

HAYDEN'S $25.00 Reward!

For the arrest and conviction of any one pretending to represent Hayden Bros. pictures or photo enlarging departments. The high grade and popularity of our work has induced some unscrupulous persons in and around Omaha to represent themselves as Hayden Bros' agents, and then extorting outlandish prices for cheap work, and in some cases making no returns to the customer whatever. We offer the above reward for the arrest and conviction of any such defrauder.

Do your business directly with the store. We have no agents or representatives of any kind.

"Fighting Joe" Wheeler Gives Miss Rives a Quaint Saying.

A ROMANCE OF THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE

Five Short Stories by Richard Harding Davis Grouped in One Volume Under the Title of "Ranson's Folly."

"Fighting Joe" Wheeler is responsible for a most characteristic bit in Miss Rives' new novel, "Hearts Courageous," which is one of the big popular sellers of this season. The auburn-haired southern girl and the grizzled little veteran, who had been a long and close friend of hers, sat dining together at the Waldorf one evening a few months ago. The general was telling stories of the humorous side of the Cuban campaign. "One of my colored hostlers," he said, "unwittingly got under fire on the day of the San Juan fight and I asked him how he liked it. 'Taist de canons an' sech what flusters me,' he said; 'et des dem dar zipzrechey critters day calls Mousers, what goes eroun' holierin' 'Whar-is-is-yo?' 'Whar-is-is-yo?'"

"Des needn't be lookin' fer dis yer chicken!" Miss Rives clapped her hands. "Oh," she cried, "I'm up that! I've got a negro body in my new book that will fit exactly!" And this is how "John-the-Baptist," the quaintly humorous character of "Hearts Courageous" was given one of his most quoted sayings.

"In the Eagle's Talon" is a romance of the Louisiana Purchase by Sheppard Stevens, author of "Am the King." In the present novel Mr. Stevens has written a romance in which the court life in France and wild primitive life in the new world are vividly contrasted. The hero, Louis Lefevre, is betrothed to a lively, coquettish young girl, Felicite. His rival for her hand persuades a young Indian maiden to claim Louis for her lover, and Felicite accepts her word rather than that of her betrothed. Louis' uncle sends him to France to rescue his cousin, a beautiful young girl upon whom the first consul has designs. The scenes between Napoleon and this brave young girl are among the most dramatic in the book, which abounds in incident and adventure. Published by Little, Brown & Co.

The budget of good things in the August St. Nicholas is sufficiently well assorted to tickle the fancy of all sorts and conditions of children. "Tom Jarnagan, Jr." is the long story. It is vigorous, natural and decidedly interesting. "Slimpie Sir Marma-Duke" is a delightful bit of nonsense verse, Largest assortment in city. Extra parts of all kinds. Also a full line of table tennis sets—$1.00 to $10.00.
