HIGHER PRICES FOR FARM MACHINERY

Hon, E. L. Vance Says Reported Damage to Corn by Rains is All Bosh -Crop Prospects Never Better.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The State Board of Agriculture found in its final roundup of conditions at the state fair grounds that additional facilities were needed for the later entries in the livestock classes and 100 pens were ordered constructed for the accommodation of the overflow. Exhibits arrived in large numbers today and tomorrow will see still greater activity on the grounds. It will be necessary to keep a large force of men at work on Sunday in order to have things in readiness for the opening Monday

The headquarters of the board were removed from the Lindell hetel to the fair grounds this morning. Practically all of the entries have been made, except those the speed class, and little remains to be done by the officials. It is now up to the exhibitors to get their displays in Much Typhoid Fever.

Lincoln physicians report a mild epidemic of typhoid fever in this city, mostly with persons who have sojourned during the summer months in places of unhealthy sanitary conditions. The city health officer, however, says there are not over 100 cases of the disease. The physicians report that practically all of the cases originate with persons just returned from vacation tours or with those who use well water at their homes.

Farm Machinery Rises

Retail prices of some kinds of farm and implement machinary have increased slightly during the past few days, but the general agents of the various manufacturers who have distributing houses here declare that the change is not due to the. formation of the International Harvester company, which includes many of the leading implement firms. They predict that the organization of this company will result in the discharge of several thousand clerks in houses throughout the country, and that the farmers who buy the machinery will get much of the benefit therefrom through a reduction in the

"I have lived in Nebraska a good many rears and I don't remember a time when the crop prospect was so good as now." said Mr. Vance, "All this talk about the recent rains damaging corn is all bosh and nothing else. They have prolonged the growth somewhat, but not to a serious extent. A light frost now would not burt the corn a particle. All over the corn growing country the conditions are equally

Articles of incorporation of the Elba American Home company of Elba, Howard county, were recorded in the secretary of state's office today. The company is capitalized for $1,000. Its incorporators are: W. H. Lindsay, Josie Weiker, John P. Weiker, Jay Smith, Charles Chinn, Mark Holm, A. Jacobson.

The State Board of Purchase and Supplies will meet next Monday to open bids for supplies for the various state institutions during the ensuing quarter, Aside from this meeting probably no business will be transacted at the state house on that day, nearly all of the officials preferring to observe the hollday.

Fremont Burglar Caught.

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 29 .- (Special.)-Carl Hanson, who has been wanted by the police for some time for breaking into Beveridge's saloon, was arrested at Valley yesterday and brought to Fremont last night. He pleaded guilty before Justice Hinman this morning, and in default of bail was committed to the county jail. He claimed that all he got was $5 in money and some cigars. He was sent to the reform school several years ago, and since his release has been under arrest for a number of minor offenses.

Illustrated Bee.

MIRST IN THE FIELD The Illustrated Bes continues to lead the procession. Other western journals have undertaken to furnish their readers with an illustrated magazine supplement on Sunday, but none have attained the standard set by this paper. Neither pains or expense is spared to maintain The Illustrated Bee in its proud position of the very foremost in all things that go to make up a high grade publication. Each week gives new evidence of this, and each week finds the paper more firmly fixed in popularity with the reading, thinking

It is a poor farm in Vermont where there are no paupers and which is rented by the authorities to the head of the government's exchequer. Six handsome photographs are used to illustrate the story.

TENNIS AND TENNIS PLAYERS have been taking up a great deal of room in the newspapers lately. One of the principal events in this line was the interstate tourney held at the courts of the Omaha Field club last week. Some very interesting matches were there contested by the best of western experis, and a page of pictures is used to show these men in action.

HOME RULE FOR CITIES in England is a fact accomplished far beyond anything yet undertaken in this One of its accompanying results is the public ownership and control of public service of all sorts. Frank G. Carpenter writes very entertainingly on this topic, giving the results of his investigations in Bir mingham, where public ownership is most practiced. Illustrations for the article are made from photographs taken in Birmingham.

NEW PROFESSION FOR YOUNG MEN is the subject of a special article on forestry and the needs of experts to engage in it. Ardent Populist Denounces Alleged Merger of Parties in Nebraska Politics.

DECLARES PARTY IS BRYAN CRAZY

Former Member of State Legislature Gives Brynnism the Cold Shoulder and Asserts Real Status of Fusion Party.

CALLAWAY, Neb., Aug. 29 .- (Special.)-An ardent father of populism in Nebraska, E. M. Webb, former editor of the Custer County Independent during the great populist landslide in Nebraska, denounces the tusionism of today as a chespened and degraded quality of what was once his ideal of government. Mr. Webb says:

Editor Queen: Last week I was assailed by all the animals in the fusion menagerie. Permit me to offer a few reasons for the faith within me. The chief accuses me of the crime of being elected to the state legislature by virtue of populist votes. plead guilty. I was elected as a populist, by populists and without democratic aid, on a platform indorsed by such patriots as Thomas E. Watson, Ignatius Donnelly and Colonel S. F. Norton-men who never steeped their souls in fusion fith. I owe populists much. But I owe nothing to that brand of democrats, calling themselves populists, who are led by W. J. Bryan, W. H. Thompson and M. C. Herrington. They are a different set, and populism is stranger at their doors.

If fusionists can vote the democratic ticket for six years to kill populism and still be populists, why cannot anti-fusionists vote the republican ticket one year and still be populists? Will some fusionist please answer?

The cry of democrats for half a century has been the tariff. In 1896 they dropped the tariff question and made the campaign on bimetallism, income tax and against government by injunction. In 1900 they dropped bimetallism and the income tax, and went into the campaign on their newfound issue of "imperialism." Now that their cry of "imperialism" has proven to be a fake, they have raised a roar about trusts and the Fowler bill, to furnish their party organs with a subject to talk about, while their "peerless leader" goes chasing up and down the country trying to unearth some new fake issue for the next campaign.

In 1892 populists were populists and remained populists until 1896, when the fusionists, led by emissaries of the democratic party, went crasy over Bryan and helped the democrats knife Watson. 1900 the fusionists slapped populism in the face, nominated a democrat for president and a republican for vice president, boasted of their "patriotism" in going outside of the party to find candidates and then finally followed Bryan and Stevenson to the political boneyard. This year they hauled down the populist flag in Nebraska and nominated a life-long democrat for governor. They lied to the populists of Custer county when they pledged themselves against any further fusion in county, state or nation, and, what is more, they intended to lie. Then they numinated a mossback democrat to head the county ticket as an evidence to democrats throughout the state that the birthplace of populism in Nebraska had gone democratic—as a final proof of complete and unconditional surrender. Mr. Editor, I have heard this cry against trusts since my early boyhood. It was from morning till night but Peruna. I was originally raised as a defense for demo-eratic free trade fallacies. If there had have a bright, clear color now and I am been any sincerity in this cry, why did not the democrats regulate the when they were in power and had the chance? Mr. Bryan proposes to license the trusts-license what he terme legalized robbery-but that won't hurt the trusts. The only trust (?) I ever heard of the democrats trying to crush is the little 2x4 starch factory established by J. Sterling Morton at Nebraska City. This Mr. Bryan tried to crush because he loved Mr. Mor trusts in public ownership, but they have killed their party and the national democracy will never indorse this demand. I know not how others may feel, and it is none of my business, but I, for one, am sick and tired of this cheap demagoguery and deception-of politician-made issues-of this continual change of front-of this gradual drifting back to the old democratic bugbears of free whisky and free trade-issues which are long since dead and covered with the moss of a dim and distant past. God intended that men should go forward, not backward-that nations and peoples should progress morally, intellectually and commercially. Not that section should be arrayed against section, and class against class, with the democratic party against the world, incapable of self-progress and blocking the way against the progress of others. I will not follow such a party nor support its candidates. I shall support the republican ticket in this campaign, not because I have changed my political views, but to clear the track of the political rubbish that has made the word "reform" a laughing stock in Nebrasks for the last six years. If the fusionists wish to throw stones at me let them do so. They will soon be eating shucks with the swine in a foreign land. E. M. WEBB, Populist.

Populists Kill Their Party. The populists had the true remedy for
