it. In all probability this is the final blow to the industry which has been the pride of Nebraska City since its opening May 1, 1892.

The old men who have been here ever since the plant started have gone elsewhere to seek employment and the citizens are feeling bitter over the affair.

Plattsburgh, Neb., July 31.—(Special.)—William Haberman, a German in the employ of Attorney Byron Clark in this city, possesses a valuable memorial medal. It was presented by the present emperor of Germany, and given in memory of his grandfather, a soldier in the Franco-Prussian war.

Beaver City, Neb., July 31.—(Special.)—Susan R. Groathouse today filed a petition in district court suing Furnas county for $5,000 damages as a result of the death of her husband who was drowned in a canyon south of Oxford July 1. The petition alleges that the county was negligent in the matter of the repair of a small bridge and that as a result the deceased came to his death. As a defense it will be endeavored to be shown that Groathouse was intoxicated at the time of the accidental drowning and that the county should not be held responsible.

Friends for Fair Play. The president of the association, pleads earnestly for fair play, an attribute, he declares, Mr. Loud is not afflicted with, and attacks Mr. Loud for urging the carriers be burdened with increased pay. Mr. Keller goes into a technical discussion of the salaries of letter carriers and their substitutes, offering substantiated facts and figures to prove the emptiness of Mr. Loud's arguments, that they are sufficiently remunerated. In conclusion, Mr. Keller says: "One thing, however, is certain, no attempt to create dissension in the ranks of the carriers will ever meet with success. The carriers have met every condition imposed upon them by presidential or departmental orders. They ask for an increase of pay as a matter of right and justice. They want it on a time when they are doing their best to serve the country in the manner expected of them; but they want to get it honestly, and in striving for better conditions they will never be led to abuse either the postoffice clerks or the railway mail clerks. We believe that those deserving representative of the postal service are entitled to better conditions, and, like the carriers, could get them as a matter of right and justice."

Representative Sulzer of New York when in Washington stated that among other matters which he proposed to discuss in his campaign was the bill for the classification of the letter carriers. "I consider it very unwise," he said, "that congress should continue to appropriate excessive salaries to the carriers of the mails by the railroads and refuse justice to the men on foot. I was astonished at the attack made on the postal employees, and particularly on the letter carriers, by the chairman of the postoffice committee. The sensitive Louder, toward the close of the session, Mr. Loud has been a constant opponent of every effort to increase the wages of the postal employees, and just as persistent in behalf of the great railroad corporations. Mr. Loud maintains that we should resist the assaults on the postal service that are made by the employees of the postal service, especially the letter carriers, and I would like to know whether this is a mere subterfuge in order to keep us from the real issue, which is the payment of ten times as much for handling and carrying the mails as is paid for carrying express matter, in the same cars, behind the same engines, on the same trains and over the same roads. I believe that if the government paid the railroads a fair price, instead of the present exorbitant rates, we could extend the postal service beyond anything ever dreamed of in this country. I believe we could have free delivery service in every nook and cranny of this country and that we could have that for fear we might accidentally discover what is the real strain on our treasury our attention is constantly diverted to the postal clerks, the railway mail clerks and particularly to the letter carriers, for fear they might impoverish us." Mr. Loud, in his speech on this subject, spoke of the substitute carriers earning $350 a year, on the average, but he neglected to state, and thereby created a wrong impression, that the money the substitute earns is taken from the salary of the regular carriers. It is $500 either the maximum salary which any letter carrier can receive is $450, and only in about fifty-five can they receive $1,000. In hundreds of postoffices employing three or four carriers, if the substitute earns $350, $250 must come from the salaries of the regular carriers for the government for the serving of
