

PARADE FOR THE PRESIDENT

Final Arrangements for September 27 Made by Board of Governors.

NO POLITICS IN THE DEMONSTRATION

President Roosevelt Will Review Pageant from Stand in Front of City Hall and No Speech Is Expected.

According to the plans of the board of governors of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for the reception of President Roosevelt, September 27, the president will find in Omaha a little rest from his travels. It is expected that the itinerary of the chief executive will be altered so as to bring his train into Omaha at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. At 6 o'clock a dinner will be given to him at the Omaha club. After the dinner, at which there will be no speaking of any kind, the president will be given an opportunity to rest until 8 o'clock, when he will be driven to the reviewing stand to witness the parade. That stand will be erected in front of the city hall, which will make the parade appear before the chief executive after it has accomplished the greater part of its journey.

Because of the large crowd which will be present the line of march of the parade has been extended over a wider scope than in previous years. It will leave the den promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and is expected to reach the corner of Sixteenth and Cumings street half an hour later. On Sixteenth street the parade will move to Howard, thence to Tenth, thence to Farnam, thence to Nineteenth, thence to Harney, thence to Fifteenth, thence to Capitol avenue, thence to Sixteenth, thence to Cumings, where it will end.

The pageant will have passed the reviewing stand in time to permit the presidential party to leave the city at 10:30, according to schedule. There will be no speech made by the president unless he desires to say something from the reviewing stand before the pageant arrives at that point.

No Politics in It.

The board desires to emphasize the non-political character of the reception, as there will be nothing of the nature of politics suggested. The committee of the board will immediately start out to raise the $500 necessary to pay the expenses which attaches to the parade to be given in honor of the president. It is absolutely necessary to raise this money, as it is the intention of the board to give the same parade October 2, the time upon which it is advertised, as many of the people in the country have made arrangements to come on that day, and cannot come September 27.

At the meeting at the den last night an appeal was made for volunteers to take places on the floats and to ride horses in the parade. As the first day is to be made a week earlier than was expected, the volunteers must get to work as soon as possible. All knights who are willing to assist in this feature of the work are requested to send their names and addresses to Fred Metz, who has charge of this work.

These Pass the Veil.

The class who passed the veil last night was one of the largest of the year, about 110 people from other cities taking part. Among them were:

FIRE AND POLICE BUSINESS

Governor's Board Holds Busy Session, but Without Any Sensation.

Soon after 8 o'clock last night the new Board of Fire and Police Commissioners held an extended executive session, after which it transacted some routine business before a small crowd which had gathered expecting to see the affair. After this meeting the board again met in executive session, first instructing Clerk Kierstead to close the doors as he went out. News-

PROMISED AT THE THEATER

Manager Burgess Gives a Partial List of His Season's Bookings.

BEST IN ALL LINES HAVE BEEN DATED

Light and Grand Opera, Tragedy and Comedy, Society Drama and Farce by the Best Actors Now on the Stage.

The genius of Mascagni given expression under Mascagni's own baton; the imposing spectacle of the Ben Hur chariot race with three competing; the unstinted melody, mirth and magnificence of "The Goose Girl," with Grace Cameron in the title role; the craft of the most crafty Gille exploited in "The Black Hologram" sensations; the polished picturing of Kyrie Bellew in late settings; imperious Mansfield as imperial Caesar; William H. Crane incarnating David Harum; DeWolf Hopper exploiting his tunneling voice and towering legs; Francis Wilton's grimacing and quaking in "The Toreador"; the Bostonians winking with something new and presumably delicious; other tural folk in George Ade's "Sultan of Sulu," the "Chinese Honeymoon," "The Chaperone," "San Toy" and "The Wise Fool"; other folk less tuneful but equally capable in "Liberty Bells," "Captain Jenks," "Alice of Old Vincennes," "The Fatal Wedding" and "When Knighthood Was in Flower." The Frohman production of "Under Two Flags," E. H. Sothern, Frederick Warde, Louis James, Stuart Robson, Nat Goodwin and those many brilliant satellites that are twinkling this season about the planetary person of Amelia Bingham in "The Modern Magdalen"—all these are to be Omaha's before another June sun shall close the doors of Body's theater and amuse-ment seekers to the shade of parks.

Manager Burgess Vouches.

The promise is authoritative. It came from Manager W. J. Burgess, who returned yesterday afternoon from New York city, where he spent two full weeks scanning the long list of offerings and contracting for those that he thought his patrons would prefer. Today he will set artisans at work cleaning the theater throughout, re-flooring parts of it and boxing the office to the east side of the lobby, that the present chamber of finance may be given over entirely to people who await friends or who wish to telephone other friends for whom they have waiting long enough.

Besides his list of captives he brought back Mrs. Burgess and a severe cold. The former joined him in Chicago for the trip home and the latter joined him in Gotham for what promises to be an all summer's engagement. In a voice that alternated between the data of business and the sharps of "Dr. Pangloss" he told a reporter the story of his trip, saying:

"When we left Colorado Springs after two weeks' rambling about through the canyons and up the peaks, we went directly through to the east, Mrs. Burgess stopping off at Chicago to visit her relatives who live near there. I was busy in New York from the moment of my arrival until that of my departure, half the time with the theatrical business and the other half with my prospects. I didn't see a warm day the whole time I was gone.

Strong on Light Opera.

"But I feel well rewarded, for I consider the list I secured a splendid one, with more light opera than usual, as I believe that to be the thing that will be in demand this winter. I contracted early for Grace Cameron in four performances in January of 'The Goose Girl,' which has the guarantee of Fred Whitney's name and of which all New York is talking in the season. One of the performances will be a matinee.

"I captured 'Ben Hur,' and with it a guarantee of a full production, and will have to give up the house two days in advance, if they may get the stage rebuilt for the performance. It is conceivable, however, that 'The Modern Magdalen,' with Amelia Bingham and the famous all-star cast that includes Henry E. Dixey, William Stoddard, Joseph Holland, W. J. Ferguson and Wilton Lackey, will be here in October. We secured it by rare good fortune for the opening of our new theater, the Wilton Wood, next Monday night, the company going from there directly to Powers' in Chicago. Mr. Wood has provided what I consider the finest, most modern playhouse on this continent, with not a stick of wood in it. Its opening has had to be postponed twice, but that is for the sake of perfection that is to result. He is 60 years old and is practically building this house as a monument to himself, so, instead of adhering to the name 'Baltimore theater,' which was the original one, we have christened the house after him.

"The full list of bookings will show the return of quite a number of old favorites who haven't been west for years. Boyd's will open the first of next month, but we will fill it in with light offerings until October, for I am afraid of hot weather lingering late this year."

To Detect Counterfeit Money.

The secret service has discovered in circulation many $5 bills that are counterfeit, but originally $1 bills, but the figures have been changed so cleverly that unless closely noticed will pass. The genuine $1 bill has an eagle on it, while the $5 bill has not. The genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters must have our private stamp over the neck of each bottle, and those desiring to be cured of headache, indigestion, dyspepsia or malaria will please notice that the stamp is unbroken. Avoid all imitations or substitutes.

Small Early Morning Blast.

Fire at an early hour this morning did a small amount of damage to building and stock in the two-story brick building 724 South Thirtieth. It is occupied by the Mutual Supply house, Charles Moore occupies the upper floor as a residence.

Don't neglect the warnings of nature. If your appetite is poor, breath bad, tongue coated, you will be sick unless you take steps to put your system in good condition. Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy you need. It cleanses the entire system.

Iowa Veterans to Meet.

A reunion of the Eighth and Ninth Iowa Veterans' volunteer infantry will be held at the Burlington, Ia., October 1. Those who expect to attend are requested to notify Colonel W. B. Bell of Burlington at once.

Reception to Grand Exalted Ruler Crook.

Grand Exalted Ruler George P. Crook will arrive in Omaha at 7:30 this evening via the Burlington. All members of Omaha lodge, B. P. O. Elks, No. 39, are requested to meet him at the depot and escort him to the lodge rooms, where an informal reception will be held, to which the public generally are invited. Music by 224 infantry band.

Notice!

There will be a business meeting of the Eighth Ward Republican club at Chris Boyer's, 224 and Cumings, Tuesday evening, August 19.

The following Tuesday, being the annual election of officers, arrangements will be made for a hall for that meeting, notice of which will be given later.

BROADENS THE ASSESSMENT

Council Committee Approves New Plan for Central Boulevard Levy.

EXTENDS DISTRICT NORTH AND SOUTH

Park Commissioner Cornish Urges Councilmen to Expedite Proceedings in Boulevard Matter—Other Business.

Further diffusion of the proposed assessment for Central boulevard was the principal subject to receive attention from the general committee of the city council at its regular meeting yesterday. Nearly the whole afternoon was spent in discussion of the various phases of the question, with the result that the territory to be embraced in the levy for benefits as contemplated in the plan prepared by the city engineer's department under direction of the judiciary committee of the council will be extended five blocks farther to the south, thus fixing the southern boundary at Center street, between Dorcas and Twenty-eighth streets, instead of at Pacific street, and north to Cumings street.

It was also determined by the committee that in consideration of the donation of certain parcels of land for the purposes of the improvement by Judge J. M. Woolworth and City Attorney Cornell the remaining property owned by those gentlemen in each of the respective blocks in which the land donated by them is located shall be exempt from the assessment of benefits.

Cornish Wants Action.

Park Commissioner Cornish was present in the interest of his board and urged the committee to push forward the proceedings in this improvement as rapidly as possible. The city, he said, had secured the condemnation of $150,000 worth of property with less cost and less trouble than any such results had ever been accomplished by any municipality in the history of this country—for that matter the entire world. Four thousand lots had been assessed with but thirty-five protests, and all of those had been settled without litigation.

A. L. Reed, who had been regarded as not altogether satisfied with the plan of assessment, was in attendance at the meeting and said he had no object except upon the ground that the territory to be assessed did not extend far enough. He favored the idea of including the property just west of Hanson park. There was some question among the members of the committee as to the fairness of including property on the west of Hanson park, it being argued by some of them that in that locality there would be no actual benefits from the boulevard. It was finally decided, however, to fix the boundary at Twenty-eighth street.

Reed Wants an Alley.

A. L. Reed reported to the committee that at the suggestion of some of the members of the council he had canvassed the property owners interested in the proposed opening of an alley from Harney to Farnam streets, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, and had secured the signatures of the persons who favored the improvement. He found the cost would be about $2,000 and had estimated that the assessment would be divided among forty property owners.

Building Inspector Carter, on behalf of the Board of Public Works, informed the committee as to a further appropriation for grading Francis street at Sixth street. He explained that the original appropriation of $150 had been expended and the work had been but half completed. It was decided that no further work should be done at present.

Councilman Lobeck announced that he would report favorably upon the resolution to designate Thirtieth street from Fort street to the north city limits as a boulevard and place it under the supervision of the park board.

CALLS YOUNGMAN BIGAMIST

His Wife Charges Divorce Decree Was Fraudulent and Asks It Set Aside.

Jennie L. Youngman petitions the district court of Douglas county to set aside a divorce decree secured by Joseph D. Youngman, her erstwhile husband, October 11 last. She alleges and affirms that although he knew her address when he started the suit the previous August he gave notice only by publication in an Omaha weekly and that she knew of no such suit until July 20 of this year. She further denies the truth of his allegation that she was guilty of infidelity and she charges him with bigamy because he married Hattie Tufts a week after securing his improper divorce decree and has since been living with Hattie at 2423 Blondo street. More important, she makes the assertion that July 2, 1901, in Chicago she secured a decree of divorce on the ground of infidelity, after he had withdrawn his answer to her petition, and that that decree directed him to pay her $5 per week as alimony but that he has refused to do so. She considers his present course an effort to defraud her and their little son Bryant of their rights.

Clara Hinton, who has been the wife of Youngman since June 15, last, relates to the court that she treated her cruelly while she was sick in bed with typhoid fever and subsequently deserted her, and she asks to be divorced.
