

PROTOTYPE OF BILL DEVER

How a Seventh Ward Republican Takes Mr. Mercer's Measure.

LOOKS FOR CAMPAIGN LIKE "BIG BILL'S"

Does Not Hope to Hear "Our Dave" Discuss Great National Issues, but Anticipates a Series of Beer-Fests.

"It looks to me," said a Seventh ward republican yesterday, "as though the intelligence of this community is to be given a severe test by the oncoming congressional campaign. The question upon which our intelligence is to be tried is whether we are to be swayed by the lowest order of Tammany influence or by sound reason and intellectual force. I attended the meeting in the Seventh ward Thursday night and heard the talk of Congressman Mercer. He told us of some of the incidents of his trip to the Philippine islands last summer, and while it may please his friends to know that he attended a dinner with the natives, had a talk with Governor Taft about the inadequacy of the government buildings and observed that the Quez canal was only a narrow ditch with sloping banks, I can't see that he has any right to take up the time of public meetings to relate matters that are of merely personal interest.

"I am presuming that political meetings are held for the purpose of discussing public questions and I take it that the paramount question for the republicans of this district at this time is whether Mr. Mercer is possessed of qualities of intellectuality and statesmanship which entitle him to a place in the class with Blaine, Root, Grosvenor, Hepburn, Henderson, Dooliver and others who have enjoyed long service in congress. If he rightfully belongs to that class he ought to be continued as the representative of the people of this district. But before I grant that he is the best man to represent us in congress I want to find out that his ability is better than that of an aidemanager trader and log-roller.

"I would like to hear Mr. Mercer discuss the great questions that are now demanding the attention of congress, questions in the settlement of which the people of this district, through their representative, have a right to participate intelligently. I want to know, for instance, if Mr. Mercer understands our moral and legal responsibilities with regard to the Philippine islands and our other insular possessions. I want to hear him discuss the Cuban reciprocity proposition and I want to know what measures he considers necessary for the regulation of trusts. I don't care to hear him talk any more about making a trade with that or that member of congress in order to get an appropriation for a public building, for I haven't any doubt that Omaha and the other towns of this district will live by the public improvements they need, just as any other congressional district does, no matter who represents us in congress. We had federal buildings here before Mercer went to congress and we will have them even after he retires. I don't care to hear Mr. Mercer talk about somebody having 'bats in his belfry,' because that sort of language from my representative at Washington humiliates me.

"While I am anxious to hear Mr. Mercer's views on great national and international questions, I have no reason to believe that my desire is to be gratified. I understand, as almost every other republican in the district understands, that Mr. Mercer is not going to attempt to talk about any of the real issues in the campaign. I hear from a reliable source that he proposes to adopt the tactics of the notorious Bill Devery and give a series of picnics, brass band entertainments and beer-fests. It is his ambition to become the Omaha prototype of New York's 'Big Bill' Devery, and he is determined to follow the fashion of 'Big Bill' Devery. That is, perhaps, his ideal way of campaigning, or it may be that, being conscious of his inability to talk like a member of the national house of representatives and give an intelligent constituency any sound reasons for his recommendation, he is forced to use the Devery methods to dazzle the people. Such a campaign as he is said to be contemplating, in my judgment, would be an insult to the intelligence of this community."

AFFAIRS OF KING AK-SAR-BEN

Meeting at Den Monday Night Promises to Be Most Interesting.

Invitations have been issued by the Board of Governors of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben to William V. Allen, former United States senator; to George D. McKeljohn, former first assistant secretary of war, and to W. H. Winslow, head of the government Indian school at Genoa, to be present at the work at the den Monday evening.

These invitations were extended at this time for the reason that the Union Pacific railroad has provided an excursion to run from Madison, Pullerton, Genoa and a number of other towns on the system for that day, and the board hopes to have a program especially arranged for the residents of that part of the state and for western Iowa, whose residents will come over the Rock Island, the Illinois Central and the Wabash.

"Pony" Moore, in charge of the festival grounds, announces the positive engagement of thirteen high-class carnival attractions at this time, with two others under consideration, which will take space as concessions, while six attractions, exclusive of the Bands, have been signed for gratuitous appearance on the grounds.

The local merchants and manufacturers are not as prompt in signifying the display space as the manager desires them. The plot of the grounds is now published and shows that the board has reconsidered its idea of placing the main entrance at the west end and has placed the principal gate on Douglas street just off of Seventeenth. Another gate will be placed at Nineteenth and Farnam streets.

The band will be stationed in a space on Nineteenth and Farnam streets, as far removed from the Midway and noisy features as possible. The construction of the fence and booths will be started about September 1, and a full force will be employed until the opening day.

Ringlings Coming September 15.
Ringling Brothers announce an exceptionally strong circus company this season. In the list of famous acrobats who will be seen in Omaha when the big show exhibits here Monday, September 15, are the Nelson family of ten unequalled artists, the Roberts family, the Pettis, the Dibollan brothers, the Leon sisters and the great contortionists, Genero and Tadol and Ethardo. The acrobats are led by the latest novelty, especially imported by Ringling Brothers for this season, the wonderful Dunbar trio, direct from Australia; the Holloway trio, high-wire acrobats; the Banvard, the Tybell sisters, Nettie Carroll, and the Mikado, a troupe of Japanese equilibrista from Jeddo. The riding surpasses anything in the equestrian line ever before attempted. Among the great riders are the Hobsons, the Schadel, John and Michael Rooney, Albert and Madam Davenport, Reno McCree, May Davenport, Julie Lowande and Albert Grandall. The trained animal section of the show presents Captain Webb's Juggling seals, Prof. Wood's dog and pony circus and Pearl Souder's famous comedy elephants. For variety shows, the company presents a wealth of comedy to the performance. The manager presents the only living giraffe and hundreds of other interesting and curious animals, including thirty elephants. The hippodrome races skillfully reproduced the exciting scenes of the old Roman amphitheater on a scale of magnificence not surpassed even in the days of Nero, while the free street parade is described as exceptionally brilliant and complete.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS TALK

Much Oratory on Subject of Saving the Taxpayers.

Earliest discussion of the financial situation, with special reference to the depleted condition of the county general fund and the expenditure of the road fund during the present season, was a feature of the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday morning.

The topic was introduced by Commissioner Ostrom, who said it had been frequently suggested to him that the board should be more conservative in the expenditure of the road fund and he was inclined to take that view of the situation. He thought all road work that was not urgently needed should be suspended and the crews of laborers cut down to the end that the road fund might be kept in such condition that there would be something left at the end of the year to help out the general fund.

Commissioner O'Keefe said road fund should be carefully handled and he thought he should know something of the work being done from the fact that the chairman of the bridge committee, but he had frequently found gangs of men at work in places where he did not know work was to be done.

Commissioner Connolly said he was in favor of retrenchment and economy, but he did not believe in spending the county's money hastily in some directions and being rigidly economical in others. He thought there had been some unnecessary expenditure in fixing up the interior of certain portions of the court house, but he had only within the past few days received a complaint that the East Omaha bridge was impassable and he believed such matters should be given immediate attention.

On motion of Commissioner Ostrom, the chairman of the committee on court house and jail was instructed to have the three rooms of the tax department cleaned and painted at an expense not to exceed $50 excepting material, Commissioner O'Keefe only voting in the negative.

A motion was passed requesting the county attorney to report to the board as soon as possible his opinion upon the present legal status of the Allan T. Gow claim of $2,000 for fees as referee in the suit of Frank E. Moore against the county, and what steps should next be taken in the mandamus proceedings now pending. Commissioner Ostrom was in favor of paying the claim, and, as he expressed it, "telling Mr. Gow to look for a new job," but the other members thought the county attorney should advise the board in the matter.

The finance committee was instructed, in a motion introduced by Commissioner Connolly and unanimously adopted, to report to the board at the next meeting upon the question of the claims of the South Omaha assessors for salaries.

MRS. CHAS. S. POOR DESTITUTE

Police Asked to Look After the Deceased Woman and Her Two Sons.

It was reported to the police yesterday that Mrs. Charles S. Poor, who recently came to Omaha from the east, was in destitute circumstances, and with her two children had been sleeping in a pasture west of Hancock park. Mrs. Poor's husband was shot to death some years ago in this city and the shock of that is supposed to have deranged her mind. The mystery surrounding the death of Mr. Poor was never cleared up. For several days Mrs. Poor has been roaming around in the neighborhood of her former home on South Thirty-second street. The officers will investigate her condition.

PROBLEM FOR ARMY OFFICERS

Maneuvers at Fort Riley to Be on a Basis of Real War.

GENERAL BATES WILL WORK OUT DETAILS

Great School of Practical Instruction for Officers and Men to Begin With Assembly of Two Complete Armies.

A novel feature will be introduced at the maneuvers of the army of the Department of the Missouri at Fort Riley next month. For the first time in the history of these maneuvers there will be with the troops a pontoon bridge corps. This corps will carry with it all the necessary appliances for the construction of bridges over the rivers which cross the reservation and will be used considerably in carrying out the movements decided upon by the officers in charge of the separate bodies which will move over the grounds.

The problems on the reservation will consist of what is known as "contact" problems, where the opposing troops come into touch with each other as in battles and engagements. The problems will be given to the officers in command of the opposing sides, and they will be expected to solve them according to their own ideas and the necessities of the occasion. There is one point on the river which will be interesting, as an attempt to force a passage over the stream was unsuccessful three times out of four, and it will be tried again, probably this time with the aid of the pontoon bridges. It is said at army headquarters that from a majority of the states of the union there will come one member of the National guard, in addition to the officers of the three states which will send troops.

The plan of the maneuvers cannot be announced until after General Bates passes upon them, but their general character is known from the maneuvers which have been held before. It is possible that the strategic problems will be started before the troops arrive upon the reservation. It has been decided that the soldiers from Fort Leavenworth will march to Riley, but the method of transportation of the troops at Fort Crook have not been announced. The problems to be worked out by the officers will be prepared before the troops are mobilized. This work is in charge of General Bates, who will either prepare them himself or form a board of officers, which will prepare the problems for his approval. The strategic problems which may be worked out before the troops arrive will consist of bringing the troops to certain points along the route at given times and overcoming topographical and other difficulties.

General Bates and Lieutenant Willis, who have been at the headquarters of the Department of the Lakes for a week, will return to Omaha Sunday morning.

Major Albert Niskern, chief commissary of the department, has been transferred to Chicago as chief commissary of the Department of the Lakes and will be succeeded by Major William H. Bean, who has been stationed at Kansas City as purchasing agent for some time. Major Bean will be succeeded at Kansas City by Captain W. R. Grove, who has been acting chief commissary of the department for several months during the absence of Major Niskern. These changes are consequent upon the elevation of Major Bean from the rank of captain.

PROMOTION FOR J. S. McNALLY

Old Omaha Railroad Man Goes to Oklahoma City for Rock Island.

J. S. McNally, city passenger and ticket agent for the Rock Island, has been appointed division passenger agent of that road at Oklahoma City. His appointment takes effect September 1. For thirteen years Mr. McNally has been connected with the Rock Island in Omaha and in that time has become one of the most popular of all local railroad men. His substantial promotion is regarded as a fair token of the company's appreciation of his faithful services. Mr. McNally will be missed from his wide circle of friends and associates in this city.

The division over which Mr. McNally's jurisdiction is to extend comprises the Choctaw line from Little Rock, Ark., to Arimolito, Tex., and the north and south branch of the Rock Island, extending through El Reno from Caldwell to Terral, Tex. That is a section of country which is undergoing rapid development and the Rock Island is pursuing an unusually progressive and aggressive policy just now. J. O. Tedford, formerly traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island at Oklahoma City, is transferred to Buffalo as city passenger agent under the same order announcing Mr. McNally's change. Mr. Tedford has traveled through this territory and is well known among Omaha railroad men.

Everything New and Up-to-Date.

When the Guarantee opened its doors at 1519-1521 Douglas street a short time ago every piece of goods in the house was new and fresh. It's the same with all goods—there is nothing carried over, new goods coming in every day. The business of the Guarantee is growing steadily. Their square dealing seems to take. One price to all. Everything marked in plain figures. A large stock scattered over four floors to choose from, besides police testimony that you buy or not. The thing which the Guarantee Clothing company wishes to impress on the public most is that goods are handled here on a close margin, while quality is guaranteed, prices are always lower than elsewhere. This season the Guarantee has secured the agency for Young's hats, now ready for your inspection, in all late blocks. We have also just unpacked a line of clothing made by Kuppenheimer. No merchant tailor can make finer clothing. We also carry a full assortment of the Carhartt make. In fact, all makes of any special merit are represented in our mammoth stock. Before buying you certainly will be money out if you forget to look us over.

SUES THE STREET RAILWAY

Victim of Collision Asks Heavy Damages to Compensate for Injuries.

Victor G. Lindgren is the plaintiff in a suit against the Omaha Street Railway company in which he demands damages of $20,344.25 for injuries which he is alleged to have received in a collision between a street car and his carriage April 28 last, on Twenty-fourth street, in the vicinity of Seward and Franklin streets.

The complaint relates that the plaintiff was driving along Twenty-fourth street and by reason of the large number of vehicles at the point mentioned was compelled to drive for a short distance with a portion of his buggy on the car tracks and that while he was proceeding in this manner a car approached from behind and without any signal to warn him of danger ran into his buggy, throwing him violently to the ground and damaging the vehicle and injuring the horse. The plaintiff it is stated was before the accident earning $25 per week as salesman for an Omaha commission house, but is now permanently disabled, and for this disability he demands $20,000. The remainder of the total amount of damages which he asks for is made up of several items, including $44.25 for repairs to the vehicle, $30 for the horse and $150 for physicians' services and medicines.

Krug Park Notes.

Governor Boyd and party were among the rag-time enthusiasts that attended the Wednesday night concert of Huster's band. Rabbi Simon entertained a party of children Wednesday. "Jack and the Beanstalk" gladdened the little ones. Director Huster was presented with a fine baton by the members of his band Thursday. It is made of ebony, inlaid with pearl and mounted in gold.

Mr. J. B. Davenport gave a dinner to a party of friends at the cafe Wednesday. The band was highly esteemed local authority on music, attended the operatic concert and complimented Huster on his splendid band.

On Saturday next the monkeys will be given a Xmas tree and the children are promised a rare treat of fun when Santa Claus visits the Zoo.

The largest number of the clergy ever present at a local summer resort attended on Thursday when the Catholic Foresters gave their annual outing.

The Hotel Gordon, located at 15th and Chicago streets, was recently purchased by C. E. Wilkins, and will hereafter be known as the Royal hotel. The house has been thoroughly renovated and refurnished, new carpets, and has all the modern conveniences, consisting of bath, steam heat, electric bells, etc. The place will be conducted on the European plan; popular prices will prevail and special rates will be given by week or month. The Royal hotel is nicely situated, being only two blocks north from the postoffice and is convenient to car lines running direct to all depots and all principal points in the city.

The rooms are all outside and the place presents a very cozy and homelike appearance. Mr. Wilkins has spared no expense to make the house strictly up-to-date and is deserving of liberal patronage. J. O. Bixler and R. Edelfield are the clerks who will be in charge.

E. W. Smeral has moved his law offices to 222 Bee building, third floor.
