DISCUSSION UNSETTLES BUSINESS Expresses Opinion Tariff Will Be Revised Some Day, but Not by Present Congress or the Nont.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(Special Tele-pram.)—Representative Cannon of Illinois, hairman of the house committee on appropriations, is in Washington on his way from the Massachusetts coast, where he was a guest of Secretary Moody on Dolphin. Will you promise your people in the campaign this summer that congress will revise the tariff at the next session," he was asked by a reporter today. "Nay, nay," replied Mr. Cannon. "Why should I make such a promise? There is nothing sacred about the present tariff schedule, but it is always demoralizing to business to have congress begin the work of revising the tariff. The manufacturer waits to see what will be the result, working only on orders; the merchant buys only what he feels certain he can sell, and the ordinary consumer buys only what he needs. Everywalts to see what will be changed or what the changes will be. It always means at least a year of uncertainty, and I don't year of uncertainty just now to check the prosperity we have.

"The tariff will be revised some time, is a check to the present prosperity. The people of the country, so far as I have been able to learn, are not anxious for a revision their business affairs without interruption cers of the national guards and of colleges himself, by the action of his clients in reto what changes should be made/ I don't think it will be necessary to give much attention to this question in the present cam-

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The states of the United States, President Roosevelt and prominent government efficials will co-operate and participate in the production of the International Olympian Games of 1904. All foreign countries will be represented. France has promised to send its army cadets and has asked for the games in 1908.

This much is indicated in letters from governors of fourteen states and commanders of national guards throughout the country in reply to invitations which were sent Lamb, attorney for Peter Power, went on out ten days ago from the general offices in the stand today and told all he knew about this city and from cables just received from the Northern Pacific merger suit. SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 21.-At midnight Superintendent Hayes of the Pennsylvania colliery at Morea called up headquarters and asked General Gobin to send troops to that place. He said that the foreigners were on the streets discharging firearms and tered his shop this morning and had asked that he feared an attack on the nonunion firemen and engineers was contemplated. The governor's troop was dispatched to the place, but the turbulence of the crowd had subsided somewhat in the meantime and when the cavalry arrived on the scene there was comparatively quiet. An investigation of the affair showed that the Hungarians had been celebrating a christening and that on their way to their J. Bartholin. Much doubt exists, however,

Nearly 200 cars of coal were loaded yes terday, and the number today will be greatly increased. Operators claim that they have assurances from union miners that they will resume work before the week is over. New miners are arriving daily from the east. There is no violence.

LANSFORD, Pa., Aug. 21.-The funeral of Strike Leader Patrick Sharp, who was shot and killed at Nesqueboning on Monday night, took place from his home her today.

The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in the coal regions. 6,000 people, among whom were 1.000 women, participated in the two-mile march to St. Joseph's church at Summit Hill, where services were held, and afterward followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. Twenty-four men carried the floral offerings. The procession was led by the Miners' Union band, of which Sharp was manager. Lansford and Summit Hill were crowded with strangers, but no disturbance occurred.

Each mine local appointed a committee of ten men to assist in maintaining order. The soldiers did not leave camp, but s number of trolley care were sidetracked near the camp in order to move the troops

NEIGHBOR WOMAN TELLS WEIRD TALE

Testifies That Mrs. Bartholin Lived in Constant Dread of William and Feared for Minnle Mitchell.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 .- The coroner's jury at the inquest today over the body of Mrs. Anne Bartholin brought in a verdict recommending that her son, William Bartholin, be arrested and held as principal for her murder, and that Oscar Thompson and Edward Counselman, who are under arrest, accused of complicity in the murder of Minnie Mitchell, be held to the grand jury as accessories to the crime. The jury found that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on or about July 7, death being due to stran-

During the inquest, Mrs. Mary Brown, a former neighbor of Mrs. Bartholin, testified that the old lady was suspicious and lived in deadly fear of her son. According to Mrs. Brown's testimony, Mrs. Bartholin in a onversation a few days before her death, had told the witness that young Bartholin was nothing but a beast and that the Mitchell family would regret the day they illowed Minnie Mitchell to have anything to do with him. Mrs. Bartholin in relating her troubles declared that Bartholin was a dissipated ne'er-do-well, and that she believed him capable of almost any crime. Robert Mitchell, brother of the supposed nurdered girl, said today that he firmly believed that neither Oscar Thompson nor "Old Dad" Claffey was responsible for his sister's death. Efforts to have him disinter the body met with only partial success. He said while he had not seen the face of the dead, he still felt that the body was that of his sister. He said, however, that

Reporters who searched the basement of the Calumet men was averted by the presence of the avenue house told again the story of digging up the body, of calling in Dr. Noel to establish its identity and of the later identification by an acquaintance of Mrs. Bartholin. Some interest was aroused when the inquest was temporarily suspended in order that the Mitchell family might produce a witness. The police did not know who the witness would be

A new clue to the possible solution of the Minnie Mitchell case was found today, when it was learned that a man resembling Counselman had called upon Dr. J. L. Wilgus on August 11, with a young woman supposed to be Minnie Mitchell. Dr. Wilgus said the man wanted him to take the young woman as a patient, but he refused. This story, together with that told yesterday that the girl was in a North Side hoscolor to the theory

The new witness discovered by Robert Mitchell is Mrs. J. Brown, a friend of Mrs. Bartholin. Her daughter, Lottle Brown, was intimate with Minnie Mitchell. During the morning Milton L. R. Edwards, a former roomer of Mrs. Bartholin, went on the stand and told of his fears after Mrs. Bartholin had disappeared, of how Oscar Thompson came into his room one night in a suspicious manner and of his own subsequent departure through fear of being murdered had gone to Omaha. Lieutenant Backus told of an interview with Oscar Thompson, in which the latter had told him that William Bartholin had sent word to Thompson that his mother had gone to Milwaukee. Testimony in the afternoon was largely routine and a repetition of stories told to the police in the past fortnight. Brown testified that Bartholin had frequently quarreled with his mother and struck her. She said Mrs. Bartholin had a considerable amount of money just before she disappeared. Later in the day the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on July from strangulation and recommended that Oscar Thompson (who is already held as principal in the murder) and Edward Counselman be held to the grand jury until discharged by due process of law. The jury further recommended releasing John Claf fey'in this case and that William Bartholin be apprehended.

CONGRESS GOES TO SEATTLE

Transmissippi Gathering Decides to Visit Coast in 1903.

EUSTIS RECALLS THURBER RESOLUTION

is Content with Evidence That New Yorker's Denial of Trusts' Existence is Not the Convention's Sentiment.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 21.-Seattle was tonight selected as the city in which will be held the next session of the Transmisdissippi congress in 1903. New Orleans was the only other candidate for the honor of entertaining the congress

The feature of today's session was the animated discussion of the resolution introduced yesterday by William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis, demanding that the address of F. B. Thurber of New York, which Mr Eustis' resolution declared was a speciou plea in behalf of the so-called beef trust be eliminated from the records of the con gress. Mr. Eustis argued that the printed proceedings of the congress should not be made the vahicle for disseminating literature of this class, which, he asserted, did not represent the views of the majority of the delegates. A number of other delegates warmly supported Mr. Eustis, while others as warmly opposed him. Those opposed took the ground that Mr.

Thurber, having been invited to address the congress, was entitled as a matter of courtesy to have his remarks embodied in the printed proceedings. After much disussion, which at times became rather personal. Mr. Eustis withdrew his resolution declaring its purpose accomplished, as the discussion upon its merits would be embodied in the minutes of the congress and in this way the public would be able to see that a great portion of its members did not favor so-called trusts. A number of important papers were presented at the morning and evening sessions, one of the most interesting being Prof. J. C. Monaghan's address on "Water Ways and Irrigation as an Ald to Commerce." fternoon was devoted to carria drives through the parks.

Many Take a Hand. After some preliminary routine business today the congress took up the special order fixed late yesterday and William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis opened the discussion in support of his motion to expunge from the records of the congress the address of F. B. Thurber of New York, who had declared that there was no such thing as a meat trust. He charged that the so-called trust was seeking to use this commercial congress for its own ends. He did not think the money of this organization should be spent to circulate the specious arguments of any trust. W. H. Torbett of Dubuque followed on the same side, as also did Mr. Zachary of Louisiana. A. C. Lewis of Oklahoma thought the ad dress should be printed for the sake of completeness of record, but that such publication did not commit the congress to the ideas of Mr. Thurber. He argued for courtesy to the speakers of the congress and insisted that the opinions of the congress should be voiced through the resolutions and that none should fear the addresses here delivered. Rufus A. Hoyt of Mingesota supported the resolution to expunge. Gives His Honest Views

Mr. Thurber of New York replied to Mr. Eustis, explaining that he was here as one interested in the objects of this congress He said that he was personally interested in cattle raising and his paper was intended to give his honest views on the meat industry. He argued for free speech, insisting that the opinion of the congress should be expressed by the resolutions and that no member's opinion ought to be suppressed. E. R. Moses of Kansas City argued for free speech and free thought, asserting that such a proposition as that now before the congress had never before been presented in the entire history of the organization. Tom Richardson of New Orleans drew the distinction that the speeches are part of the proceedings of the congress, but were not the opinions of the congress. Walter Gresham of Texas opposed the resolution Mr. Eustis said that in the interest of harmony and because this distinction had exploded any harm that might have resulted from the address in question, he would

about these new drinks, but if you have ever drank Krug's bottle beer you can easily tell why it's the most popular beer made. It lacks that harsh, bitter taste—the result of using chemicals in the brewing. It leaves no bad after-effects; no bad taste; no headache; no bilious attack, etc. 'Phone us an order and see for yourself.
