

OWEN LOSES HIS OWN GAME

Lets Up in Pitching Just Long Enough to Give Denver Victory.

NEITHER TEAM SHOWS MUCH LIFE

Dundon the Only Player of the Eighteen Who Seemed Inclined to Do Anything Worth the People's Watching.

In the presence of 3,000 people, half of whom were women, Frank Owen yesterday presented Denver with a game, but was unnecessary as it was disappointing.

As a whole the game was a sort of farce affair. Everybody but Dundon seemed to be doped and lack snap.

About the only feature of the game came in the fourth. Up to this time the megaphone chorus had been having all kinds of pleasure.

Johnston saw the game. Attendance, 7,712. Score: CLEVELAND, BOSTON. Day, 1-0; Cleveland, 1-0; Boston, 1-0.

SANDERSON WINS TOURNEY

Galesburg Man Lands Championship in Tennis Singles.

FARNSWORTH BEATEN BY A VETERAN

Grand Island Player Makes Hard Fight for the Honor, but His Pluck is Not Supported by Sufficient Strength.

F. R. Sanderson of Galesburg, Ill., defeated Earl Farnsworth of Grand Island, Neb., in the final round of the championship singles in the interstate tennis tournament at the Field club Friday evening.

Sanderson's victory over Farnsworth ends a most notable tournament in singles. In field of forty entries there were no less than six strong favorites for first honors.

Sanderson won the match entirely on its merits, for he systematically pushed the ball.

Meanwhile Sanderson himself took it easy in comparison. Farnsworth, too, was playing ball magnificently.

The match was throughout slow and scientific. There was none of the smashing or chance playing anywhere that characterized tennis of a decade ago.
