

MILLION FOR IMPROVEMENTS

What Consolidation of Omaha and Council Bluffs Railways Means.

BIG NEW POWER HOUSE TO BE BUILT

Secretary Morse Returns from New York and Makes Official Statement Regarding Consolidation and Work in Prospect.

W. V. Morse, secretary of the Omaha Street Railway company, returned yesterday morning from a visit to New York City, where he has been for several weeks. He said:

"Arrangements have nearly been completed whereby the Missouri river bridge at the foot of Douglas street, the Council Bluffs street railway lines, the Lake Manawa line, the Suburban Railway company and kindred interests will all pass to the management and control of the Omaha Street Railway company.

"This means much for the two cities. Better service, better cars and better tracks are what the people require. This change will give them all. During the coming year the old tracks and equipment will be almost entirely replaced, and while everybody knows the necessity of obtaining railway materials, still plans are already under way for obtaining the material and the completion of the work outlined.

Improvements in Prospect.

"In this connection it may be of interest to state that plans are also under way for the reconstruction of all the old tracks of the Omaha Street Railway company, the purchasing of new equipment and the erection of a very large and up-to-date power house, all of which will entail an expenditure of more than $1,000,000, but the Omaha Street Railway company recognizes its ability to handle them and will do so with vigor. Some suburban lines of considerable importance to the two cities are under consideration, but as yet nothing definite can be announced regarding them.

"A great forward movement lies in the immediate future for Omaha, and these large expenditures, coupled with expenditures by other corporations and private individuals and reinforced by the gigantic crops now almost certain, should make 1903 the banner year for Omaha people."

New Power House.

Speaking of the new power house, Mr. Morse said that the exact site had not been determined upon, but that it might be erected near the present station. "This house will be used to supply power to the Nebraska lines," said he, "while the power house in Council Bluffs will be used to supply power to the lines in Iowa. New machinery has recently been placed in that house and it will be improved otherwise."

"Of the suburban lines mentioned one will be to Florence, the material for that being on hand. It will run from Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue to Twenty-fourth and Fort streets, thence west to Thirtieth street, and thence north to the main street in Florence. The company desires to begin work on the line on Thirtieth street at the same time the new tracks are to be constructed that street. It hopes to build the line along the east side of the street, where it will least interfere with wagon traffic and where it may operate its cars at a higher rate of speed than would be possible if the track were laid along the center of the street. While arrangements contemplate making the crossings of the track at the wagon roads easy, it is the intention of the company to so raise the tracks from the ground along the sides of the streets that trouble from snow in winter will be reduced to the minimum.

Quiet About Suburban Line.

"The officers of the company will not speak of the other suburban line which is projected in the statement of Mr. Morse. So far as can be learned the consolidation of the street car lines will in no way change the rates for the lines between the different points on the line. Between certain hours the fare from Council Bluffs to Omaha and return is only 5 cents, while the fares to other places are as low as the company believes that the service will warrant.

BARNARD FAVORS HOME TRADE

Says Board of Education Should Not Buy Supplies from Other Cities.

A call was issued yesterday by Secretary Burgess of the Board of Education for a special meeting of the board to be held Monday evening to consider the awarding of contracts for printing and for uniforms for the high school cadets.

This meeting was called at the instance of President Barnard and promises to attract considerable attention among local printers and supply houses, as it has been suggested that the contracts be awarded to firms outside of the city. The printers have already made strong protest against the proposed action of the board and the houses which supply uniforms are as anxious to hold the order in Omaha.

"Omaha is going out after trade," said one of the members of the board, "and it would give it a black eye to have the school board order its supplies from another city. For my part I recognize the fact that Omaha houses are a little higher in price, but I do not believe the difference is sufficient to warrant the board in sending the orders out of town."

AFTER REFEREE GOW'S SCALP

Commissioner Connolly Declares War on Clerk in Frank Brown-draws Office.

It is highly probable that when Frank A. Broadwell, clerk of the district court, returns next week to his desk, the first communication that will confront him will be one from the Board of County Commissioners recommending that he dispense with the services of Allen T. Gow, Commissioner Connolly said yesterday that he and at least two other members were certain to vote to make such recommendation when the board meets Saturday.

Such action will be the result of Mr. Gow having assigned to Attorney W. H. DeFrance for a consideration his claim against the county for $1,800 and DeFrance having secured this week from Judge Read a preliminary writ of mandamus ordering the board to draw warrants for the amount. Chairman Hofstetler says that he expects the warrants to be drawn today, but Commissioner Connolly predicts that the case will be carried into the supreme court eventually.

The Gow claim is for services rendered between June, 1900, and July, 1901, as referred in the old suits of Frank R. Moore against the county for $1,800 and DeFrance today said that the court rendered judgment it ordered that Moore pay Gow $530 and that the county pay him (Gow) $1,480. After waiting a year for his money Gow last month assigned the claim against the county to DeFrance and DeFrance immediately started proceedings to collect. Moore had already paid what was due from him.

Commissioner Connolly says: "We won't stand for this, because the claim is unreasonable. When the matter of a referee came up and Gow, who was imported from Lincoln by Albyn Frank, then clerk of the court, was recommended, we called him before the board and asked what the service was likely to cost. He said that he thought it wouldn't be more than $600. The county attorney took the same figure as his estimate. But when Gow presented his bill it was $1,480, and when we asked for particulars he said that the services of a Miss France, a stenographer, cost $600 and that she needed the money. Two of us went to Miss France and she told us that she had already received $150 and that she expected to be paid another $150 and that $300 would be fair compensation for what she had done. Later, perhaps after Gow had seen her, she talked to us again and said that she had been mistaken and that $600 was the amount due her. All this time Gow was drawing his $100 per month from the county for his regular work. Now he has forced the issue and we propose to get his scalp and to carry the case into the supreme court."

TALKS OF CONVENTION DATE

Chairman Goss Believes County Republicans Will Meet September 20.

Chairman Goss of the county central committee thinks it probable that the republican convention will be on Saturday, September 20, with the primaries the day previous. Yesterday morning he said: "I have no personal preference in dates and have not had expression from other members of the committee, but it just occurs to me in glancing over the calendar that as the usual date seems to be for a date late in September, we will have to slip in before the Ak-Bar-Ben festivities, which are to be on from September 24 to October 4. We couldn't very well have the convention on any of those ten days, and particularly on the last Saturday, the 27th, as that I believe is the date of President Roosevelt's visit."

"I do not, of course, give this as a formal announcement, as there can be no authoritative until the committee has acted, but I expect to call it together at a date so early that should it decide upon September 20 there will still be the necessary twenty days elapsing between the time of the call and the primaries. So far as I know now, the committee will be assembled Saturday, August 23.

"I have not been informed of the plans of the congressional committee, but if, as I infer, it is not favorable to the Crawford system, I don't see why one convention shouldn't do the nominating of both tickets and save the cost of an additional primary, which is quite an item."

TAKING UP THE BRIDGE CASE

Special Committee to Investigate Work Done by Drake for County.

The special committee consisting of County Surveyor Edquist, R. B. Howell and Scott King, which is to investigate the last county board's transactions with Robert E. Drake for the construction of the bridge at the county poor farm, which investigation was put on foot in response to a request from O'Keefe, met yesterday in Edquist's office and organized by selecting the committee's members. Monday it is to meet there again in open session and begin its task, the first part of which will be the examining of the instructions which the board approved at the heated meeting on Thursday of last week. Later the investigators will examine the bridge.

O'Keefe was not satisfied with the instructions and this morning he declined the request of the other members that he sign them. The instructions require that the committee ascertain if the bridge meets the requirements of plans and specifications that O'Keefe intimates have been manufactured here and that he investigate and that are signed by former County Board. The investigators say that they will consider no paper that does not bear the filing stamp of the county clerk.

A Sure Cure for Diarrhoea.

Coming as it does, in the busiest season, when a man can least afford to lose time, a sure and quick cure for diarrhoea is very desirable. Anyone who has given it a trial will tell you that the quickest, surest and most pleasant remedy in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is no loss of time when it is used, as one or two doses of it will cure any ordinary attack. It never fails, not even in the most severe and dangerous cases.

JEALOUSY PROMPTS ASSAULT

Masked Man Holds Up Two Girls and Gives Them Severe Beating.

GIRLS SAY THEY CAN IDENTIFY BRUISER

Warrant Out for Arrest of Eugene Townsend, Whom the Girls Accuse of Having Committed the Assault.

Ellen and Florence Barker, the daughters of J. N. Barker, 4810 Camden avenue, were assaulted and badly beaten by a masked man, whom the girls said was Eugene Townsend, Thursday night. Florence Barker, who is 13 years of age, fainted after being taken home and is confined to her room from the effects of the beating and from nervous prostration caused by fright. Miss Ellen Barker has a dangerous cut in her right eye, where the man struck her in the face and broke her glasses, a piece of which went in her eye. A warrant has been issued for Townsend's arrest.

The assault occurred at Fortieth and Fort streets as the girls were returning home alone. The man jumped from the woods near the sidewalk and grabbed the elder of the two girls, Ellen Barker, by the arm. She screamed for help and he struck her in the face. The blow broke her glasses.

Strikes Her in the Face. Florence Barker screamed and started to run, when the man released the elder sister and turned his attention to her. He struck her several times in the face, blacked both eyes and caused them to swell almost shut. Her face was also badly bruised.

By this time several of the residents of the vicinity were attracted by the screaming of the girls, and the man released the younger sister, jumped and back in the woods and made his escape. At the time he grabbed the girl he wore a white handkerchief over the lower part of his face, but in the scuffle this was torn partially off and the sisters are sure their assailant was Eugene Townsend.

On several occasions Townsend has attempted to force his attentions on the elder of the sisters, and as he had been repulsed repeatedly it is believed his action was the result of jealousy. He is 21 years of age and resides at Forty-second and Fort streets. He works at Armour's in South Omaha. The girls told the city prosecutor that Townsend had attempted to assault several of the girls of their neighborhood.

UNEASY ABOUT THEIR WAGES

County Officials Observe that General Fund Runs Low at an Early Date.

The county commissioners are preparing to pass at Saturday's meeting another appropriation sheet to carry $12,956.92. This will reduce the amount remaining of the 25 per cent of the general fund to only about $37,000 and, as the salaries for each of the remaining ten months of the year will be about $5,000, the county employees grew uneasy yesterday and County Clerk Harry C. Miller backed Chairman Hogsett into a corner to find out how the board proposes to take care of the county force after that amount is exhausted. The chairman stated that he thought this appropriation sheet will be the last on which general fund warrants will be drawn and paid this year and that the $37,000 and what is collected in old taxes and on the 15 per cent of the present levy will take care of the salaries. For the other debts that will accumulate the county will have to give warrants that will pile up some more of the 1 per cent interest accumulation that is already a large factor in county expense.

The board has just been confronted with a new problem. The Klapp-Bartlett Printing company has filed a claim of $120 for interest on an amount the county has owed the firm since last fall, but for which it issued no warrant until recently. John Flynn, a South Omaha merchant, has made a similar claim. Chairman Hogsett says that the board has never been asked before to pay interest on a bill until the warrant was issued and he does not know what will be done.

GOING AT A RAPID PACE

Young Men from Missouri Being Shown Some Tricks of the City.

B. W. Gist of Craig, Mo., formerly of Falls City, Neb., complained to the police Thursday morning that while intoxicated the night before he had been robbed of a diamond ring valued at $700 and $10 in cash. When Gist realized that he had been robbed it was 5 o'clock Thursday morning and he was in bed at the Midland hotel, with his clothes still on. The register showed that the room had been rented to J. D. Whillson.

Gist was still intoxicated when he complained to the police and could not remember being out with anyone, but did remember that he had been to 1709 California street. Detectives Drummy and Mitchell went to that address yesterday and there recovered the ring and money from A. Schwak, who informed them that Gist had been in his room the night before and that he had taken the property in order to keep Gist from being robbed. He had then secured him a room at the Midland hotel and paid for it. He did not explain why he registered Gist under an assumed name. The property was returned to Gist. Gist recently received $80,000 from the estate of a relative and has been seeing the world. Two weeks ago he was sent to Omaha by his guardian, Banker Kellogg of Falls City, for treatment by Dr. Lord. He has been stopping at the Union hotel and Thursday night left there after first depositing with the clerk all his valuables except his ring and $10. Yesterday he was taken to Dr. Lord's office by the officers and during the absence of the doctor made his escape and was found only after several hours' search.
