

SHOOT HIMSELF IN TEMPLE

William Heatley Commits Suicide in Front Yard Sunday Morning.

TEMPORARY INSANITY EXPLAINS THE ACT

Financial Reverses and Separation from Wife Supposed to Have Deranged His Mind—Parents and Brothers in England.

William Heatley took his own life shortly before 8 o'clock Sunday morning by shooting himself in the left temple with a 35-caliber revolver. The ball entered the temple and came out at the top of the head.

Heatley resided at the residence of N. P. Sess, 2009 Harney street, and it was in the front yard of this house that the suicide occurred. He had gone down town earlier in the morning. Returning he went to his room and prepared to go out, without his coat or hat, and walked to a tree in the front of the yard. Here he stood erect with his back against the trunk of the tree, placed the muzzle of the revolver to his temple and fired. The revolver fell from his hand, and his body collapsed and sank at the base of the tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Sess and other roomers at the house and residents in that vicinity, attracted by the shot, rushed to Heatley's side and summoned physicians, but life was extinct. The coroner was then notified and the body removed to the morgue.

Heatley was temporarily insane, his mind having been deranged for the last two days. Though a poor man he believed himself to be the owner of $1,000,000 and informed those with whom he came in contact of his good fortune. On a table in his room was a letter addressed to his brother-in-law, Ed DeWitt, in which he stated that his estate was worth $1,000,000 and that he wished Mr. DeWitt to see that it was properly distributed among his relatives.

The letter specified that $1,000 was to be given to "Bob," $1,000 to Heatley's wife and the remainder to his mother.

In another letter, addressed to his mother, Mrs. Thomas Heatley, of Gateshead, England, Heatley told the story of his experiences in this country and of the hard times he had experienced. He closed the letter by saying that in the future he would write more frequently to the old folks. Part of this letter was rational, but the greater portion was the work of a deranged mind.

Heatley was a brother-in-law of Ed DeWitt, 1839 North Nineteenth street. He came to America many years ago and located in Montana, where he lost considerable money and was left without means by a bad investment in a sheep ranch.

Separated from Family. He was married and the father of two children. After his financial reverses in Montana he came to Omaha and secured work with the Nebraska Clothing company. His wife remained in Montana and about six years ago secured a divorce and was again married. For the last two years Heatley has been at the store of Thomas Kilpatrick & Co. He was 45 years of age. At the time of his suicide Heatley was off on a ten days' vacation, which expired this morning.

The dead man leaves a mother, father and two brothers in England. These were notified of his death. Coroner Bralley will likely hold an inquest over the remains Tuesday morning.

TALKS OF RIFLE COMPETITION

General Bates Discusses the Features of the Contest at Fort Sheridan.

General Bates returned Sunday morning from Chicago, where he attended the rifle competition of the army of the United States. He said:

"I was surprised at the high scores made, the men having had no little practice. The average of the competition was about 821 points, while the high man at the competition of the Department of the Missouri had only 503 points to his credit. Deuberry, who won the first place in the department team, made nearly 100 points more than he did at Fort Leavenworth and then got second place.

"The honors of the army competition belong to the Department of the Colorado and to the Eighteenth infantry. The Eighteenth had four men on the department team and out of four men who went to Chicago from the department three secured medals, including the first medal.

"Gun Sling Dave," whose high scores in past competitions were the pride of the Department of the Missouri, was in the competition, coming from the Department of the Columbia. He was still able to draw a bead hurriedly. He was eighteenth on the list when the regular target practice closed and at skirmish firing he came up to a place which gave him a silver medal. The medals will be transmitted to the winners at the posts, not having been made yet."

Speaking of the Washington rumor that he would be placed in charge of the Division of the Philippines, General Bates said:

"I think it is all talk. It is almost certain that General Davis will not be relieved for a year. After that time there is no way of telling who will go there."

Captain Horace M. Reeve of the Seventh infantry reported for duty as aide-camp on the staff of General Bates at Chicago and returned with him Sunday morning to these headquarters. The general now has the staff which was with him in the Philippines, Captains Wright and Reeve and Lieutenant Willis.

WIFE MURDERER UNCONCERNED

Anton Christensen Appears to Be the Calmest Man in City Jail.

Anton Christensen, who murdered his wife Saturday afternoon, spent Sunday in jail at the city jail, the calmest of all the prisoners in the jail. With only two cell walls two men, one charged with being drunk and one being held as a witness in a case. The two Christiansens spoke occasionally, when they asked him questions, but he showed no feeling nor concern over the murder of his wife.

ABOUT ARTIST OMNIPOTENT

Rev. Winthrop Allison Takes Paintings of God as Sermon Subject.

The paintings of God, the artist Omnipotent, their blending of the white and ruddy, so aptly referred to by Solomon, and the purpose of those paintings, provided a theme for Rev. Winthrop Allison, who occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The speaker sought to emphasize more clearly the significance of the colors, the red symbolic of a blood sacrifice and humanity.

"The world," he said, "had no earlier conception of the Father in its earlier periods, viewing Him as a tyrant. The Son, sent in the image of man, but with attributes wholly those of the Father, was the new picture of the universe for all time to come the conception which God preferred His children should have of Him.

"Other pictures he has painted for our further enlightenment; for instance, the first portrayal of sin in the garden; that of Sacrifice painted with breathing figures of Abraham and Isaac; and that of the 'Divine artist' made no mistake; erred not in His blending of colors; gave us no scene that can ever be or need ever be changed or effaced. With them he has shown us the beneficent purpose of His divine inception, and pointed for us the way to a perfect eternity."

KINGDOM NOT OF THIS WORLD.

Rev. Craig Speaks of Power of Jesus Christ.

At Trinity cathedral yesterday Rev. R. E. L. Craig preached on the subject, "Witness Unto the Truth." The speaker opened by relating the trial of Jesus Christ before Pontius Pilate, and Christ's reply to the question, "Art Thou the king of the Jews?" He said, in part:

"Jesus replied that His kingdom was not of this world. He came to bear witness of the truth. His power is not through earthly force. He rules in the hearts of men, modifying the relations between nations, between master and servant, between the members of the family, between man and man. This King has no earthly rank. He stands between soldier and bound. He calmly declares the purpose for which He came to earth and in His presence there is a quiet dignity which transforms the thorns to a crown of glory. He knew that a king must serve before he can rule, and the record of His life is a record of good works. The suffering crown becomes a throne of power.

"In man there is no trouble or distress of mind which does not come from a failure to perceive the reason for which we are placed on earth. Christ in His life taught the truth, the true relation between things and between man and God. When the world comes to understand this truth wars will cease, slavery and oppression will come to an end, no outrages will be perpetrated by monarchy or by mob and the kingdom of God will come to earth and His will, will be done."

CHRIST'S SUPREME OWNERSHIP.

Subject of Rev. Kuhns' Sermon at Grace Lutheran.

Rev. Luther M. Kuhns preached Sunday morning at Grace Lutheran church on "Christ's Supreme Ownership," taking his text from I Corinthians: "Ye Are Christ's." He said, in part:

"The condition on which all things are ours is 'Ye are Christ's.' The moral government of the world subjects the design of events to the establishment of a kingdom of our Lord. It means man's return to Christ by His own futile attempt at self-ownership.

"Christ's ownership is established by His mediatorial winning us to God. By emptying out self we get possession of all things. Human boasting of authority and ownership is unseemly, because Christians belong to God.

"We are parts of the world's curious clockwork. Each man preserves his own individuality best when most in touch with Christ as a fellow-worker. The ultimate end of all Christ's endeavor, whether expressed by the atonement, preservation or redemption, is the ownership by God—personal self-surrender to the Divine will."

LONDON NOT IN IT WITH OMAHA

Ak-Sar-Ben Illuminations Every Year Outside Those Put up for King Edward's Coronation.

"The coronation illuminations in London did not compare with the illuminations we have right here in Omaha every year for the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival, and the London coronation decorations are little superior to those we have had at home time and again."

"So declares Judge W. D. McHugh, who returned last week from a short trip to Europe, talking in London and a few adjacent points. "We arrived in London a few days after the time set originally for the king's coronation and of course found the city in its gala dress, although by accident I must say, however, that we were much disappointed in the display, which fell far short of expectations. The fact is, the London people do not know how. Only in a few localities was any attempt made at elaborate decoration.

"The Canadians had put up a grain arch near Trafalgar Square, such as we are accustomed to seeing frequently in this country and it was so unusual a sight there that traffic was often blocked by the crowds stopping to inspect it. Most of the decorations were simply the letters 'E. R.' on some kind of a red background, while the illuminations took the form chiefly of perforated gas pipes supporting burning jets. The most profuse illumination was found at Bank of England and surrounding buildings facing Threadneedle street, but there was nothing artistic about them—simply big clusters of globe protected gas lights. This group of buildings when lighted up were not nearly so impressive as the illuminations of the Bee building, City hall and courthouse here in Omaha when decked out for festive occasions.

"Another thing that grated on our eyes was the hideous profusion of spectators' stands, erected without regard to appearance, all along the streets to be traversed by the royal procession. These stands obstructed the view of the most important public buildings and shops. Somebody told a pile of money on these stands for which tickets had been sold in advance. Many of the owners had taken out insurance, and those who had been insured returned the money to their patrons and held the insurance companies for damages. The London courts are full of suits to recover money lost by the postponement of the coronation."

DEMOCRATS TAKE A DAY OFF

Those with Douglas County Brand Have Outing at Arlington.

LOUIS PIATTI SHINES AS A SOLOIST

Other "Beavers" Show to Fine Advantage in Various Specialties and Nobody Falls in General Good Time.

While the threatening weather of yesterday morning materially affected the attendance at the picnic of the Douglas county democracy, it did not seriously detract from the enjoyment of those who did take chances on the elements and participate in the outing.

The picnic of this year was held at Arlington and every provision had been made by those in charge of the event to give their guests a good time. The "beavers" of the organization were out in large force and exerted themselves to the utmost to carry the program through successfully, the park afforded facilities for a wide variety of amusement for both the younger and the more mature members of the party, and as it was an all-day affair refreshment pavilions were prominent among the accommodations and were well patronized.

The excursion train, which was not uncomfortably crowded, left the city at 9 a. m., arriving at the picnic grounds soon after 10, and there the Omaha party was joined by those from Fremont, Arlington and the surrounding country, many of whom came in carriages.

Game of Base Ball. The base ball grounds were too wet in the morning for use, but toward noon had dried out somewhat and a snappy game was played between the Paxton & Gallagher and Green River teams, the latter winning by the close score of 11 to 10, and the deciding run being made in the ninth. Hunter of the winning team caught an admirable game and the fielding of Goddard was also worthy of special mention. The batteries were Paxton and Poll for Paxton & Gallagher and Knight and Cane and Hunter for Green River. Umpire: Neff.

In the meantime Clark's Union orchestra was furnishing music for a large proportion of the younger members of the company to participate in the dancing at the pavilion and the program of field sports, which attracted a large crowd of spectators, had been begun.

The program presented events of a widely diversified character, permitting all classes to participate and furnishing keen enjoyment to the spectators. A sailing regatta, for instance, gave the married women a chance to show their proficiency in "rapping." Mrs. C. E. Sullivan, who was prominently handy with the hammer, was given first prize and Mrs. J. P. Lindsay second.

Suggestive of Beer Mugs.

The result of the twenty-five yard race for members of the Douglas County Democracy only, was strongly suggestive of beer mugs from the fact that it was won by Mr. Stein, with Mr. Eppstein second.

A highly amusing event was the fat men's race, won by C. M. Neustrom, who carried his subportant weight. The eggs were his subportant weight. The eggs were not present a particularly graceful figure, but he managed to out-distance all of his competitors and was heartily cheered by the crowd.

A greater portion of the afternoon was spent in the "Pinning of the Tail" contest, in which the members of the club, Liberty and Hunter, and directed by Mr. Piatti, contributed vocal music to the general entertainment, and between other events those who so desired could throw eggs at the head of a colored man at so much per throw. The eggs were not certain date, but that chiefly concerned the colored man, except when some enthusiastic marksmen would squeeze the egg too tightly.

PROBABLY FATAL RUNAWAY

J. C. Cosgrove Receives Injuries from Which Recovery is Not Likely.

John C. Cosgrove, a driver for Dr. J. P. Lord, received injuries in a runaway shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the effects of which he will probably die. The runaway occurred at Twenty-fifth and Dodge streets. Cosgrove, in attempting to jump from the buggy, was thrown out and struck the pavement on his head. His skull was fractured at the base and his face and nose were cut. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Lord and Police Surgeons Hahn and Mick.

A late hour last night he was still unconscious and the physicians held out very little hope for his recovery.

Cosgrove had driven with Dr. Lord to Twenty-fifth and Dodge streets, where the latter made a professional call. A moment after the doctor left the buggy, one of the horses caught the bridle bit under the breast yoke. By its frantic effort to free itself, both horses became frightened, and the one fastened gave a quick jerk and the bride was broken. Then both horses started on a run. Owing to the broken bridle, Cosgrove was powerless to hold the team and dropping the lines he made a desperate effort to leap from the buggy. He caught hold of the buggy top, as the frightened horses dashed down the street, to throw himself out, and he fell backwards.

During Cosgrove's efforts to get out of the buggy, Dr. Lord, who was running to his assistance, called to him to stay in the buggy, but the man did not heed him. Cosgrove fell within less than a block of the hospital, where he was picked up by Dr. Lord who was at his side almost as soon as he struck the pavement. Others came to his assistance and the wounded man was hurriedly removed to the hospital in the police ambulance.

The horses continued running until opposite the Central Presbyterian church, where they dashed into a fence. This stopped them and bystanders took them in charge. One of the horses received a severe cut behind the fore leg and the veterinary surgeon was required to sew up the wound. The other horse was not injured.

Cosgrove is 30 years of age and has been in the employ of Dr. Lord as driver for the last year. Prior to this, and before Dr. Lord's visit to Europe, he worked several years for the doctor. He came to Omaha from Washita, Ia., where his mother now resides. He is unmarried and has always been considered a careful, painstaking driver.

SOUTHERN FREIGHTS TUMBLE

Fall Off Trestle After Colliding and Members of Crews Are Killed or Hurt.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from New Albany, Ind., says: In a disastrous freight wreck on the Southern railway near Georgetown, ten miles west of here early today, Engineer "Red" Duval, Fireman B. Cox and Brake-man Ross of one train were killed outright, and Engineer Harry Goodale and Fireman John Meyers of the other train were probably killed hurt.

Fourteen boxcars loaded with wheat, together with two locomotives were tumbled over a trestle to fall forty feet and were demolished. All traffic on the Southern between Louisville and St. Louis has been blocked all day. Two sections of the through-freight were associated with the first section in charge of Conductor Alver Avis had stopped at Duncaes to switch, leaving a "cut" of two cars on the main track. "Cut" is a heavy grade at this point, and by some means the cars broke away and rolled down the track, gaining momentum at each revolution of the wheels.

Just as the cars were approaching the trestle, the second section drawn by two big mogul engines came thundering over the hill, and the crash occurred a moment later. The cars plied over the locomotives and all went down into the ravine in a heap. Both Duval and Cox went down with their engines. Ross was on the runaway cars and was crushed beneath a car. Engineer Goodale and Fireman Meyers, in charge of the other jumped and saved their lives, although they may yet die. Conductor A. M. Lewis and brakeman John Burns of the second section jumped and escaped serious injury.

Duval's body was taken to his home in Louisville and that of Ross was sent to Milltown, Ind., his home. Cox's remains were sent to Princeton, Ind., where his relatives reside. Duval had been married but a few days. The loss to the railroad company will amount to $75,000.

HOOSIERS HAVE FREE FIGHT

Blacks Black the Whites and the Whites Bloody the Blacks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 24.—A race riot broke out today at Haughville, a suburb of this city, between 200 negroes and whites employed by the National Malleable Castings company. There has been bitter race feeling between the two races for several years and trouble has frequently occurred. Two people have already been killed.

A ball game this morning between the factions caused excitement. As the crowd left the field hostilities broke out. Stones, bricks, clubs and other missiles were used. Two hundred persons were immediately crushed together in a fighting mass. Twelve or fifteen shots were fired and it is reported one negro was shot, but he was slipped from the field before the police arrived. The whites were victorious, driving the blacks from the field and scattering a number of them. Several white people were badly injured. Ten arrests have been made and others will be made as rapidly as the persons are found. The police responded to a riot call, but on account of distance did not get to the fight in time to be of much avail. Officers of the company fear other outbreaks will follow.

BLACKBURN THE COLLECTOR

He Says Every Congressional Candidate Will Have to Pay Fifty.

THEN TWO DOLLARS FOR EACH DELEGATE

Declares that Mr. Breen's Delegation Will Not Get on Ticket if Filled with County Committee Chairmen.

In explaining the call for the primaries to select delegates to the congressional convention, issued by the committee Saturday afternoon, Chairman Blackburn said: "Under the call as contemplated that the seven delegates from each of the city wards and the three delegates from each of the country precincts and the wards of South Omaha shall be voted for only by the republican voters of the wards and precincts which they will represent in the convention. "From each of the candidates for nomination will be collected the sum of $50 in addition to the $3 to be paid for each delegate placed upon their tickets. The delegations will be arranged on the tickets in the order they are received by the chairman of the committee. In order that the voter may know for whom he is voting the delegations will be headed by the statement: 'This Delegation for — for Congress, and there will be a ring after that line so that a straight delegation can be voted.' Mr. Blackburn was asked what the committee would do in case a delegation was presented not pledged for any candidate, and replied:

"We do not expect any such condition. If a man wants to run for the position of delegate I would be in favor of taking $2 from him and placing him on the ticket from the ward in which he resides, but there is no provision made for it by the committee."

As to Judges and Clerks.

The conference between the sub-committee of the county committee and the executive committee of the congressional committee, which will be held at the office of Mr. Blackburn Tuesday morning, will have to make arrangements under its delegated powers for the selection of judges and clerks of election. The law provides that they must be selected from lists furnished by the candidates for office, and as equally divided between the lists of the several candidates as may be possible. They must be appointed at least five days before the primaries, and for this reason and from the fact that the two committees will co-operate in the selection the joint committee must fix a day upon which the lists must be submitted. There is a promise of some trouble over the selection of these primary officers, as at the meeting of the congressional committee Saturday Mr. Breen declared that he would list his list with the county chairman, as the person having legal power to provide for the primary. Mr. Blackburn said:

"If Mr. Breen files his list with the county chairman it certainly will not be recognized and if he files his delegations there he will have none on the congressional ticket. He must put up $50 with me before he can name a delegate, and then pay $2 for each name. If he does not do this we will have to ignore him and we may as well let that be known now as later."

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take.
